"Let early education be a sort of amusement; you will then be better able to find out the natural bent."
- Plato
In essence we learn
To recite and contrive.
Though for fun we yearn
And 'tween both, survive.
Our spirit, phantasm.
The chemistry works.
Enthusiasm
That none can usurp.
The fun and the games and Rubic's new mystery
Bring cheer and good will to the days, soon history.
Rods and Whites and cheese-loving rodents
Help calculate our futures from all this nonsense.
The structure of life,
As the grand Horse of Troy,
Built upon trifles,
All part of the play.

When primitive man first realized that the key to his survival was education, he set forth on a perilous journey to gather the learned elements of society into a structure called "school" with the sole purpose of maintaining the species through teaching others. Of these knowledgeable elements, there were few, but it was the beginning of the faculty concept.

Even today we outnumber them greatly, but the members of East's faculty still form the very foundation upon which our education is built. Their daily teachings and student interactions add color to the whole educational process. Kings and Queens, nouns and verbs, mathematical formulas, and foreign languages are but a few aspects of the enlightenment these fine fellows of wisdom impress upon our brains.

Sometimes the molding hurts; sometimes it evokes pure ecstasy. Yet it always, like the great wheel which we ride, forever continues on its path of wisdom, directing us to the broad horizons of the future.
To The Class of 1982

As you graduate from Cherry Hill High School East, another milestone in your life has been achieved. Just as four years ago you began a new phase in your life, once again you will enter a new and exciting time where dreams become realities and thoughts become actions.

To experience the passing of four years is to collect countless memories. Your class has left a legacy of success in the classroom, victory on the athletic fields, and active participation in all facets of school life. These achievements will be recorded as an important part of the history and tradition of Cherry Hill High School East.

And now, as you move on to new challenges and new opportunities, it is my hope that all of you experience success and personal fulfillment in the years ahead. I charge you to work toward creating a future that is better than the present. Use those talents you have developed not only for yourself, but for the benefit of others.

On behalf of the staff of Cherry Hill High School East, I offer congratulations and best wishes for continued success in the future.

Sincerely,

Anthony R. Cost
Principal
They plan our schedules, help us organize our lives, discipline us, listen to us, laugh and cry with us. They make sure that the building is running, that report cards are ready, that services are available. We fondly remember their informal warmth and marvel at their academic robes on Graduation Day. In special ways, they make these the best four years of our lives.
Guidance

They are our ombudsmen — our way of interfacing with faculty and administration and even parents. They help plan our schedules and our lives. They are always there to help us over the rough spots and to show us the way.

Science is the foundation of knowledge, the primary source, feeding the fire of progress and advancing technology and challenging man’s existence to find his place among the stars.
Biology, right down to its Greek roots, concerns itself with man and his life and interactions on this planet. Building on molecules of carbon and hydrogen to make the foundation of the life-house that surrounds us all marks the first small steps toward a thorough understanding of nature's great splendor. Working up through the amoeba and paramecium, through reptiles and amphibians, to man, with all his complexity and wonder comes next until everything is subject to the intense scrutiny of the microscope. Then comes the future, genetic engineering, changing the very "stuff" of life (Carl Saganism) with the delegation of a single DNA code. From master molecules to masterminds, who can deny biology the title of "the most appropriate science for mankind"?
Business Education

The study of business, economics, and secretarial skills allows you to experience one powerful aspect of the "real" world. The incessant tapping of typewriters, looming of letterheads, and stenography of secretaries make the business department indispensable to East's future Wall Street wizards. Unraveling the fiercely competitive nature of business, the Business Department makes a giant step towards independence, a delving into the world of corporate enterprise. From accounting to zip codes, in a country that demands speed and accuracy, business is the true work of the future.
The latest craze of exercise that has swept American homes with the mesmerizing, overpowering ability to turn ordinary, run-of-the-mill students into jovial jogging supermen (and women) has attacked East. Football, self-defense, handball, table tennis... what?! Yes, table tennis, have all brought about the Physical Fitness Revolution.

Agile teachers and hard working students now live in a dominion ruled by sweatpants and sneakers. As if some giant muscular hand commanded it, the Cougars move at a faster pace.

Moving "back to basics," a program that has settled over the country like a blanket of newly fallen snow, fresh and innovative, while eliminating many elective courses, has brought students who once wandered in the classroom back into contact with the language spoken by forty percent of the world's inhabitants. The results of the three year old "English lab" program are reaping success as students test their wings with pen and paper, creating original essays and "living" the language.
Fine Arts students contribute to our school and community through presentations and paint, publications and panoramas, planning and portfolios, planters and practicality, pastels and prints, photos and perseverance. In an often confusing environment, artists and designers bring clarity and beauty; they shape our world and touch our souls.

The awe-inspiring eclipse of the darkroom, the designs of light, and the reds, blues, and greens that cover the whole range of human emotions in vivid splendor, embrace our senses, delight our lives, and lay bare our minds to the inconceivable depths of true beauty. Their contributions to our lives is inestimable.
Industrial Vocations

With wood and metal, wankels and Mercedes, water and machines, wedges and mechanical pencils, the Industrial Arts Department provides the student with the facilities and knowledge to construct and repair, laying the groundwork for the engineers of the future who will provide the world with dreams to build on.

Then there's AV, with its army of wheeled soldiers fighting to break down the wall of ignorance that smothers men and to establish the ladder of knowledge, unlimited, all powerful.

East is like a river, a river of knowledge, and all of the students must try to swim through it. There are many tributaries that converge to form the river. These streams are the wide curriculum offered at East, all of which contribute to the flow of knowledge through which we all swim. A student's study habits and academic ability may be looked at as his adroitness at swimming. A good swimmer will move easily downstream, a bad swimmer will struggle with every stroke, and the non-swimmer will drown. Only the good swimmer can successfully maneuver his way through the curves and obstacles of the river in the ephemeral time given, but the reward is worth it - his triumphant arrival at the ocean we know as the world.
Where but East can one tour the world in eighty days while passing through stars with minds amazed? We emerge from our summer slumber and recommence the daily rituals of school, when, like a bomb, Spirit Week explodes upon us. It jars our brains and invigorates our spirits in preparation for the strenuous activities that await us. Almost immediately, all four opponents, like bees buzzing about their hive, busily lay the foundations for their themes. Masses of paper, scissors, and glue merge into fully decorated halls, while props such as balloons, space ships, and hot rods find their places in the novel atmosphere leading into the frenetic Cougar Search. Soon, the delectable aroma of freshly baked cakes garnished in red and white, fill the air with a fragrance that keeps many a curious onlooker lingering in A-wing, each with his own excited taste buds. Later, the pennies, quarters, and dollars clank with metallic splendor in support of the King and Queen, that lucky couple leading their class to victory and opulence. Culminating in the gallant Pep Rally, meeting the fall sports teams and cheering them on while watching those neo-imagist "air guitarists" strum in a delightful pantomime. Spirit Week departs, giving way to "Spirit Year" in the Cougar's lair.

The players are lined up. The quarterback mumbles something to a fullback. "Fifty two, twenty-eight, thirty-seven, HIKE!!" The game has begun, but wait a minute! The boys are on the sidelines... cheering?! Who's playing the game? Girls?! Yes, girls!! Watch out NFL, football may never be the same after the Junior and Senior girls battled it out on the football field. Complete with popcorn, male cheerleaders, and the works, East revolutionized the game that MADE Monday nights. But who's to say that war can't be fun? The players, cheerleaders, and spectators loved every second of it.

The gang is back in town
The 1981 Homecoming was surely a great experience for this year's seniors. The first annual Punk Dance was an introduction with colorful costumes and a fantastic dance contest. The activities began with the election of the Homecoming queens and their escorts. Then, that final day came, the East - West game and Homecoming Parade. The Cherry Hill East Marching Cougars performed a spectacular pre-game show, followed by the faithful red-and-whites. At first, a winner was unclear, but by half time the minds of the fans were becoming more and more certain, even though the score was still zero to zero. The high-pitched action was interrupted by the gala Homecoming Parade. The queens and escorts were carried around the track in a procession of sleek sports cars, trailed by some of the most spectacular floats East has ever seen. Then, late in the game, East pulled ahead of the faling West team, and the real winning Cougars finally came through. Surely this was one of the most action packed Homecomings in all of East History.

From the Director

Various improvements had a great deal to do with my selection of M*A*S*H. Very often our Fall Production will only cast fifteen to twenty students. This year, however, M*A*S*H casts over forty. Having forty students, many of whom are new to the theatre department, is very exciting. Everyone on the cast and crew will have a chance to work on and see equipment that many professional theatres use.

There is however, one other significant reason for doing M*A*S*H — that is the type of comedy it offers to us. A play like M*A*S*H touches us all, it's universal despite the Korean War setting. Every character in this play is special — unique in his own way. We can all relate to one or more of these people. On top of that, the play blends dramatic, tense moments with comedy. This combination is the key to the play's success as well as that of the T.V. series (which stays high in the ratings and is in its tenth year).

The cast, crew, and staff of this show have worked so hard and so well together that my sincere thanks don't seem enough. I've enjoyed this experience and I hope you have, too.

Sharing is a major theme running through the souls of the students at East. Whether it's donating blood for a blood drive, offering help to a lost freshman, or dropping a few coins into the class treasury to support the King and queen, Cougars always manage to come through with flying colors. But there's another contribution that requires no money, blood, or direction... that of love. Love for fellow citizens in need dominated the annual P.A.L. Christmas Party. The smiles and satisfaction that covered the faces of the children made all the hours of preparation worthwhile. Knowing that you made someone happy if only for an hour or a day or a week justifies the few missed assignments. Knowing that you relieved the pain and suffering of a fellow man gives a sense of security and goodness to all the participants. "Man never stands so high as when he stoops to help another."
The Cougar Choruses, led by Mrs. Barbara Solly and Mrs. Fletcher sing songs of different countries from classical to modern music. They enhance our school by participating in the spring musical and singing in the various school concerts throughout the year.

In general, the choruses raise their voices in song to express man's love, desires, and goals. They help us to see that music is a vital part of the world and that life is just a note on the stanzas of time.
On the eve of a concert, the audience would sit in quiet anticipation. Why? Call it reputation. Mrs. Barbara Solly directs the entire music staff to the summit of perfection. The winds, brass, strings, and keyboards have fared well under their conductors' swaying batons. Professional attitudes and sound have thrust East into the limelight of musical success.
Though it's quite natural to fear pain, East's highly diversified dancers cannot be cowed by the agony of de feet. These light-footed artists express a joy and melancholy that span the whole gamut of human emotion. With swan-like grace and laser-like precision, they add spectacle and wonder to all they encounter. From marches to ballads and jazz to taps, the dancing Cougars always manage to steal the show and dance their way into the heart and mind of the crowd. They are the spectators' delight.
Valentine's Day

Blazing forth with a special glow, East celebrated another happy Valentine's day. The red hearts sat high on the walls of A-wing and the multicolored carnations brought smiles to the cougars' bright faces. But what's a holiday without food? Appropriately, a Cupid dart game solved the problem with a pizza given to anyone who could spell CUPID (with darts, of course). So the marksmen took their aim, the carnations brightened the halls and the hidden hearts added a new twist to the frolic-filled holiday. A very appropriate holiday culminated in a very bright and colorful day in the Cougar's lair.
East On Parade

In a brilliant display of extra-curricular creativity, East paraded into the world beyond the classroom. With such projects as computer programming, musical entertainment, physical education, and foreign foods, the Cougars demonstrated the inherent drive toward recognition of talent. A Cougar without special talent is incomplete. Each contributes his share to the advancement of his school. Learning assumes many forms, all interesting and exciting. East on Parade was a method of expression, where East's special talents were shared with a caring public.
Senior Trip
Bandies Go To Europe

The 1981 members of American Music Abroad from Cherry Hill East are pictured here in front of the Eiffel Tower. Left to right: Robert Soslow, Andy Susskind, Terry Becker, Mike Lisicky, Larry Gennaro.

American Music Abroad is a select group of musicians from various parts of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia. After heavy practicing at Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pa., the 150 member group was off to explore Europe. Such stops of the tour were Brielle, Holland, Dinkelsbuhl, Germany; Salzburg and Innsbruck, Austria; Lucerne and Basel Switzerland; Strasbourg and finally . . . Paris, France. These musicians performed in such places as Notre Dame Cathedral, Chartres Cathedral, Mozartum, and under the Eiffel Tower. Even though the tour contained some unexpected ‘surprises,’ a great, memorable time was had by everyone.
"The Wizard will help us! I'm positive he will!"

This year's spring musical, THE WIZARD OF OZ, was the biggest production ever to be performed at East. The cast numbered over 130 and included elementary students for Munchkinland. Over 45 special effects helped to make this fantasy come to life. Under the dedicated and skilled direction of Robert Nation, the cast was able to perform wonders in a short time. The excellent choreography of Barbara Hall proved to be a challenge to even the best of dancers, but the end result was worth all of the hard work. Complimenting this, Marilyn Grisham expertly directed the vocal portions of the show.

This year's pit orchestra was one of the finest ever. Conducted by Bruce Yurko, their professional sounds set the perfect mood for each scene. The hard working crews, under direction of Thomas Weaver (scene and lighting design) and Peggy Beck (costumes), were also of superior quality. Given the shortened period of time, they still managed to construct the realistic and aesthetically pleasing sets that framed the exciting performances.

"The Munchkins are laughing because I am a witch. I'm Glinda, the good Witch of the North."
Though a bit ghastly to some, bringing back memories of some old horror picture, the Annual Cougar Blood Drive was a roaring success. Almost meeting the goal of 200 pints, with a total of 175 donors, the Cougars will have aided those most in need of the life sustaining fluid. A sweet sense of giving filled the air, even the library's annex was open to donors, who enjoyed donuts and orange drink after making their contribution. Of course there was a bit of pain involved (just a pinch), and several sickly-looking souls who disliked the red bags, but it was all a part of the great cause. When the American Red Cross truck finally rolled off with its precious cargo, the Cougars knew they had done their share.
Warm Saddles, the 1982 feature film by East Film Productions, was conceived and developed through the film classes under the supervision of Mr. William Kovnat and Mrs. Barbara Hopp.

The original script is a spoof on the great American western films of the 1940's, using the cliches that accented this classic age of cinema.

The art of the western film was unique in its time, and the presentation of this craft of cinematography has carefully been interpreted by East Film Productions with choice illustrations that define the style and flavor of Filmdom's Golden Era.
The World Outside East

Gubernatorial Race

In November of 1981, New Jersey had a new governor-elect, Republican Thomas Kean. In a hotly contested election, Kean emerged victorious with one of the smallest margins in the history of the state. Impounding and chaos followed the poll closing, as each side claimed victory. Florio ordered an immediate recount of the votes, but later conceded the election to Kean. As the new governor took office in January, the former one, Governor Brendan Byrne, stepped down. As for the national scene, Kean promised to follow suit in some of President Reagan’s policies, but he carefully noted that he would not endorse all of them. The voting front revealed a grand turnout of 2.28 million voters, proving that each vote in a democracy maintains the power of the people.

Jupiter Effect

1982 was just the beginning for the seniors, but some of them thought it would be the end. During the week of March 10, all the planets in the solar system were to be arrayed within a ninety degree angle from the sun. Some said the resulting gravitational (or "Jupiter") effect would unleash fierce solar winds on the Earth resulting in a chain of tidal waves and earthquakes shattering the globe. But, when the fateful day arrived, there were no tremors or walls of water ... another Doomsday passed.

Most Eligible Bachelor Marries

St. Paul’s Cathedral in London was the site of the most glorious event in British history. Prince Charles was married to Lady Diana Spencer on July 29, 1981 in the wedding of the century. This wedding was televised internationally as about 750 million people celebrated the happy occasion with the Royal family. This extravaganza is also estimated to have cost one million dollars.

After the elaborate ceremony, the bride and groom set off on a two week honeymoon cruise in the Mediterranean.

Subsequently, the happy couple announced Princess Diana’s pregnancy and the royal baby was expected to arrive some time in late spring.

Notable Deaths

Egyptian Turmoil

The death of a great man brings sorrow to the hearts of the world. Anwar Sadat, long-time President and peace-maker of Egypt was tragically murdered on Wednesday, October 7, 1981 by a small group of crazed military men. Sadat was celebrating the anniversary of the Egyptian victory over Israel during the Yom Kippur War. Although a former foe of Israel, Sadat realized that enough was enough and attempted to secure a lasting peace between the two ancient enemies. As the parades marched on, the deranged soldiers infiltrated the President’s security and assassinated him with their guns and grenades. The wounded were quickly transported to a nearby hospital for treatment. Among those injured was Sadat’s hand-picked successor, President Mubarak.

First Female Justice

After Potter Stewart’s decision to retire as a Supreme Court Justice, President Ronald Reagan lived up to his campaign pledge by appointing Sandra Day O’Connor to the high court. She replaced Stewart and became the first woman justice. This nomination had set aside the old tradition of only men serving on the highest court of the land.

Judge O’Connor was graduated from Stanford University ranking in the top ten percent of her class. Because she is a conservative Republican, but had supported both abortion and the Equal Rights Amendment in the past, there was a controversy over her nomination. The appointment was finally approved by the Senate. Serving as a Supreme Court Justice, she is described as “meticulous and conscientious,” and is expected to perpetuate the conservative spirit that presently exists in the Court.

All-American Strike

One of the major events in the sports world in 1981 was the baseball strike. Lasting from June to August, the strike caused a split season and some frazzled negotiations by Commissioner of Baseball Bowie Kuhn. The players were fighting for a salary hike and for the abolishment of arbitration contracts. By the end of a long summer (during which the players were forbidden to use any sports areas associated with their organizations), they settled for a compromise. In spite of the fact that there were fewer games, they played well into October, when the Dodgers finally got revenge on the Yankees in the World Series.

Although Eidolon, as any other high school yearbook of high caliber, is geared toward the graduating class and its memories of the "High School Experience," seventy-five percent of the student body consists of underclassmen, the backbone of the school structure.

In strict accordance with Darwin, these hearty "whelps" enter East bewildered, with crumpled map in hand and perplexing schedules in mind. The year passes slowly, each day exposing the infinite facets of Cougar County. Then, the lazy summer arrives, and it's time to say good-bye to the friends, teachers, foreign tongues, and hectic days for a two month reprieve.

Fall arrives, and the ritual begins once again, but things have changed. The Freshman eyes have sobered and matured, and the generation of Sophomores, that "intermediate" breed so necessary to the continuance of school life, evolves. Later, the childish whims and teenage novelty give way for the driving, college-seeking Junior class, the last stage before entering the realm of Seniorship, when each member can glance back with awe and amusement at his underclass life long passed.

In retrospect, this year was a learning experience for both the students and myself. We were in so many words all Freshmen! However, through the cooperation of the Freshmen class officers and the hard work of many dedicated students and their parents, we took a major step toward our goal of making the class of '85 one of the most outstanding groups in East's history.

In looking toward the next three years, we still have many objectives to achieve to attain our goal. For my almost sophomores, keep in mind a phrase that has remained with me over the years, "Success is not attained by the heights you reach, but by the obstacles you overcome."

Proving that there are exceptions to every proverb and adage, the members of the class of '84 totally shattered the "SOPHOMORE SLUMP" myth. Starting the year with a grade level splash party at the Barclay Pool, the Sophs were in fine shape when Spirit Week arrived. The theme of the 1950's-"Happy Days," returned East to the days of bobby sox, letter sweaters, pony tails and loafers. The crowning moment of the week was unquestionably the rising of the soda shoppe. Although we were surprised at our first place victory in Spirit Week, we were proud to have achieved a level of participation which continued throughout the year. Looking into the future, with two of our best years of high school awaiting us, we are unified and ready, driven by a spirit that should carry us to notoriety as juniors and seniors!

The Class of '83 has begun to establish its leadership within the school. Its members actively support and participate in athletics, dramatic and musical productions, and school publications. Several class members have helped raise money for the class in campaigns during the past two years, and the concession stands at athletic events have been ably handled by the Juniors. Some of these funds will be used to enhance this year's Junior Prom.

In the two years that I have had the pleasure of working with this class, I have seen tremendous growth in both individuals and the class as a group. As this growth continues, I believe that the Class of '83 can look forward to a rich and rewarding senior year.

In the mainstream of "East-life", we find the all powerful, totem pole topping seniors whose super-student feats support the school, adding to the foundation of wisdom on which the building rests. They entered as Freshmen, the Class of '82, an almost magical digit far in the horizon and virtually unattainable. But the years passed and the class strengthened, each of the 800 elements striving, reaching toward a number, a brass ring on a merry-go-round. Suddenly, the year arrives, bringing with it a new president, some old hopes and dreams, and 800 well-rounded adults with brass rings. Soon they will pass through those glass doors for the last time, leaving their legacy of inspiration, hope, and Defender and Centipede arcade games along with many, many quarters. Their four years of youth have expired like those of the caterpillar encysting itself in a cocoon to emerge later as a fully grown butterfly and testing its wings in the world of high life, amused at the success of its change and endeavors, while looking back through the yearbook and remarking on lives long passed.
Class Officers: Teri Whalen, Secretary; Sam Silver, President; Danielle Gilson, Treasurer; Carla Metzman, Vice-President. Standing: Mr. Terranova, Assistant Vice-Principal of the class of 1982; Mr. Belchikoff, class advisor.

Remember about four years ago when we were little frosh, all wondering when we’d finally be out of here? Well, now we are preparing to leave and enter the real world. Hopefully the years that we’ve spent here will be fondly remembered.

Remember ....

the freshman Spirit Week hall that beat the sophomores.
the undefeated freshman football team.
the class trip to Ocean City.
that summer finally becoming sophomores.
the angels and devils of spirit week.
the teacup for homecoming (and the truck that ran over it!)
our Junior year, almost beating the Seniors in Spirit Week.
the woman who lived in the shoe as a float.
concession stands at the football games, selling hot (cold) dogs, candy and bees.
“Celebrating” the fantastic Junior Prom.
taking SAT’s for the first time.
finally becoming Seniors.
waiting for your letter of acceptance.
the fun we had at the Hyatt Riot (Senior Prom!)
how sad we were at graduation.

Now we’ll all go our separate ways and look back on these years past.

Cheers - Sam, Carla, Teri, Danielle

P.S. Extra special thanks to the two men that have helped us through it all

Mr. "B"elchikoff and Mr. "T"erranova.
A Note From Mr. T.

To The Class of 1982

Each September since 1978 I have welcomed you to the beginning of another school year for another chapter in your adolescent life. This time my letter carries a very different and somewhat difficult message because I realize we have completed our last year together. I have come to know and to care for each of you in a very special way during our four year association at East. We have shared many experiences. We have laughed together and cried together, but most of all we have grown together. You have made a permanent impression on me and I hope I have helped you make your high school years a very pleasant and rewarding experience. I have sincerely enjoyed being your principal and your friend, and I will miss you.

While your time at East has come to an end, the work you have done and the energy you spent have prepared you well for the future. You have excelled in the classroom, on the playing field, on the stage and in the community in 760 different and unique ways. Above all, you have made commitments in friendship that will help you handle the trials and survive the successes of adult life. Through it all, please remember that I am always available to you if you need me and I look forward to seeing and hearing from you often in years to come. Time and distance mean nothing between friends.

As you begin the exciting and challenging journey into adulthood, please take with you my very best wishes as expressed in the following blessing from Numbers 6:24-26.

The Lord bless you and keep you,
The Lord lift His countenance upon you;And give you peace,
The Lord make His face to shine upon you;And be gracious unto you.

A Note From Mr. B

In years to come, when I pick up this aged and dusty yearbook, and as I leaf through, I’ll nostalgically think of the past four years which have been so important to me. I’ll remember how we all entered East at the same time, and as freshmen, things were bewildering. In all my years being involved in student activities I had never been a class advisor, so I looked forward to this new experience.

The past four years have proven to be everything I ever thought they would be. I have enjoyed working with and getting to know so many of you in many different ways. As you enter another door of life, to many of you it is a major step to securing your goals but no means the last door you’ll have to face. Thank you for becoming such an important part of my life and may each and every one of you reach for and achieve whatever goal you may set for yourselves. There are so many things I’ll remember, as the years upon years go past. But most of all, as your advisor, I’ll remember with pride the wonderful kids in the Class of ’82.

Well, here they are, the elite of Cougar Country and one of the many prides of the school. These warriors of the books have worked hard at their rigorous schedules to achieve their high academic standings. As members of the top one percent of their class, these bright Cougars uphold the torch of education in the never ending quest for knowledge and understanding.

Believe it or not, you are now looking at the 105th Congress of the United States. With their unparalleled political skill and patriotic acumen, these fine Americans uphold that “Star-Spangled Banner” in the name of “truth and justice for all.” Of course a little practice never hurt, so, under the sponsorship of the American Legion, our politicians gather at Rider College for one week after the school year to exercise their talents, and, like true politicians, to get on each other’s backs.

Nothing Ever Goes As Planned

Well Seniors…we seemed to have started out in a rut, not a shallow one, mind you, but a deep muddy one, sort of like one made by an old covered wagon on a road of quicksand. First, the sophomores and Spirit week. Yeah, we know they’re spirited brats, but we’re Seniors! Then we thought we could make amends by challenging the juniors to a Powder Puff Football game. Yeah, we know they’re a little slow, but we’re Seniors! Then, our barbeque! Too bad wet coals don’t burn well. ’Twas a pity, though, all those raw hamburgers. All of a sudden, when blackness seemed abysmal, we pulled yourselves out. We’d have thought it impossible, but there’s something about the senior’s body chemistry. Maybe it was adrenaline, but whatever it was, it worked. The class trip was a roaring success, achieving distances beyond any achieved before. Finally, the blood drive, Valentine’s Day and the Senior Prom helped give the year a sense of success.

Sinking In Spirit Week . . .

"Wait - I thought that seniors were supposed to win!"

Too bad the juniors really did do it better!

'Tcause nothing ever goes as planned

It’s a helluva notion

Even Pharoahs turn to sand

Like a drop in the ocean

You’re so together and you act so civilized

But every time that things go wrong, you’re still surprised

You’ve done your duty and paid a fortune in dues

Still got those Mother Nature’s Blues

-STYX

But As Always,
The Class Of ‘82
Comes Through!

We conquered the blues and came up with THE WINNING FLOAT!

A Chance To Win?

Too bad it rained . . .
The Class of 1982, supposedly of sound mind and sound body does hereby bequeath the following.
To the Guidance Department: A year without schedule changes or corrections
To the History Department: A text other than Bailey
To Mr. Simon: A "Michelle" mug so "Michael" won't be lonely
To Dr. Dwyer: A button-down shirt in every color to replace his turtlenecks
To Mr. Woods: A nighttime and a hot tub in the mountains in Vermont
To Mr. O'Breza: A dead hippo and a class that's like, impressed, radically speaking, as it were.
To Mr. Carr: Someone to watch his kids
To Mrs. Rubinstein: Proofs that don't need corrections
To Mr. Shaw: A record library of Tom Petty
To Mrs. Hayes: A Roman civilization
To Dr. Rollins and her future classes: Ten free bleating lessons
To Mr. Griffenberg: The world of relaxation
To Miss Schooley: A year's supply of free donuts
To Mr. Kovnat: An invitation to the Cannes Film Festival
To Mrs. Bieberbach: People who keep the wet-side wet and the dry-side dry
To Mrs. Hopp: A clean yearbook room
To Mr. Nation: 104 kids that will stay quiet at the same time
To Mr. Druce: A class of Dorcas Yao's
To Mr. Pinzur: A book of "good" jokes
To Mr. Berryann: A new set of vectors
To Mr. Thompson: Microscopic rugby shirts for the drosophilas
To Mr. Wilsee: All the accumulated bugs and butterflies from the track team
To Mr. Krantz: One crate of Mexican crabs
To Mr. Kim: A barrel of peanuts and a box of moles
To Mr. Cost: A trip to Florida without 150 seniors
To Mr. Branim: A perpetual calendar
To Mr. Lyons: A short sabbatical so that you're back where you belong
To Mr. Gallagher: Good luck with the NEW Senior class
To Mr. Lacovara: 698 answers to the question "Why?"
To Mr. Terranova: A year's supply of cookies to refill your cannister
To Mr. Belchikoff: An interior decorator to replace Ken Davis
To the Juniors: A class trip to Florida
The soccer team leaves John Henry to the 1982-83 team
Barbara and Leslie would like to leave the yearbook to whomever will take it.
For the hours they spend deliberating on our behalf monitoring our education agonizing over the budget
exulting in our successes

We dedicate this edition of our yearbook to

The Members of the Board of Education
Aside from the daily academic rituals of wisdom's abode, Cougars partake in a myriad of activities ranging from creative writing to modern dance. The English language, full of picturesque phrases and expressions, has an interesting word for this, namely supererogation. Working above and beyond the call of duty is part of the nature of the students of Cherry Hill East. Staying awake until the moon begins to fade to complete that important rehearsal, chasing that "scoop" for Eastside's cover page, and painting that last election poster for upcoming student council elections form the "well rounded" (or perhaps "sharp-toothed" is more appropriate) student. But, achieving sharp-toothedness is not the sole purpose of a Cougar's supererogation — it would be easier to find a good dentist. It is more the fun and frolic of sharing time with friends and the discovery of the ecstasy of success that lures students to participate instead of rushing home to watch "General Hospital" or to devour the contents of the refrigerator. The benefits of active participation are mutual, with students giving a little extra time and effort for various clubs and organizations, and receiving the satisfaction and delight of accomplishment.

East's Cougar cheers the team on to victory!

Look at these hard working girls! ... The spaghetti looks good too!

You little devils!

Hey... why are you all upside down?

Faces Worth Publishing

What do you mean we're not selling anymore pretzels??

Is this not unique?

C'mon Krisiti, sing, sing, sing!

An aerial view of our courtyard.

The man to whom we owe so much of our change

Let's see those pearly whites!
Drama Group Visits East: England Invades America

How does a two-week tour of England become part of Cherry Hill's history? Ask Mr. Nation, head of East's Drama Department. Yes, England was the destination of East's first touring company.

East's drama exchange program started in 1976 when were contracted by San Francisco's El Camino High School, who wanted a trip that would complement their curriculum. This tour was successful, and the group decided to return to England. They toured from London to Edinburgh and the east coast of the country and found the hospitality everywhere they visited the drama department of St. Edmund's School in Canterbury to open their season, which they did from September 8 to 12 this year. They attended classes here at East, when sightseeing in Philadelphia, and performed at both Cherry Hill East and West.

The drama department of East felt the program was a great experience for all involved students, giving them a chance to get closer to their classmates. Because of this, they want to put together another touring company next year. This will be the destination of Europe, or a tour in the country. Whatever the destination, East's actors and actresses will no doubt do a great job. As Mr. Nation puts it, 'We are very proud to have such a high caliber of talent at East and we are anxious to share these talents and to represent our school and community.'

Has Spirit Week Become Too Competitive?

By Albert Park

I am not a loud, fiery radical out to beat the system nor am I a Mr. Goody-Two-Shoes. I am not here to get some one assassinated or to cause student riots. First, I probably would not succeed if I had tried. Second, I would not graduate and third, it would do more harm than good.

The editorial in this section will concern my views on certain events or issues in this school. I will try to use my judgment in being fair and honest.

Spirit Week began on Monday, September 21. That Monday began like any other typical school week, with sports talk about school. However, the sounds of students would be heard on the streets.

In my years at East, I have never found one. (It is not that I did not try, but, then again, I can never find my toothbrush whenever I need it.) Tuesday, elections were made for Spirit King and Queen. Wednesday, The Seniors won most of the points in the cake competition. The ones who won first place all-around made the same cake that last year, duragring this year's theme. I heard about a cake that was made of cardboard and frosted, and another one that had orange peel and a pickle. Thursday, there were ball decorations and costumes. I dressed as an American student going to school.

Career Resource Center Helps In Sorting Facts From Fiction

by Debbie Kaplan

This year the Guidance Department will have a special center for looking at career opportunities. The Careers Resource Center, located in A 003, will have films, cassettes, books and pamphlets concerning educational and career opportunities. If all goes as planned, it will open November 1.

The center, coordinated by Mr. Sabin and Mr. Zalusty, of the Guidance Department, will be a place where any student can do research concerning their career interests. "If used wisely, it should help the students to determine the programs that they would like to apply for in college," said Mr. Sabin. He also stated that a counselor and a secretary will be there every period. All a student has to do is get a pass from their counselor before going down.

One of the reasons the center is being set up is that there is a new state law requiring each student to complete one semester of career work in order to graduate. Many of the departments in school will be using the center to help students fulfill this requirement.

Cougars March Again

by Andrea Gross

Cherry Hill East almost started this year's football season without a marching band, but fortunately the band is now back and getting ready to perform. Football games would never have been the same without the familiar spirit and beat of the Cougars.

The marching band got off to a terrific start this year. Many hours of practicing during band camp paid off when it was announced that they had come in second at the Miss America Parade in Atlantic City. The band and the band front were looking forward to a spirited season. Then the trouble began. At a practice one afternoon, their director, Roy Hough, announced his resignation as head of the band, Edmund Moore, assistant director of the band, and color guard advisor followed this example and also resigned in support of Roy Hough. Mr. Hough explained to the devastated members of the Cougars band that his resignation was caused by a personal conflict within the music department. This conflict was thought to be a disagreement over the placement of a new director for the Wind Ensemble.

One Back, Two Ahead

Would they too refuse to perform in a support of Roy Hough or would they try to learn the field show without the guidance of their instructor? Refusal to practice and perform would mean a cancellation of their performance on October 1 at Veteran's Stadium for a Phililies game. Luckily the decision did not have to be made. Roy Hough apologized to the school administration, instrumentals, color guard, and Cougars and resumed his position as director.

The band is now working diligently on their field show eager to start football season, and especially excited to perform at the Phililies game.
Demogorgon, according to Classical Mythology, is a mysterious and terrifying demon sometimes described as ancestor of all the gods. Demogorgon, the art and literary magazine, has been in existence for the past fourteen years. Excellent creative writing, distinctive illustrations and carefully planned layouts have become rules rather than exceptions in the publication. The three qualities which most affect the total product are: unity of tone, which results from the use of a theme for the issue, artistic display, and reader appeal. The Demogorgon was established in order to recognize excellence in art and literature among talented high school students, as well as to encourage participation by all students.

Sports are the living proof of East's mammoth spirit. The limbs, muscles, and tendons of the cougar all strain in a perfect harmony, they thrive on getting ahead of the opposition, yet remain graceful, even eloquent in their full range of action.

Whether with a ball or a stick or a puck, the cougars never fail to awe the spectators, whose spirited faces in the crowd inspire the sleek cats to work even harder. Beyond the physical limits of the body, they strive for perfection and settle for nothing less than the best.

That golden trophy on the shelf or the silver name plate that immortalizes the great names of the players are but a few of the many tokens that reward the playing cougars. More than this, though, are the tokens left by these super-athletes, the glory and the pride, the teachings and the strategies, the fun and the ecstasy of being the best there is.

East Putts One Over On Opposition
As we near the end of our years at East, we focus on our achievements, our failures, our ambitions, and our dreams. We come to appreciate and admire our change throughout our educational experience. Our once muddled conceptions of ourselves are finally refined. All at once we realize the great expanse of life and our job in society.

East has readied us well for the world of business and merchants. It has given us the tools and materials we will need to prosper in and contribute to the society around us. But most importantly, East has given us a sense of self-responsibility and self-awareness. It has taught us to believe in ourselves so that we can join in the giant market of life and help others.

So we leave our alma mater, ready to plunge into the world of profit margins and tax returns - the world of business.

Jennie and Julie (Wiggles and Chester) • To my friends in the "gang" and the elite RC girls—I'm not a jock—IT • Mega-Thanks to Lynn G. for without her, I would have never come home.

Kraus, Divoosh, CEC, MOC, Taco, Sue, Jen, Bon: Gigolettes rule! • Lou, Thank you for making this the best year ever. Words alone can't express how I feel about you. I love forever-don't ever forget it! Love always. Kathy • Kathy, I love you. never forget, even remember Aug./Sat./88, very important to us and many of our friends. It's going to be a big day!! Louis • Cathy—We've been through a lot-MB, WE, SJ, Parties and the "old" group— I'll always remember these 4 years—more memories to come! Sharon • Karen—I hope we've made this year as good as up there! Continue doing it up down here, OK? Always remember bandies, parties, and gold! Sharon • Lise— I want my Nikes back! It's not my fault she's my sister? • To AP and the RC girls—it was crazy and great! Carry on DB & SPX girls-Amy • To CD, CI, RR, MK, AP, SK & the gang-Happy Monday! P.S. Smile guys!
