CROSSING THE THRESHOLD

Dear Senior Students:

As you begin your adult years, you will experience continual transitions and thresholds. Each transition represents a change in time and in what you are doing. Each threshold you cross brings you, the individual, into a new phase of growth and productivity. It’s a new beginning!

As you move into the adult world of higher education, employment and/or armed services, you will use the academic, technical and interpersonal skills that you have developed throughout your high school years.

Through its goals, Cherry Hill High School West has prepared you for crossing the threshold. Now it’s your turn to set your goals toward a healthy and productive life. Your goals will guide your further learning and contributions to an improved world.

On behalf of the Cherry Hill High School West community, I wish you every success!

Congratulations,

Ellen Linky,
Principal

The Junior Class Government works around the clock in order to create a more positive high school experience for everyone here at Cherry Hill West. No matter what we're doing, our government is having fun — from the Homecoming float to car washes, the Lip Sync Competition to the Junior Prom, the members of class government have had an amazing time planning and participating in tons of fund-raisers and special events over the years. With Mr. Owings and the Parents Club as the advisors for "Cruisin' 2002," we've even planned a senior trip to the Bahamas, scheduled for next November. As if that weren't enough to keep us anxiously waiting for next year, we've already started planning for the Senior Prom, and Project Graduation is just around the corner. We'll be keeping busy planning even more exciting upcoming events like a Basketball Tournament and several more fund-raisers. But whatever we're doing, the members of the Junior Class Government will still be having a great time serving our class for the rest of our time here at West.

The Drill team received ten of Montclair's awards that day.

Junior ROTC is primarily a service organization designed to bring credit to our school and community. The group may collect toys and canned goods during the holiday season, shovel snow for the elderly, usher at school and community functions and participate in other activities which display the standards of good citizenship. Extracurricular activities that cadets may take part in are a drill team, color/honor guard and model airplane/rocket club.

A Summer Academic School (SAS) is planned each academic year. The program is conducted at McGuire AFB/Ft. Dix. The primary purpose of this school is to allow cadets to make up a missed year of Junior ROTC so they may qualify for JROTC scholarships or advanced standing should they decide to enlist in any branch of the military service after graduation from high school.

Tearin’ Up The Field

The season was full of changes for West’s softball teams. Building of the new auditorium was to begin last spring over top of the freshman/JV softball field. However, the three teams were already sharing two fields. Losing another field would cause major problems for game and practice scheduling. Administration decided to build our Lady Lions a new field. Construction of the new field behind the Jones Gym was completed by mid-season.

The field’s closeness to the school allowed the team to plug in a score board and pitching machine for more efficient score keeping and games, not to mention goofy sound effects. An added advantage for the teams is that the ground has still not been broken for the new auditorium, so they will have the privilege of three fields this year.

Another change for the softball team included the appointment of a new head coach, Lou Papa from the Science Department. The new leadership didn’t mean more wins for the team, but the team still had a great year.

The West lacrosse teams worked hard this year. Coached by Robin Schwartz, Lori Ponto, Brigdet Garrity, and Ms. Cohen, the team went on to win three games for the season. The entire JV team was composed of freshmen who fared very well in the higher level of competition. Seniors made up the majority of the Varsity team for the 2000 season, giving way for the next generation of lacrosse players this year.

Mr. Page Retires
Mr. Page retired this year after 40 years of service and 36 years of coaching the golf team at West. He was Assistant Coach from 1965 to 1967 (3 years) and Head Coach from 1968 to 2000 (33 years). During his coaching years there was an amazing total of 583 games played. In those 583 games were 211 wins, 348 losses, and 24 ties. There were 11 seasons in his 36 years. His best year was 1968, with 17 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie. The 1968 team was 4th in the state and 2nd in conference.

Mr. Page also ranked some of the team members over the years on his "Best Players' List" with Jon Estilow of '68 at #1, Larry Sick of '71 at #2, Gary Rock of '68 at #3, and Dun Wirth, Mark Steele, and Paul Richards of '68 tying #4. These men were only the top six players. Others players were also mentioned ranking and tying each other in the 5th through 7th places. The golf team's stats in West history show Mr. Page's skill and dedication as a golf teacher in his coaching years. It will be hard for the new coach to fill is shoes.
The Lions fought through a disappointing season, but the spirits stayed high. They came back after each game and with renewed spirit went forth into the next one. The team preserved due to the determination of the players and coaches who never gave up. The disappointing lack of success did not keep the people from coming to practice and giving their best. The Lions have room to grow next year and they shall make the school proud.

Concert Choir, composed of talented upperclassmen, is an a cappella ensemble of mixed voices. The singers in this group, having auditioned for their spots, meet daily. Concert Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Bass and Mr. Beekle, performs at the winter and spring concerts, as well as an annual spring trip. When Concert Choir joins with West Singer, a large and impressive group of talented musicians, called Symphonic Choir, is formed.

The musicians happily sing.
Eleven male voices harmonize to perfection in West's well-known a cappella group, Men of Note. These devoted singers meet after school weekly, working to develop the humorous antics and interludes for which the group is so popular.

The pit orchestra provides music for the annual musical - this year the musical was Annie, so the repertoire of the pit included the well-known songs “It’s a Hard-Knock Life” and “Tomorrow”. Filled with talented musicians, this group rehearses after-school starting in January, and continues its rigorous practices until March, when the musical begins its performances.

Broadway Night 2000

West's esteemed vocal teachers, Mrs. Bass and Mr. Bueckle, pictured on one of their most exciting performance nights.

On May 4, 5 and 6, 2000, every choir from Cherry Hill West (as well as from Carusi Middle School) performed at the annual Broadway Night extravaganza. Every year, the song-and-dance celebration has a theme, and this year, the music focused on Ira and George Gershwin, Gilbert and Sullivan, and Leonard Bernstein. The choirs sang songs from such renowned musicals as Porgy & Bess, Pirates of Penzance, and West Side Story. The three-day event also managed to showcase the amazing talent at West with forty-four soloists representing every grade. The event was a success thanks to the talents of the students and the vocal teachers Mrs. Bass and Mr. Bueckle.

Senior Lindsay Lipsman sings "Poor Wandering One" from the Pirates of Penzance.

Chamber Singers perform "Pirate King" from the Pirates of Penzance with a solo by Adam Dembowitz as the pirate.

Senior Trina Bass sings a selection from Porgy & Bess.
The male a cappella group Men of Note perform another show-stopping selection.

Junior Brooke Womack, sophomore Tara Halpin, and senior Trina Buss impress the audience with their voices.

Theatre Workshop is an extracurricular activity where students from all grades participate in putting on various productions throughout the year, such as the Children’s Show, the musical, and the One-Act Play Festival, as well as multiple smaller shows. Students must have membership to this organization in order to be eligible for membership of the prestigious International Thespian Society.
The International Thespian Society is an honor society dedicated to promoting all aspects of the living arts here at West and in the community at large. Theatrically inclined students earn one point roughly for every ten hours of theatre-related activity. When they have accrued twenty-five points in three categories, they become eligible for membership into the Society. Members sponsor the annual One-Act Play Festival and are currently looking into founding a traveling troupe.
The annual children’s show was a huge success this year, as all of Cherry Hill’s youngsters came to see Theatre Workshop’s production of The Emperor’s New Clothes. The fairy tale revolves around a clothes-obsessed emperor who must have the most incredible, beautiful clothes in his entire kingdom. In order to have the best clothes, of course, he must have the best tailors, which come to him with two tricksters, Snip and Tuck. The “tailors” actually have no knowledge of sewing and simply take the job for the huge rewards—which include gold and gems. Snip and Tuck’s hilarious antics add to the play and make the entire event, with the help of other talented cast members, a memorable affair.

The cast of The Emperor’s New Clothes surrounds the emperor.

Senior Justin Hubert is able to relay an earnest sentiment.

Freshman Amanda DeSimone is a daughter of royalty, with affection for teddy bears.

The annual musical at West this year kept with our tradition of holding excellent performances for the community to enjoy. Annie was a fabulous testament to the talent of West on all fronts - which includes the cast, the crew, and the pit. After months of strenuous rehearsing and working, the labor everyone put in paid off with six great shows, where standing ovations were the norm.

Mr. Pinzur watches the show intensely.
Miss Hannigan entertains the audience with her antics.

Sandy stands with Annie while she sings.

A Hooverville sings about the disgraces of former President Hoover.
The servants present a painting to Daddy Warbucks.

Rooster and Lily come up with another scheme to make money.

A member of the lighting crew works on the light board.

Miss Farrell sings about the pleasures of New York City.
Annie is introduced to the servants of Daddy Warbucks' home by Miss Grace Farrell.

Annie is introduced to President Roosevelt for the first time.

The Star-to-Be sings about the great city of New York.

Annie and Daddy Warbucks laugh at a joke.

A showgirl dances her way through New York City.
The 2000 One Act Play Festival

Sophomores Julia Vigna and Stefanie Milanese prepare themselves for the attack on Jen Dahan in their play, The Whole Shebang.

Juniors Sarina Friedner and Steve Slotkin have a puzzling conversation in the Chazz in 2001 play, Egad, What a Cad.

On May 19, 2000, Cherry Hill West students gathered to watch their peers in the annual One Act Play Festival. Always an exciting evening, the audience and judges alike loved every play, making the deliberation an hour-long process. The night started off with the freshman play, Once Upon a Playground, which told the story of a little girl finding someone she could relate to. Second in the lineup was the sophomore one-act, The Whole Shebang, which was centered on a fictional one-act festival and how it made the coordinator end up in an insane asylum. The senior play, Just a High School Play, chronicled the lives of multiple high school students. Finally, the junior play, Egad, What a Cad, was a melodrama murder mystery. As usual, it was a highly enjoyable evening for all.

Freshman Allison Silver is surrounded by other cast members in the Class of 2003 play, Once Upon a Playground.

Seniors Lindsay Lipsman, Dan Keith, and Chelsea Buffington represent “typical” high school students.

"this is the last song
this is the last song I’ll sing for you this is the last song I can give you the roaring city sleeps metal fingers clacking dirty sheets and no one comes for free
in this place where the angels sleep my eyes are open wonder to this as you hold the secrets
I count the minutes off so perfectly the shards of broken glass sing the strains of a sad old tune we’re made it at last but what we had is lost inside our past
this is the last song"

Well, this is the end of a perfect day,
Near the end of a journey, too;
But it leaves a thought that is big and strong,

And we find at the end of a perfect day,
The soul of a friend we've made.

The senior class government has worked hard over the past four years in fundraising, planning events, and organizing charitable functions. In that time the government has successfully raised money for the class through carnation, candle, and t-shirt sales. All of the money raised for the class will be used to fund the much-anticipated Senior Prom that will be held at the Bellevue Hotel in Philadelphia. This year the senior class is planning to organize a Carabas Night, a tradition that was started last year by the class of 2000. The 2001 government has also sponsored a Teddy Bear Collection for needy children, and has raised money by working concession stands at West basketball games.

Don't ever give up your dreams and never leave them behind.
Find them; make them yours, and all-through your life,
Cherish them and never let them go.
For fate exist but can only take you so far because once your there,
Its up to you to make it happen.
But remember, take one day at a time.
Don't look back and grieve over the past for its gone.
And don't be troubled about the future for it has not come yet.
Live in the present and make is so beautiful to be worth looking back on.
