When September 2004 arrives, something will be missing. Although many of us may attend school next year, the school the seniors attend will not be West. The energy, enthusiasm, and spirit embodied by this year's senior class will be gone, as the seniors will have moved on. Nevertheless, the West spirit will stay alive with those that remain and carry out our pride in academics, sports, clubs, and the arts. West is only as good as its members. The faculty, staff, and most importantly the students, solidify the exemplary West spirit both in the school and in the community. West students will not miss a thing in life because of their experiences here.
Friends. Heward Tesfai and Sari Widman enjoy the freedom of being seniors.

What’s one thing you’ll miss about West after you graduate?

- "Being able to see my friends and hang out on a daily basis." — Joe Todd, Senior
- "I’ll miss being in the music program, because that’s where I met most of my close friends." — Jeanine Eliasen, Senior
- "I’ll miss being in school with all the people I’ve grown up with." — John Burlage, Senior
- "I’ll miss my friends, my teachers, and all the activities that I’ve participated in." — Tracy Chin, Senior

What’s one thing you miss about your childhood?

- "I miss not having as many responsibilities, and having a lot more energy." — Julie Todd, Junior
- "Recess and free time are what I miss most about my childhood." — Jason Steinassityk, Freshman
- "Having less homework and more time to hang out with my friends." — Editha Suedalam, Junior
- "I miss the days when coloring between the lines got me an ‘A’." — Bryan Stevens, Junior

T.J. McDowell and Jessica Alimi are hanging out while enjoying 3-D arts class.
Jena Coletti, Caitlin Catamolla, Ashley Manning, Charlotte Humphrey, and Tina Fortunato have formed a bond of friendship through cheerleading.

“My favorite moment at West was during my sophomore year one-acts, when I won best actress.”

“My favorite moment at West was during the 2003 homecoming football game, because the crowd was going wild and it showed great West pride.”

“I really enjoyed all of my freshman year here at West, because that’s when I met a lot of new people and new friends.”

“My favorite moment at West was during the 2004 Spirit Week activities, because the school spirit was high and everyone was happy.”

“My favorite moment so far was getting to skate during last years P.A.V.A.S. festival.”

“Lunch provides these students with a chance to catch up.”

“Friendships grow at West.”

It has been the tradition of our school that the senior class give their school a gift upon graduation. Known as the Class Gift, it has been many different things that would make the school a better place. Gifts have included monuments, trees, and various media devices. This year the class of 2004 has decided to give Cherry Hill High School West an irrigation system that will nourish the front of the school during those hot summer days when lawns and flowers wither. Certainly, it will truly beautify the school. However, I propose that the Class of 2004 has already given a much greater gift to their school. It is an invisible gift not readily recognized; however, it is a gift of critical importance to the school. Over the years, this senior class has played a consistent and vital role in establishing themselves as role models worth imitating. You have taught your peers the importance of good citizenship, school spirit and a passion for academics, activity involvement and athletics. Indeed you were the class that won Spirit Week both as juniors and seniors. You almost won it as sophomores! You were my partners in changing West into a wonderful school with a rediscovered reputation for excellence. Together we guided the student body through an emerging age of dark terrorism. Together we rebuilt our school both physically and spiritually. I will always remember your incredible enthusiasm at your last Spirit Week pep rally. More importantly, I will remember the freshman watching you. They were learning how to act in high school, and that was the best class gift. Thank you.

Christine Bass

A graduate of Flint Central High 1971 in Flint, MI. She was a very active and outgoing student. As the class treasurer, she was also involved in the school choir, swimming, and her church youth choir. Christine Bass planned to either pursue a career in music or sociology. We are so glad she chose music instead because she is a valued addition to school staff and the music program here at West.

George Munyan

As a shy, quiet, and skinny student at Cardinal Dougherty High in 1961, George Munyan always knew that he wanted to be a teacher. He never wanted to leave school because he loved being around kids. As the Principal here at West, Mr Munyan has made a huge difference in the atmosphere of our school. He has worked tirelessly to improve educational standards, school spirit and the overall appearance of West.
Faculty Spotlight

Cigus Vanni

A graduate of Christian Brothers Academy in 1968, Cigus Vanni was known as the “boy you talk to”. In school, he was involved in the drama club, football, school paper, and intramural handball. With construction, engineering, and counseling to choose from, Cigus Vanni chose the field that he loved most.

Sarah, When you were Sixteen Going on Seventeen, I sometimes wondered whether you had gone completely Over the Rainbow. I wondered: Is This The Little Girl I Carried?

But I knew that With a Little Bit of Luck and with a number of Days Gone By you’d make it to eighteen and, Miracles of Miracles you’d graduate High School.

Now as you continue to pursue a Theater Arts career and All That Jazz, I’m so proud to see that you’ve learned that When Your Good To Mama you’ll never have to doubt that I’d Give It All For You and that I Have Confidence you’ll be able to Climb Every Mountain.

Sarah, there’s A Lot Of Livin’ To Do, and All I Ask Of You is to remember that on Opening Night: when You Got It, Flaunt It.

When you were young, you loved your model trains,
You played so much, your hands and knees got pains.

But when you got older, you found airplanes,
It took one flyover, your ears had pains.

At times our basement was an awful mess,
but we forgave when you made “NHS.”

Between the trains and planes, there was so much.
“Casseroles for Camden,” the poor you did touch.

The butterfly, we all know you swim well,
Only thing that slowed you was Taco Bell.

You forgot your trains and planes after your car,
But without gas money, you won’t go far.

Your friends, we did like, never did hear them cuss,
But the “Speed Safely” comment did concern us.

After high school, you know you will have to go onward,
With your commitment to excellence, it’ll be upward.

Now go forward but you don’t have to flee,
With all our love, Mom and Dad and Kelly.
Bryan and Caitlin Quigley and Friends

Congratulations, you did it!

As you go out into the world, remember to play nice, share your toys and always take care of each other.

It's A Boy! It's A Boy!

The Word rang out! With three older sisters you bemoaned your fate, and then you set out to lead us on a wild chase. From the sidelines we stood and watched as you played soccer, went to states in baseball and finally your love - ice hockey.
You've grown up to be a strong but caring young man and we hope you embrace all that life has to offer you.

Class of 2004

Thanks for the memories!
Remember when...

...we had the Winter Wonderland Dance freshman year.

...we “tried” to fix the clocks.

...homeroom didn’t exist.

...we had a class web page with pictures of students.

...Mr. Munyan wasn’t the principal.

...the football team won homecoming 3 years in a row.

...we adopted Stuyvesant High School because 9-11 touched our lives.

...we lost a tug of war?...NO!

Most of all, remember our four years together, as a class, a family, and group that will never be forgotten.

See you at the reunion!
