My first memory at West concerned the size of the building. It was difficult to find my way around the building and show up on time to teach my classes.

My fondest memories at West have been working with the diverse students and teachers. Also, my colleagues in E-lounge have always provided friendship and conversation.

My funniest moment at West was when Caitlin Lechner dressed up as me for Halloween. She came to school wearing clothes very similar to my style and even had a bald head.

My hope for West in the future is that it will capitalize on the tremendous strengths of the diverse student population.
My first memory of West was that of every freshman—feeling totally lost. My geometry class was in the farthest corner of the school in G3. But, in my quest to find the room, I learned about the friendliness of the West community.

My fondest memories at West include being a coach and advisor—lacrosse, bowling, One-Act play competitions, Yearbook, Mock Trial team, computer programming contests, and National Honor Society.

My funniest review of the FOIL method was when I drew the arcs to show the pattern of first, outer, inner, and last. A picture of a smiley face becomes visible. I said, “See the smile, see the eyebrows, see the chin.” From the back of the room, came a little voice, “See the psychiatrist.”

My hope for the future of West is that we continue to celebrate diversity and continue to value academic excellence.
After experiencing sixteen years of personal education at Catholic all-girls schools, I remember being shocked at walking through “Locker Loveland” to get to my classrooms.

My fondest memory at West was when the Class of 1999 learned that I had never flown a kite while we were discussing a novel. The day of our last class, the students brought in a kite for me and taught me how to fly it on the field next to A-wing. The students all agreed that this was the best example of “poetry in motion.”

My funniest teaching moment occurred in the early ’80s. Two boys in my English 1A class performed the balcony scene from Romeo and Juliet in full Elizabethan costume while using desks as Juliet’s balcony.

In the future, I hope West will remain a family of caring individuals who value learning for learning’s sake versus test score achievement.
Mr. Patterson

My first memory of West was spent wondering how I got from the second floor of E wing to the top floor of F wing without going up any stairs. I needed my map for the first ten years here.

My fondest memories of West are the years I spent with the students in my Careers and Living Skills classes. They gave me a new way of looking at life and filled my days with laughter.

One of my funniest moments at West was with a student who had trouble telling the truth. When he was pressed to explain why he lied he said, “I have to lie to protect my credibility.” I thought this he had the makings of a President.

My hope for West, the district and, the country, is that they will recognize every child has a gift and this gift is not easily assessed by standardized tests. I hope they will respect these gifts and spend as much time and money on them as they have on perpetuating the standardization model.

Right: Mr. Patterson, his daughter-in-law, Kim, son, Sean and wife, Marilyn make a beautiful family.
My first memory at West was that I had as much trouble finding my around the building as the incoming freshmen. I spend most of my time now in upper D wing and don't roam around as much.

My fondest memories of West are of working with the wonderful, dedicated, and talented math teachers in D-wing. We all work together and support each other. I laugh a lot so I have a lot of funny moments inside and outside of the classroom. The funniest moment occurred in the teacher's lounge and I choose not to repeat it. Nevertheless, I always enjoy students with a sense of humor.

My hope for the future of West is that more students develop a strong work ethic and take responsibility and respect seriously. This would contribute to improving the academic environment at West.

Needing a map to find my way around the building was my first memory at West. The school was so big and confusing.

My fondest memories of West are the wonderful students I have taught for 33 years.

By far, my funniest moment at West was finding the missing frozen turkey. Every year SGO collects frozen turkeys for needy families and stores these turkeys in a basement freezer until the holidays. One turkey never made it to the freezer and around mid-January the smell was terrible until we found the misplaced bird.

My hope for the future of West is that Lion Pride will continue to grow and that Purple and White will rule!
West cheerleaders create the perfect pyramid.
Connecting with the ball was the strength of the 2004 baseball team. Averaging 17 hits per game, the team dominated the competition and achieved an 11-2 record with a number nine ranking in South Jersey. Senior pitchers, Joe Voiro, John DiPiero, and Mike Caruso got the ball across the plate for the Lions and struck out opponents one by one.

The highlight of the 2004 softball season was the showdown between the West Lions and the East Cougars. As long time rivals, this game proved to showcase the exceptional hitting and fielding talents of the Lady Lions. With encouragement and chatter both on and off the field, the Lady Lions capped their season with a close win over East in their culminating game.

So Proud!

You bring laughter and joy to those of us who have had the privilege of loving you a lifetime. We are so proud. Don’t ever stop being you! You make the world a really fun place!

Love Always,
Your Family
I've been blessed with a rare find, a wonderful son and great friend. Over the years we have created beautiful memories, shared many laughs and stuck by each other through thick and thin. I pray that you will always allow God to continue directing your life. Never lose your ability to laugh as you go over hills and through valleys. Remember all things are possible when you believe in our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Congratulations and God Bless.

Love Always, Mom
We are so proud of you. You have always been the joy of our lives. We wish you a lifetime of happiness and success. Always remember whatever road you choose to take we will be behind you with love and support. Good luck as you start college. Never let go of your dreams! We love you, Mom & Dad

Goals and dreams are wishes that can be easily reached if you work hard to obtain them.
You never know when or where you will reach your goal.
But keep trying!
Always have faith in yourself.
For within you there is someone special,
Someone wonderful.
No matter what you strive to achieve Put God first and you will succeed.
"I can do all things through Christ which strengthened me."

Class of 2005

We came to West with eager, open eyes
Experience we lacked led to surprise
Still we uncertain of ourselves made way
Towards our future graduation day

Since all these years when we did first arrive
Enthusiastic energy and drive
Now anxiously propel us to our goal
In hundreds in our class we made one soul
On graduation day our smiles wide
Receiving our diplomas with great pride
So we will stop and think of our time here

School which was good to us year after year
Although we leave you, please our favor more
Yet always for us leave ajar the door

ROAR
Wishing the Class of 2005 all the best! Good luck in the future.
