just begun
i am...
becoming

Blossoming: the grand gesture of lS simply
am I Alive (anything wagered here is a note sung without promise of echo); the direction is toward nothing (but the Gestures are essential).
... maybe it is just the time of year
Or maybe it's the time of man
I don't know who I am
But life is for learning
A man said to the universe:

"Sir, I exist!"

"However," replied the universe,

"The fact has not created in me A sense of obligation."
a butterfly spreading its wings for the first time, a baby being born, a first love; these are all examples of a beginning, life, a new phase of experience. each represents emergence into the world.

a student emerges in a myriad of ways. the suppleness of body and mind begin to clothe themselves in definition: definition brings growth and direction (always upward). the idea, the action, the newer forms . . . molding materials, new realizations, developing ways to reach and achieve with the body—all a victory of sort. the mystery of growth whose starting point is the first emergence.

a person beginning . . . emerging . . .
at east, the eidolon staff of 1971 has attempted to portray emergence: boldness, newness, life.
we've only just begun to live white lace and promises a kiss for luck and we're on our way.
before the rising sun we fly so many roads to choose we start out walking and learn to run.
and yes we've just begun sharing horizons that are new to us watching the signs along the way talking it over just the two of us working together day to day together.
and when the evening comes we smile so much of life ahead we'll find a place where there's room to grow and yes we've just begun to live
His soul had arisen from the grave of boyhood, spurning her graveclothes. Yes! Yes! Yes! He would create proudly out of the freedom and power of his soul. . . .
To live, to err, to fall, to triumph, to recreate life out of life.
school is not emergence ... it is an opportunity to emerge Teacher (a profession in which there is a beautiful balance of give and take, to participate in others' growth: to grow by giving and by sharing in the discoveries, the joys, the trials, the gladness of Youth. I would become old and stale (dead) were it not for the freshness of Youth and the fantastic interchange we call learning:) Teaching.
to be your own . . . not a mirror to be one of a billion others . . . but different a choice which is yours . . . but will be influenced decisions that can be answered . . . by one mind coming out and being aware
to be your own . . . not a mirror
by depicting a collection of meaningful images, eidolon seeks to represent the graduating class. Eidolon is images, images which reflect moods, thoughts, and ideals characterizing the people who experience them. The book wishes to record and give meaning to these shapes, to communicate and explain them. With this publication the life of eidolon continues; into this volume of images we, the staff of 1971, inject ourselves. To the succeeding classes of East we consign the opportunity and responsibility to portray themselves and their ideas through the flexible meaning of eidolon.

and student.
a two-way street,
on an individual level,
where each must yield to the other.
both unconsciously providing opportunities for growth and respect.
the student presents a challenge.
in conquering this,
the teacher emerges,
changing
little by little with each class.
it may not be apparent,
but the teacher
acknowledges the existence of other outlooks
and inevitably acquires
a deeper pertinent knowledge.
reciprocally,
the student
becomes more an individual through the involvement and communication with the teacher.
a single minute revelation can ignite
an unfolding sense of accomplishment between two entities.

team. i have a duty to help carry them through.
a total commitment made before and during.
hours of practice, determination, perfection, narrows to a crisp saturday contest.
the shrill whistle of the referee starts the game:
excitement and pressure begin to mount, a missed block, a dropped punt, a bad pass can lose the game.
everything falls into place:
a concert of tackles growing on 3rd and 1, commands of a quarterback with two minutes left—the thud of a punt, percussion of crashing helmets.
performing constantly, striving for victory.
victory, and the many hours of sweat and drills are rewarded.

soccer: a spectator's scenario lightning quick pace; an intricate pattern among eleven men. playing together with flawless performance. the game begins:
action and then reaction a graceful clear by a high-kicking fullback, the whoosh of a shot as it pierces the goal. the goalkeepers crowd-pleasing, game-saving stop. an instant can decide the fate of the play. he who controls the instant commands the game.
i must decide between options: to dribble or to shoot. my shot flies over the goal amplifying my frustration and inadequacy. it's not whether you win or lose ... (but we've just got to win) ... with quick agile movements the ball is again ours—coordinated steps and a skillful shot ... we score!
Hockey

Physical exhaustion converted by the crisp autumn day into a tingling exhilaration. Face flushed, heart pounding, breath coming with difficulty. Solid whacks mingle with the enthusiastic rally of my team. A quick sprint for control of a free ball. Possession yields momentary satisfaction. Successful execution of skills—now ingrained after tedious practice. Willingness, techniques, strategy combine to result in the rewarding accomplishment... goal.

pushing myself onward, sharp pains throbbing in my side. I shudder inwardly looking at the size of that hill.
i force myself onward fighting the desire to abandon the race and relieve the agony.
i run the course, not really seeing what I pass.
my mind is blank. I only feel my lungs burning from inhaling the cold air. I strive to finish ahead of the rest, knowing that victory will ease the pain.

i, the individual, working in stride with the team to perform; readying myself for that short burst of energy that really counts; tired muscles, bloodshot eyes from hours of practice . . .
being able to push myself to reach the established goal.
shaking down to loosen the tight muscles caused by anticipation and anxiety; trying to ease that knotted stomach.
i mount the blocks, trying to stay loose; arms back, body tensed, ready to exert energy . . . go . . . i fly out over the water and begin my stroke—churning up the water and pushing toward the finish.
the turns—until i have reached the last lap. a tired sensation develops from the strain.

the tension of tennis:
the stretching serve and the quickly-formulated return.
the force and exertion; the split-second choices of strategies—i seek to release this tension through my skill, and release it finally in victory.*

a metamorphosis from the mundane school atmosphere to an exquisiteness never before experienced. I tingle in anticipation. The long-awaited evening has finally arrived: expectations of grandeur; a taste of sophistication; a myriad of memories. The changing from a school girl to a young lady in flowing dress with radiant hair. Her escort, a boy who has transformed jeans to tuxedo. The wonder of events and actions in an aura of excitement.

freshmen are the butt of the joke we call high school.
"did you hear what she said that he said that she said that they did?"
a resounding clang and wild yells are heard as a very young man misses the stairway door and collides into a locker.
"teacher, what's today's date? should i put my name on the paper? which side?" embarrassment at having the teacher catch you passing a note—oh no, he's reading it aloud—die, die! giggles and awkwardness anticipating next year when they'll be above all of this.
boys and girls sit on opposite sides of the room, separated by shy stares and an ocean of silence. why is that?

ahhhhh . . . out of the freshman rat race—i know the whole school. i know how to take the 4:15 bus home. i know how to get a late pass. i know what an assembly is. i know which one is dotti and which one is clowar. pretzels up to 20¢ apiece this week.

walking into biology from gym, and if gym didn't upset your lunch, the pig on the table will.

the elegance of morp!
shades of reality begin to appear; the laughter subsides as we face newer, more challenging horizons. an awareness and a sense of maturity have developed throughout the junior class.
the sophistication and enchantment of the junior prom acute anxiety the satisfaction of attaining a driver's license intensity—n.m.s.q.t.'s and s.a.t.'s class rank—ugh!
class dues—double ugh!
the glory gained by locking class rings driver's ed? a beginning, at least . . .

recognition and appreciation for four years spent in distinction within the class of ’71.
second to none '71
senior, not a person—a duration, a feeling. The culmination of four years, yet the distinct door to a life for ourselves. Standing in that doorway, indecisive. Combined emotions—apprehension and expectation. Striving toward a goal amid paths of confusion.

We'll meet in the future—as individuals, yet as members of the class of '71. Memories as long lasting as our minds can recall; classmates and teachers, morp, candy sales, the picnic and prom, the year 1971.

1971—something special to us seniors. Our year. It hasn't been easy to come out on our own. This year: devoted to revising and expanding, together—'71 emerging.

“There is a time in every person’s education when he arrives at the conviction that envy is ignorance; that imitation is suicide, that he must take himself for better, for worse, as his portion.”

“The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood . . . if he fails, at least he fails daring greatly. so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who have tasted neither victory nor defeat.”

“But man is not made for defeat . . . man can be destroyed, but never defeated.”

"... may I graduate well and earn honors in life."

Congratulations to you and to each of your classmates for whom graduation day is a very special occasion.

We wish you success and happiness in the years ahead.

As you seek new goals and conquer the problems you will face perhaps you may benefit in sharing a motto which has helped guide us since 1873:

inveniemus viam aut faciemus ...

"we will find a way or make one"

there are morning flowers upon my lips which you pick gently: with my waking, to put in the day's many & glorious vases.
the day is dawning, people are alive!
look to this day, the very life of life.
in its brief course lie all the varieties and realities of your existence.
the bliss of growth, the glory of action,
the splendor of beauty.
for yesterday is already a dream,
and tomorrow is only a vision;
but today, well lived, makes every yesterday a dream of happiness,
and every tomorrow a vision of hope.
now may the warming love of friends surround you as you go down paths of light and laughter, where the happy memories grow.
