To The Class of 1981

As you leave Cherry Hill High School East, I hope that you will have fond memories of your high school years and be proud of what you have accomplished. Your many achievements and contributions will become a part of the tradition and development of Cherry Hill High School East.

Behind are some of the finest memories of your life—experiences that have contributed to your growth and maturity. To those of us who have known you and worked with you during these past four years, this growth and maturity is evident and we are happy and proud for having had the opportunity to share those experiences with you.

Ahead are decisions that will influence your life for years to come. The cycle begins again. Once more you will face new challenges and opportunities. It is my sincere hope that each and every one of you will be able to meet those challenges successfully.

On behalf of all your teachers, counselors, and administrators, I congratulate you upon your graduation from Cherry Hill High School East. May your future be happy, healthy, and prosperous, and may each of you achieve the fulfillment of all your hopes and dreams.

Sincerely,

Anthony R. Cost

Many times in our high school lives we have found ourselves at the mercy of the guidance counselors. These true professionals devote endless time, energy, and courtesy to all students seeking aid in course, college, and career choices. We all have enjoyed that occasional blue pass that has rescued us from a test for which we had not studied.
No matter what your occupation, you will invariably run across the “business world.” For these occasions, if you go into business with a knowledge of basic principles, you enter with a great advantage. The Business Department of East strives to teach fundamentals to be used in the future.
Biology brings to mind counting drosophila flies, dissecting fetal pigs and taking nature walks. Now we understand that living organisms and their vital processes have a great importance to life. For what is life without life?

The English Department has the seemingly unending task of teaching East's students grammar, vocabulary, composition writing, and literature. Throughout the four years we all have made infinite trips to the library and to the local book store for Cliff Notes.
Not only do students at East excel in our school's Fine Arts Department, but they have also received numerous commendations at county and state competitions. In the halls of East one can find future Picassos, Gloria Vanderbilts, and Julia Childs. The opportunities are limitless, and the results are phenomenal.

Bonjour ... Guten Tag ... Hola ... Shalom ... and even more can be learned in East's Foreign Language Department. Culture, including literature, music, and art, is also taught in your favorite language. Many students became multi-lingual as a result of their participation in foreign language study.
Industrial Arts

Stemming from Henry Barnard's "learning-by-doing" theory rises one of East's most patronized courses... Industrial Arts. Skills acquired in these programs provide a background for further educational and career opportunities. The key is experienced teachers supplying experience.

Performing Arts

The students and teachers of the Performing Arts Department are a truly talented group. The many awards and commendations are indicative of the talent involved in this department. Music, vocal, art, theatre, and dance are all options offered to the interested student.
Mathematics

Mathematics is a process wherein the mind is taught to be precise, logically clear, and exact. East's Math Department encourages the student to stay with a difficult problem until success is reached. This academic area is notorious for carbon copied homework, Mr. Pinzur's jokes, and memorized quadratic formulas.

A mass of the student body has at one period or another taken a course of physical science. Some have found the voluminous syllabus beyond their speed, while others have absorbed the material at a competent rate and even found the energy to continue into accelerated courses.
Physical Education, Health

Late in 1980, the Marines landed in East's gymnasium, taking over the muscles of hundreds of unsuspecting students. The Marines were looking for a few well trained bodies, and that's all that they found ... a few. Afterwards, we recuperated in such classes as yoga, jazz, LaCrosse, weight training, or golf.

The Social Studies Department provides perhaps the most varying types of courses to suit the individual's interests. From the study of the mind (Psychology), to the study of many mind's both familiar (American History) and foreign (Foreign Policy), are covered in the history courses at East.
Of all the essential tools sharpened in our years of High School, none shall be utilized more than our knowledge of the written word. This specifically designed program aids students in their comprehension of various written material as well as improving their reading skill.
A special thank you is extended to these "unsung heroes." Assisting the student body in many ways, ranging from policing the school grounds to aiding in speech development, is the Special Services Department of CHHSE's staff. Although many times these services may be held in the recessed corners of our mind, it is time to reflect on what school would be like without these services... just not East.

The Cherry Hill East football team had an excellent season this year. Our record was 8 wins, 1 tie and 1 loss. The team was stronger on the defensive side which helped us to have six shutouts. So far this is the best record in East's football history. All the games were played with the support and spirit of the captains (Larry Price and Mark Miller) and every member on the team. The team, managers, trainers and coaches deserve a lot of credit for their fantastic work this year. We wish you all good luck in the future. Thank you for a great season boys.

Soccer

The East Varsity Soccer team was in the top ten for most of the season. There were also many injuries during the season. Unfortunately an injury kept the captain, Dom Cilento, out for the whole season. The team kept the spirit of the game and ended with a good record.

Varsity Team: Patti Burns (Manager), Paula Singleton, Paula Gevasoni, Kate Lyons, Joan O'Brien, Sue Wetter, Barb Smith, Kathy Coyle, Andrea Notuto, Jackie Onofrio, Mindy Cotherman, Becky Dengler, Kate Cowan (Manager), Coach Dan Fleming.

This year's girls' basketball team had a great season of 14 wins and 9 losses. Barb Smith scored over 1000 points while playing for the Cougars - the goal of a high school player. Mindy Cotherman also did well by scoring 35 points in one game. The continuing improvement in the girls' overall team play, especially daring in the end of the season gives high hopes for the future.

During the 1980-81 basketball season, the Cougars, once again, played one of the most competitive schedules in South Jersey, facing the highly ranked teams of: Woodrow Wilson, Paul VI, Roman Catholic of Philadelphia, Atlantic City and the nationally recognized power of Camden High School. Senior members, Wade Hersperger, Mike Pelegrino, Adam Sherman, and George Ramming led the way through an exciting season that saw 8 games decided by 2 points or less. Some individual honors were achieved by Senior Captain Ramming. George became only the second East Hoopster to score over 1000 points in his career and was selected to the 1st team All-Stars for the conference, Group 4 and South Jersey. His 27.4 average of points per game was the second best in South Jersey.

It was another outstanding season for our wrestling Cougars. Coach Semar's varsity team, led by captains Greg Coolahan, Gary Epifano and Rich Tyrell, ended the winter campaign with a 17 win - 3 loss record. The team ranked #2 in Region 7, #4 in South Jersey and #12 in New Jersey. The Varsity won the South Jersey Conference Championship and the Minuteman Holiday Tournament. The team was assisted by coach Chuck Woolery.

Our J. V. team, coached by Don Kohlhaas, had a record of 16 and 2. Coach Lou Frank's freshmen were 8 and 5.

This year's Lacrosse team spent a fabulous week in England. They had a chance to see the elegant sites of London and observe some different customs. St. Maura Convent School was involved in the exchange. Our team won three of the four games with English schools. After every game tea was served. They learned that a joint is a piece of beef and sneakers are called plimp soles.

In Memory Of Lisa S. Kell

Lisa was a very special person, having something to offer others. Her personality was uplifting, as you could tell by the smile on her face and the sparkle in her eyes, and her making people laugh with her spirited sense of humor. Her love for nature and art was as strong as a beaming sunny day. The one thing we will always remember is the happiness Lisa spread to others which was as bright as the sun glistening on the ocean. Thank you, Lisa, for being such a friend.

-Susan E. Euler

Take care my friend . . .
I miss talking with you
And laughing with you
And sharing memories
That make being with you
So special.

Take care my friend . . .
Because there's something
All wrong with a day
When you're not here . . .
. . . something is missing . . .
And in spite of myself
I listen for your laugh
And watch for your face
In the crowd.

Take care my friend . . .
Because I can't help thinking at times
Just how lonely it is without you
And how nice it would be to have you here.

But most of all
Take care
Because you matter to me.

We have had an excellent time at East during our first year. Our main goal was to have a great time and get all the freshmen acquainted by having many successful class activities. We raised enough money selling pretzels to have a terrific time on our class trip to Ocean City! We also had a superb time at our roller skating party and volleyball night. During our sophomore year, we are planning to have more fundraisers and more class activities. In October, we had a victory over the sophomores in Spirit Week, and we were even more thrilled to come in second place in the homecoming float competition. All the freshmen who helped out at the PAL Christmas Party hold a special memory in their heart. During the entire year, we have enjoyed the freshman atmosphere.

As sophomore class officers, we have tried to bring more unity and spirit into the class of '83 and hope we have achieved this. Throughout the year, we have been trying to raise money for such things as the class trip and next year's prom by selling pretzels and sponsoring coffee houses. Besides planning activities, we have learned much about working together with other members of our class. Through both successes and failures we have learned a lot. Hopefully, the interest and enthusiasm will be kept alive throughout our years at East.

We have enjoyed serving our class and hope the class of '83 will turn out to be the best class ever at Cherry Hill East.

SAM SILVER-PRESIDENT

KEN DAVIS-VICE PRESIDENT

The junior class returned to school after a terrific summer of soaking up the sun. Everyone was looking forward to an exceptional year and showed their support by displaying their '82 baseball jerseys. With the end of September came Spirit Week and a tremendous level of participation. As pirates, we placed second in the competition and created an overall spirit of unity. At the homecoming parade, we could be found on the large pink shoe or in the concession stands, as throughout the successful season. It was a festive holiday season when our candy cane sale was a smashing success. The Junior Prom, which was set for Thursday, April 30, was held at Merion Caterers. Dancing to the theme of "Celebration", everyone had a fantastic time. We reflected on previous years at East and became incredibly excited about our upcoming senior year.

The Junior Prom - Celebration

Celebration

Celebrate good times, come on
It's a celebration.
Celebrate good times, come on
It's a celebration.
There's a party going on right here,
A celebration to last throughout the year.
So bring your good times and your laughter too,
Hey, we're gonna celebrate your party with you.
Come on now, Celebration
Let's all celebrate and have a good time
Celebration, we're gonna celebrate and have a good time.
It's time to come together,
It's up to you, what's your pleasure.
Everyone around the world, come on,
Ya-hoo it's a celebration.
Ya-hoo it's a celebration.

— Kool and the Gang
Seniors
As seniors we won the Spirit Week Competition, and we won the Homecoming Float Competition. These were important victories because they symbolized the unity and spirit of our class, but why discuss them? We must move on to new goals, new ideas, and new faces — we must dismiss East and look forward to something different. Wait — in our haste to graduate have we overlooked a thing or two, and a person or two? We have celebrated June, celebrated graduation, and celebrated April 15; why haven’t we celebrated each other?

Four years ago we plunged into high school, and, although we have swum with bold and vigorous strokes, we haven’t opened our eyes. We’ve passed tests, failed tests, eaten lunch, and cut gym, but we haven’t slowed down our reckless pace enough to appreciate the people who have made high school bearable ... enjoyable ... memorable — our friends. After all, what is \( a^2 + b^2 = c^2 \) compared to a smiling face at a party, or a two-hour phone conversation, or a variety of discussions over lunch? The pythagorean thereom will remain the same, but our friends will always bring new ideas, new perspectives, and new styles into our lives. It’s a shame that we can’t backtrack several months to enjoy a few fleeting moments that we overlooked in our rush to “get out.”

We finally realize that the memories we will have of our youth will be pictures in our mind’s eye of the people that have been important to us. Ralph Waldo Emerson once remarked that a friend is the “masterpiece of Nature;” if so, let’s be sure to walk away from East with a little bit of Nature at our sides.

Four years ago we began a new educational experience together. You were entering high school and I was the neophyte assistant principal for the Class of 1981. During that time your intellectual horizons, academic skills, and personal qualities have expanded. Similarly you have impacted on East, and in particular, on me. I shudder to think about some of my pre-Class of 1981 concepts and thoughts. You have helped me gain a greater degree of patience and a more practical sense of compassion. It has been a shared time of growth. Thank you for your many contributions to all of us.

I have observed your growth process with pride. Notwithstanding your academic, athletic, and extra-curricular achievements, it is the development of your human and personal qualities that have made the greatest impression. While obviously a collective group, you are composed of contributing individuals with concerns and feelings about other people. It is that dimension of your personalities that I most remember and respect.

Goodbye does not express my feelings upon your graduation, but the Hebrew word Shalom, meaning peace, hello, and goodbye seems to say it best. Shalom.

With fondest regards,

Barry D. Adler
Assistant Principal
Class of 1981
If it is true that we shape our own destinies, then Sharon Saline must be a very good sculptress. Not only is she an honors student and an active participant in extra-curricular activities, but Sharon is also New Jersey's Junior Miss. After beating tough competition here at East, she went on to rise about her competitors at the Camden County pageant. From there it was on to the state pageant, here at East, where much to her surprise, and our happiness, she won again. And as she competed in the national competition we wished Sharon Saline, East's own Junior Miss, all the luck in the world.

Most Likely to Succeed — Sharon Saline and John Rudolph. The picture speaks for itself.

Most Academic — Jodi Brown and Alan Kuo. They are branes.

Senior Superlatives

All American — Patti Owens and Jeff Weigel. The flag looks much better that way, guys.

Friendliest — Marianne Nigrelli and Mike Walsh. We love you, too.
More Senior Superlatives

Most Popular — Nancy Tyminsky and Pat Shields. Don’t drop her!

Most Athletic — Kate Lyons and Larry Price. Check out those muscles... on her.

Best Looking — Lisa Knaell and Tom Zanhiser. They think so, too.

Preppiest — Karen Peircey and Chip Sernyak. Too bad it is black and white, you can not see the pink and green.
Class Clowns — Sue Roth and Greg Santore. That’s Greg upside down.

Most Optimistic — Juli McGann and Larry Olson. They always knew the hostages would come home.

Best Dressed — Peggi Doyle and Tom Williams. This should be a picture of their labels.

Most Radical — Lynne Simmons and Mark Miller. Mark was too radical to be photographed for this element of the imperialistic exploitative press.

Class Flirts — Jackie Cebular and Jim Harvie. What would your mother say, Jackie?

The Senior Prom - The Best Of Times

Tonight's the night we'll make history,
Honey you and I,
'Cause I'll take any risk to tie back the hands of time
And stay with you tonight.

I know you feel these are the worst of time,
I do believe it's true.
When people lock their doors and hide in file,
Rumor has it it's the end of paradise.
But I know if the world just passed us by,
Baby I know — I wouldn't have the time, oh no.

The best of Times are when I'm alone with you,
Some rain, some shine will make this a world for two.

Our memories of yesterday will last a lifetime.
We'll take the best, forget the rest and some day we'll find:
These are the Best of Times,
These are the Best of Times.

Headlines read these are the worst of times,
I do believe it's true;
I feel so helpless like a boat against the tide
I wish the summer wind could bring back paradise.
But I know if the world turned upside down,
Baby I know — You'll always be 'round my side.

The Best of Times are when I'm alone with you,
Some rain, some shine will make this a world for two.

When I'm alone with you
Everything's alright
When I'm alone with you
You brighten up the night.

STYX
The history of the class of '81, like the class itself, has been marked by diversity. As we have ascended from grovelling and insecure freshmen to demanding and arrogant seniors, we have also grown to appreciate the differences in each other, and we realize now that these differences are what makes our class so special to all of us. Each of us is an individual, and the events of the past four years indicate the fun that we can have as a collection of unique talents and perceptions.

The class of '81 has been affectionately referred to by the administration as the class that doesn't listen. Always on the lookout for a good time, our class has utilized every assembly program in the last four years to socialize, yell, and cause havoc for Mr. Adler. What separates our class from any other run-of-the-mill rowdy class is that we're proud of our accomplishments in the auditorium. (Though Mr. Adler is sometimes tempted to deny our existence.) We're also proud of each other, and our pride grew from an understanding established freshman year that each person could contribute to the vitality of the class in his or her own special way. Our freshman band was the best in years, our freshman teams were often conference champs, and our freshman athletes played on many varsity squads. Some of our actors were inducted into the Thesbian Society their freshman year, and our class government was active with enthusiastic volunteers. Although we entered noisily into the halls of East, we also entered excitedly, and we made East our school of the future.

We refined and sophisticated our rowdiness during our sophomore year. Animal House and the subsequent toga rage swept through East, and the class of '81 discovered the fun mixture of good friends and light beer. As our class matured, the boys began to shave proudly the fuzz on their chins. Our performance in Spirit Week was thrilling only because the freshman class almost beat us, and we had to scramble to retain our decency! Our homecoming float depicted Warner Brothers cartoons, and various class members donned floppy ears and webbed feet, and paraded around as Bugs Bunny and Daffy Duck. The class built a substantial treasury, and we set all-time records for the sale of candy, pretzels, donuts, and a myriad of other junk foods. Though many of us felt "too young to hang with the big boys" and too old to tolerate freshmen, our sophomore year woke us up to the world of high school.

Our junior year really brought together the different elements of our class. Exhibiting uncanny unity and spirit, we battled the senior class for the Spirit Week title. The "Spirit of '81" hallway won first place, and our entire class rallied in an attempt to be the first junior class ever to win Spirit Week; but the seniors won in a red and white war that was fought to the very last event. We embarrassed the seniors, though, when we later won the Homecoming Float competition. A massive group of people built the Mardi Gras spectacle, and its colorful character was evident through the divergence of people hanging about, in, or on the float. Spirit Week and Homecoming were similar events in our junior year because they marked the unity of our class, and the enthusiasm we felt toward our school and each other.

After longing for it, and wishing for it, and dreaming about it, we arrived finally at our senior year. We considered ourselves kingspins, and we flashed our maturity around the hallways to show the underclassmen "who's boss." We deserved it! We had seen the seniors win Spirit Week for three years, and it was our turn to win. We won easily, too, as the entire class spilled some effort into a fun victory. We won Homecoming also, and the event was particularly comical because Mr. Adler looked so ridiculous in a black dress (complete with wig and bust) as Snow White's wicked witch.

To many of us, the end of the second marking period was an event in itself, and we anxiously waited for the infamous April 15th, and let our grades drop with the obvious sign of "senioritis." We spent the last few months of our senior year with the friendship that we had established through three years of continual contact and cooperation. As we go through the rest of our lives, through, let's remember to keep those contacts alive and fresh, for the friends of our high school are the friends of our life.
I want to say something to all of you
Who have become a part of the
Tapestry of my life.
The color and texture
Which you have brought into my being
Have become a song
And I want to sing it forever.

There is an energy in us
Which makes things happen
When the paths of other persons touch ours
And we have to be there
And let it happen.

When the time of our particular
Sunset comes
Our thing, our accomplishment
Won't really matter a great deal.

But the clarity and care
With which we have loved others
Will speak with vitality
Of the great gift of life
We have been for each other.

-Monks of the Weston Priory
Current Events 1980-1981

This school year was characterized by important political events and distinct social trends. The year began with the 1980 Presidential Campaign. Despite all the predictions for a close election Ronald Reagan blitzed Jimmy Carter and became our 40th chief executive. On Inauguration Day 1981 we saw the release of the American hostages from Iran. These 53 men and women who had been held as political pawns for 444 days were finally returned to an enthusiastic and supportive American public.

We witnessed the decline of disco and the rise of punk rock. The preppy look was in and Cherry Hill East students were seen wearing alligator shirts and docksiders through the school.

Cherry Hill sports fans witnessed a fantastic season. All the Philadelphia teams were winners. Leading the pack were the Phillies who won the World Series for the first time. They were followed by the Eagles who under the great leadership of coach Vermiel were Conference champions.

We enjoyed concerts at the Spectrum of which Springsteen, Styx, The Grateful Dead, and The Kinks were favorites among East students.

The school year of 1980-1981 was very eventful and we will always have fond memories of it.

Spirit Week
This year’s Spirit Week, held from September 22 to 26, was unusually enthusiastic. The excitement began with the hall decorating contest and the themes included a jungle excursion, a voyage on a pirate ship, a stroll down the boardwalk, and a trip to dreamland. The seniors’ wild display easily captured first place and set the trend for the remaining contests including Find-the-cougar, color day, and cake decorating. The week's competition reached its highest peak during the pep-rally when the Cougar Band, the fall athletes and the frisbee players were featured. Although the underclassmen fought until the very end, the senior class of 1981 triumphed.
Homecoming

The Senior Class Presents
Snow White and the 81 Dwarfs

This year, East's version of the homecoming celebration began with a vibrant parade on Cropwell Road. The theme of the floats centered around nursery rhymes. Entries included Snow White and the 81 dwarfs (the winner), the Old Woman in the Shoe, Sleeping Beauty and Fairytales. The senior class queens were Lisa Knaell, Marianne Nigrelli, Lee Marie Illagan and Patti Owens. The underclassmen chose Kara Bruge, Sherri Webber, and Patti Astorino for their queens. The procession ended at East with a roaring bonfire and the recognition of the fall athletes. The most memorable moment of the entire event, however, was the dedication of the Jonas C. Morris Stadium which preceded our victory over the Cherry Hill West football team.
Christmas Party

The East students who participated in the annual F.O.P. Christmas party on December 19 will never forget this special experience. Held in the elegant ballroom of the Hyatt Hotel, the party honored the mentally retarded citizens of South Jersy. The room was filled with many colorful decorations, such as banners that depicted the twelve days of Christmas. Everyone enjoyed visiting Santa Claus, eating the 100-foot hoagie, and listening to Christmas carols. Due to the dedicated East volunteers, the Cherry Hill Rotary Club, and the police department, the party was, once again, a huge success.
Even though this year's Valentine's Day activities differed from those of past years, the celebration was still a huge success. Carnations were delivered to the homerooms and the buyers distributed them to their special people during the day. Paper hearts bearing humorous messages decorated the windows in front of the auditorium and smaller hearts were cleverly hidden for the "Heart Hunt." Students also enjoyed the "Cupid Dart Game" and those skilled players won free pizzas for spelling CUPID. Certainly, all of these events made this Valentine's Day a memorable one.
The Gong Show!

Our lovable host — Greg Santore

Mike Sheerin and Pat Shields perform “Cats in the Cradle” while Steve Hoffman brings the song to life.

With the help of a super band, John Rudolph maintains his Presidential image.

Stage Crew’s idea for a new foreign policy: Bomb, bomb, bomb Iran!

The Senior Class Gong Show was held on February 28th in Cafeteria I. Fifteen acts performed for a capacity crowd and the show proved to be this year’s biggest fundraiser. Greg Santore, the host, kept the audience laughing between rock bands, comedy acts, punk musicians, and singers. After two hours of roaring fun, judges Mr. Burr, Mr. Grubb, Mr. Simon, and Mr. Kovnat chose Danielle Gilson, who performed “Chicken Soup with Rice,” as the evening’s winner.

The Pillow People go punk!
The Boffkateers keep away from Run-around Sue.

Mr. Lyons thanks Heaven for his freshman girls.

The judges rebel: Mr. Simon, Mr. Grubb, Mrs. Burr, and Mr. Kovnat grab the gong.

The winner, Danielle Gibson, sings "Chicken Soup with Rice."
Each year, East’s music department showcases its talented students in a number of delightful concerts. These concerts feature not only the instrumental groups, which are conducted by Ronald Robinson, Roy Hough, Edward Moore, Marilyn Grisham, and Bridget Mitten, but also the various choirs, which are under the aspices of Barbara Solly and Martha Fletcher. These many concerts are an important and entertaining opportunity for the community to hear East’s gifted musicians and singers.
Orchesis, the school's elite dance troupe, is another group which performs during the year. Its two annual concerts are always well-received thanks to the creativity of its choreographer/director, Barbara Enders, and the exceptional abilities of the group's members.
Fall Show

“The Broadway musical is America’s most significant contribution to the world of theatre.”

On October 30 and 31 and November 1 and 2 the Performing Arts department took a gigantic step forward by presenting an original show, “Music! Broadway! America!”, written by director Robert D. Nation and choreographer Barbara Enders. The show was an extravagant revue that traced the history of musical theatre from 1920 to the present. It contained famous singing and dancing numbers which were introduced in the interspersed monologues of the narrator. This narrative figure was the core of the production because he represented George M. Cohan, the man who virtually founded the American musical. Needless to say, the show was a tremendous success.

“The 40’s: the decade of Rogers and Hammerstein.”
"The rock musical evolves from the sights and sounds of a counter-culture."

"The 70's: the decade of director-choreographers, revivals and innovations."

"Next time you're in Times Square, give our regards to Broadway!"
One of the unique qualities of "Music! Broadway! America!" was the Performing Arts Touring Company. All of the cast members composed the company in addition to musicians, technicians, and teachers. Although a touring company had been formed several years ago, this group was the first theatre organization to travel abroad. After weeks of rigorous rehearsals and tedious scheduling, the thespians finally boarded the 747 bound for London on November 7, 1980. Their ten day trip was definitely not a relaxing vacation. In addition to sightseeing, the group performed their show almost every day. Yet between those shows, everyone had a chance to experience the English way of life through their homestays and the friends they made.

"Hello, mum! I'm ringing you from Stratford!"

"So this is what they mean by the BIZ before the SHOW."

"You mean we came all the way to London to find out 'the bridge' is in Arizona?"
French Trip

For many people, a trip to France is a lifelong dream that never comes true. Yet this year, East's French department made this dream a reality for eighteen students. On October 31, 1980, this small American group departed for their two week stay abroad. Living with families who drew lots in order to receive the students, the American teenagers went to school in Salon de Provence, a small town near Marseille in the south of France. Their last four days were spent in Paris and now the students eagerly await the reunion with their French friends who will soon come to Cherry Hill. This French exchange will never be forgotten by all touched at Cherry Hill East.
Henry Higgins (Lee Brownstein) insists that he is just "an Ordinary Man."

Colonel Pickering (Mark Simonoff), Mrs. Pearce (Debbie Bradin), and the servants' chorus prepare Eliza for her debut as a lady in the "Ascot Gavotte."

Realizing that she needs and cares about Henry Higgins, Eliza Doolittle (Leslie Rittenhouse) returns to him in the show's final scene. (below)

The company takes a bow.

"My Fair Lady" marked a milestone not only in Broadway theatre but also in dramatic productions at Cherry Hill East. The longest running hit on Broadway (a record recently broken by "Grease") begins the second decade of Spring Musicals at East. "My Fair Lady" is a musical adaption of George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion": the story of a poor, English flower girl who is transformed into an elegant lady by a dedicated speech professor. This show was one of the most popular and one of the most expensive East productions. It featured elaborate sets and exquisite, rented costumes but it also played to nearly full houses each of its six performances. Clearly, "My Fair Lady" was a smash; each show received a standing ovation.

Henry Higgins (Scott Batt) asks "Why can't a woman be more like a man?"

Cast members help the Queen (Suzy Stauffer) dress for the Embassy Ball.

Eliza Doolittle (Debbie Petcove) leaves Henry Higgins after he ignores her triumph at the Ball.

Freddy Eynsford-Hill (Joe Zarge) sings to passers-by that he is happy just being on "the street where Eliza lives."

graduation!

FINALLY!
Graduation was held on June 10th at the Jonas C. Morris Stadium in Cherry Hill. The weather was somewhat cool, but the smiles of graduates and their parents alike were all warm and spirited. Speeches of congratulations and best wishes for the future were given by selected teachers and administrators.
