This year, the RAMPANT staff brings to you a book that remembers "all the little things." Sometimes the things that seem the most insignificant are often those held most dear.

The yearbook at any school plays a vital role in the commemoration of memories both beautiful and embarrassing. We hope this book serves as a great reminder of this sentiment, and the Seniors, especially, remember their time at Cherry Hill West and treasure it dearly.
As the days grow longer, and the sun shines brighter, students say their bitter sweet farewell to their home away from home. The Summer season marks a time of sheer enjoyment—whether it be traveling with family, splashing around in a friend’s pool, or reading a nice book at home— and the students enjoy every moment of it.

As they use the Summer to recharge and strengthen their friendships, they grow more and more excited to return to school to share their memories of the warm, breezy Summer.

Jan Kinsella, Mama Dunne, and Alex Foxwell enjoy a relaxing summer’s day together as friends.

A group of West seniors take a break from their summer reading novels for a little fun in the Summer sun.

Dana Bryant catches a frog in the near by town of Sturbridge, Massachusetts.

Kerwing Hy is eaten by a shark during his trip to Universal Studios.
Exotic Locations  Mr. Cavarella was one of many faculty members and students who took some time to visit many of the world’s natural treasures and recharge before the new school year.

Summer Sun  As the sun sets on another great summer, the anticipation of the students of Cherry Hill High School West begins to grow. The new school year is upon us, and with it comes an opportunity for a fresh start.

Sam Parkas, Zoe Mc Cormick, and Rachel Genovese pose on their cruise ship to Bermuda.

National Champions

The Cherry Hill West Dance Team competed in Myrtle Beach, SC for the 2011 Eastern Dance Association (EDA) National Championships. The team competed against more than 65 teams from all over the country. The squad finished the two-day competition with a Champion trophy in Varsity Hip Hop, and a first runner up trophy in Varsity Jazz. The spirited team also won some specialty awards, including “Most Creative Choreography” for their hip hop number, “Best Costumes” for their jazz number, and “Most Spirited Fans” thanks to their family and friends who came out to support them. The team also won the biggest award of the event, which is “Eastern Elite Team” for the highest score of the entire competition.
The after-school ambiance at West is an eclectic one indeed. From classroom to classroom, you can find teachers helping students in their various subjects, clubs meeting, sports practicing to perfection, and friends hanging out and spending time with one another. It is a time of academic and athletic enhancement. When the final bell rings, the environment at West completely changes.
Welcome back! As the wind begins to blister and the leaves turn their natural hues, the West students pack their bookbags and return to school. This is the time when students begin to meet their teachers, delve into their studies, and join lots of clubs! At Cherry Hill High School West, fall means new sports seasons, new teacher relationships, and new projects for all of the clubs. The halls bustle once more as the teachers and students are welcomed back to their home away from home.

Jeanin Protasio displays her well-crafted and creative Pikachu costume for Halloween at West.

Rachel Gervese plays along at the first Instrumental concert of the school year.

Alex Thiele demonstrates his powerful drum prowess late into the night at the Marching Band rehearsal.
Town Rivalry Each and every year, West plays the annual Thanksgiving game against cross-town rivals, Cherry Hill East. For the fourth consecutive year, the West varsity team brought home the coveted "boot" and pride for their school.

Children's Show Cherry Hill West proudly presents a child-friendly show each year in the fall season. In the spirit of tradition, West performed E.B. White's beloved Charlotte's Web.

Chris Poresky and Jordan Friedman bicker like an old married couple in their take on Neil Simon's The Odd Couple.

Senior Jasmine Riel serenades retired vocal teacher Jim Boeckle, in the spirit of the fall season.

Halloween Horrors

Ghouls, monsters, and creatures come to West!!! BOO!!!

Happy Halloween!

The ghastly ghouls and spooky spirits roam the halls of Cherry Hill High School West on the eeriest day of the year. Trick-or-treating, treacherous tricks, and cool costumes are just a few of many wonders of Halloween for a high school student. It gives teenagers the chance to act like children and really reach back to their roots. Wherever one happens to look, he or she can catch sight of the creative costumes of fellow peers and teachers alike. When the festive black and orange mix with West purple and white, it creates a combination of fun, fright, and fabulous times.

Neil Simon's The Odd Couple is the story of two divorced men who decide to move in together despite their polar opposite personalities. Oscar Madison (played by Chris Poresky), a sarcastic, sloppy, sports-writer, asks Felix Ungar (played by Jordan Friedman), a neurotic neat-freak, to move into his New York apartment after Felix is left by his wife. Oscar hosts a weekly poker game at his house where the duo is joined by Murray (Alex Foxwell), a cop, Speed (Kyle Lapinski), a sarcastic cynic, Vinnie (Albert Enriquez), one of the nicest guys you will ever meet, and Ray (Ethan Abramz), an accountant. The cast is rounded out by Gwendolyn (Kayli Banfield) and Cecily (Mercy Ellis) Pigeon, two English sisters who go on an ill-fated date with Oscar and Felix. This cutting and dark comedy deals with the harsh reality of divorce and the stresses of friendship. Kudos to the cast and crew on an excellent job on a truly tough piece to perform.
Little Lamb (Mama Dulle), and Old Old Sheep (Paige Espinosa) bring to their parts a natural yet adorable sass.

The barn animals Mama Dulle, Paige Espinosa, Arlind Hoxha, and Sarah Raff listen attentively to sage old Charlotte, the spider.

Spectators Sarah Raff and Kaitlyn Styles admire Zuckerman's terrific, radiant pig.
We’ve got spirit, yes we do. Go WEST! At the first meeting of the classes, the West students from the excited Freshman to the rising Seniors cheer proudly for their classes and enjoy the Cherry Hill High School West community. The day’s events include pie-eating contests, a cheerleading performance, and a wacky cross-dressing race. As we begin to solidify our school bond, we dance together, cheer together, and enjoy some healthy competition. A bonus this year is the presence of Philadelphia Eagle, Jeremiah Trotter, and a selection of peppy cheerleaders. No matter the atmosphere, it spells fun and frivolity.

Winter As the snow falls, and the air chills, the students of Cherry Hill West settle themselves into another academic year. Still, there is no decrease in student effort in and outside of the classroom. At Cherry Hill West, Winter entails serious study of AP material, diligence in practices and games for our athletes, and fine tuning for our vocal and instrumental musicians. The weather may be cold, but our hearts are growing warmer as we solidify ourselves into a community and family.

Isabel Mancini and Amulanga Cherkashova sing a sweet tune at the annual winter vocal concert. Lisa Kosteleski dribbles down the court to bring pride to our girls basketball team. G. Samuels and Kevin Catanella break it down old school as they perform with Men of Note. Derrick Ray sneaks past the rival team, and is caught in a graceful stride.
Ski Trip As a special Winter treat, the Physical Education Department offers the students a trip to Killington, Vermont to hit the slopes and enjoy time with their friends.

Snow Storm of 2010 The West community was hit hard by a snow storm in our Winter semester. It warranted a great deal of sledding and hot chocolate but unfortunately, set us back a few days academically.

The cellists get a close-up as they play melodious harmonies at the instrumental winter concert. Matt Gianpetro bowls a skillful shot and lands a strike for the Lions.

Spaghetti Bridges
Spaghetti, Epoxy, and Physics, OH MY! The Physics students of Cherry Hill West assembled together for a day to break their creations and compete for the best ratio. It took one whole month of research, preparation, and grueling effort to assemble these works of art. Under the supervision of Mrs. Millili and Ms. Tan, the students had a day of great fun and constructive learning that made memories to last a lifetime.
The excitable Seniors woke up at the break of dawn to board a plane to paradise. For three wonderful nights and four fabulous days, the kids enjoyed the hot Florida weather, the magic of Mickey Mouse, and the allure of the Wizarding World of Harry Potter. Ninety-nine kids went as peers, and ninety-nine kids came home as friends.

2011 Senior Trip
Spring

As the flowers bloom, and the breeze warms, the students at Cherry Hill West prepare for their second large break, the musical, as well as a new season of sports. It is the daunting time where AP students prepare for their exams, and teachers begin to prepare to administer final exams. Seniors are getting into college while trying to absorb as much experience as they can while still in high school. The warm weather allows students to spend time outside and live their lives to the fullest.

Bridget Posenko belts her heart out as the sassy Ms. Velma VonTussel in the Spring Musical, Hairspray.

Alex Injalan scoops up a grounder and throws a dart to first base for quick out in a Varsity baseball game.

The Spring Track team assembles as they prepare for their meet.

Leanne Casper and Zoe McComiskey strike a pose under the warm Spring sun.
Neira Amatovic and Mike Rodgers walk down the stage demonstrating the beautiful attire in the DECA fashion show.

Colin Coon follows through on a beautiful swing as he watches the ball soar.

Cherry Hill West Theatre Department proudly puts on the musical, Hairspray - an exciting, ground-breaking parody of 1960s racism. Set in Baltimore, Maryland, Hairspray chronicles the journey of one young, rotund, rabble-rouser who finds her way onto a daytime TV show and slowly changes the world. The musical deals with such poignant issues as peer pressure, racism, and weight. Cast with West's most talented thespians, Hairspray was a smashing success - raising great revenue and enticing audiences of all ages.
International Dessert Night
The diverse Cherry Hill High School West community shares a common thread of respect for the colors purple and white. West students can often be found displaying their Lion's pride. This apparel is more than just something fun and prideful to wear, but it is also a bond—one that all students past, present, and future will share forever.

Lion's Pride
Musical Arts  The 2010-2011 school year was an exciting one for the vocal and instrumental music departments at Cherry Hill High School West. On a sad note, the vocal program bids esteemed teacher Jim Boecke goodbye after a long time spent at West. On a lighter note, the program welcomes Miss Jennuhi Delp as the newest teacher. The concerts this year are an excellent blend of talented voices and fun pieces. In the world of instrumental music, led by Mr. Jim Mark, the groups continue to develop and grow, and amaze all who hear them. The students are constantly progressing and challenging themselves to perform difficult pieces. They have bonded as a family and are an absolute joy to hear.
Chamber Singers: This select choir combines their silly personalities with an array of classical, challenging arrangements to produce the most beautiful harmonies and melodies one could imagine. They showcase the wonders of Winter throughout the season, and can always be found singing a tune.

Mr. Jim Bockle (left) West bids this beloved vocal professor farewell this year. He was endicic to the education of Vocal Workshop, Choristers, Concert Choir, and the select female choir, Fermata. His skills will be dearly missed, and he will be fondly remembered.

Burjis Cooper performs a sporty solo at Men's Night Out - a free-for-all vocal fest featuring the talented boys of Cherry Hill.

The guitarists play along attentively at the Winter Instrumental Concert.

A LITTLE

personality

Community
Cherry Hill High School West is marked by a great mesh of very different personalities. From the zany teachers, who bring their subjects to life, to the students who sit in class, a community is created that is a perfect balance of work and play, academics and athletics, and music and theatre. Walking down the hallways of West, one doesn’t see a divisional hierarchy of classes - everyone is truly blended as a happy family. As the days progress, we become friends that seem more like family.

Mr. Bova helps his students achieve greatness in and outside of the classroom.

Ms. Marks smiles brings pride to our school community through her dedication to teaching.

Ms. Falcone and Mrs. Langman bring pride to the English department as young educators.

Mrs. Reilly takes a break from her long day to take a picture for our photographer.
Teachers The teachers at Cherry Hill High School West are certainly an eclectic bunch. From the wacky antics of a certain bald teacher who brings fish to school, to the demure math teacher who has a passion for her subject, our educators have every personality fathomable. No two classrooms at our school are quite the same.

Students The students at Cherry Hill High School West are truly the heart of our building. There are the musically-minded, the sports-obsessed, and the academic-all stars, all of which comprise a symbolic family that has a strong and lasting bond. We are truly a family community, and wouldn’t have it any other way.

Mrs. DeSantis helps her class prepare for their driver's education exam. Magister Munday lectures his upper-level class on the beauties of ancient Latin.
WE ARE WEST!
To the Cherry Hill High School
West Educational Community
Especially the Graduates of the Class of 2011

It truly amazes me how quickly each school year seems to pass by, and I am stunned that the Class of 2011 will soon become our next group of alumni. I will carry with me many fine memories of this graduating class. I had the chance to meet so many of these students when they entered middle school in 6th grade, and I have watched them mature into the young adults that they are today. It has been an absolute pleasure to work with the members of this class, and their families. Always remember, that it was as a student at West that you have experienced the recent changes in the world. It is as a graduate that you will step forward and change the world for us.

For our educational community, this yearbook reveals so much about us and our collective history. It truly is the story of who we are. It is within these pages that you will find who we are as an educational community, as a school. We have created a legacy and a lasting impression on this school. We have worked together, developed together, laughed together, and cried together. We have won games and championships together and we have stunned audiences in the theater together. We have studied, we have learned, we have grown, we have matured.

The foundation that you have established at High School West will serve you well in to the future. In your memories you will always carry a part of this school with you. If you are fortunate enough to be returning for another year at West, enjoy your summer — read and reflect, dream and laugh, prepare for your return in September.

I look forward to seeing you all soon! Have a safe and a happy summer.

Fondly,

Joseph N. Meloche

David is a determined, driven, and responsible student. I had him in his first three years at West, and saw him make a remarkable progression. He is gifted in French and picks up on it with great speed. David was inducted into the French National Honor Society as a sophomore and has remained an outstanding example of French passion in this school. He was an absolute joy to have in class! He has excelled as a student of French, as well as a student overall. I am so proud of his accomplishments, and his personality makes him an overall wonderful student to have in class. I wish him luck in his future endeavors.

This year’s senior class is especially exceptional. In the midst of all the talent and potential, one senior stands out for her dedication to the Chorus Department. Jasmine is a member of the three most elite ensembles in the Chorus Department. In addition to her beautiful singing and extraordinary talent, she demonstrates capability and leadership in her role as a student intern. It is a rarity to find a student who is so gifted at teaching at such a young age. We wish her much success in her future as a music educator!
I enjoyed having Chris in my class so much last year that I asked him to be a lab aide for the Physics teachers this year. His enthusiasm for learning and for his music is exciting to see and hear about. I wish him the best of luck in everything he will do in the future whether it be science or music.

Camille was with me for four periods every day this year. Thankfully, she is a pleasant, funny, helpful, and motivated student.

Alex was a work animal in my AP Statistics class. He was always intuitive and contributing to class. He is an intelligent and distinguished student who will make a significant contribution to society one day.

A little RECOGNITION!

Kerwing is a caring and dedicated young man with a great sense of humor and upbeat attitude. I wish him the best in all his future endeavors.

Maria is a hard worker who brings great spirit to class. I enjoyed teaching her and seeing her every day. I know she will do well in the future because of her character, and because she makes it easy for everyone to root for her.
I had the privilege of teaching Josue his junior year in our advanced ESL course. He was soft-spoken at first. Meeting new friends, teachers, and his guidance counselor helped Josue to feel welcomed. Once he acclimated to the culture of West, he was able to learn and contribute in his classes, which afforded him great confidence. Josue passed the HSPA in his second language, which is yet another significant accomplishment for him. As he says goodbye to high school, I wish him well in his college career and thereafter. I believe in Josue; he will always find his path and excel at whatever he chooses to do with his life, as he shows his big grin across his face.
Nicola is an exchange student from Italy taking Physics Honors. He is very enthusiastic about learning Physics and his participation in class is wonderful, especially stories about high school in Italy. I admire Nicola’s determination to experience every aspect of high school life in the United States. He joined music groups, sports teams, and even the spring musical and excelled in the Science League Competition in Physics. I wish Nicola the best of everything life has to offer in the future.
Nancy has been one of the unsung heroes of the West Cadet Corps throughout her high school career, and it has been a pleasure to work with her. She has given of herself to help both old and new cadets alike get used to AFJROTC and what it stands for. Nancy worked hard and achieved Cadet Officer Rank as a senior. She has always been successful in the many positions she’s held and has shown her loyalty through her participation. She received National AFJROTC Awards for her positive attitudes in many aspects. I am proud to have been her instructor for the past four years, and I witnessed her growth and maturity. I wish her nothing but the best in all her future endeavors.

It has been an honor to teach and coach such a wonderful girl like Leanne for the past four years. She is not only academically gifted but is an extremely talented cheerleader as well. She gives 110% at all times in everything she does. She inspires people every single day with her dedication and huge heart. I will miss her tremendously and wish her the best of luck always!

Underclassmen While every year, West works to make a memorable year for its Seniors, the Underclassmen are the heart and soul of the institution. They have the promise and drive to create a lasting legacy at the school. They are the rising stars of all the sports teams, the gifted musicians and thespians who are rising to get the leads in all of their endeavors, and the academics who will become the brains of the school. The Underclassmen are like the younger children in a family full of transition. It is exciting to watch them grow into their identities throughout their four years at Cherry Hill High School West.

Tess Banecker is inducted into the National Honor Society.

Charlene Coley, Monique Hammond, Jasmin Richardson, Krizza Farinas, Siobhan King, and Brian Medley enjoy an afternoon of sunshine outside of the cafeteria.

Sophomore Cotillion | Jalena O'Leary gets into the groove at the annual event, held this year at The Marian House. The event was a fun preview of amazing things on the horizon for our upcoming juniors.

Jeannine Lesniak and Matt Fanuka take a short break before switching classes.

Casey Dandridge and Jah-Meir Lewis are super excited about heading to their next class.

Senior Spirit Every year, Cherry Hill High School West watches another class of Seniors graduate and continue on their paths to lead great and exciting lives. It is truly a bittersweet farewell as the educators reflect on the students’ time here. They’ve grown up so quickly over the four year period they spent together. The class of 2011 has some very special personalities, all of which define the class as an exciting and visionary one. There is no doubt that as the Class of 2011 takes its first steps into the real world, they will do great things and bring sheer pride to their nurturing and special alma mater.

Robert Frost wrote, "Education is the ability to listen to almost anything without losing your temper or your self-confidence." Oh my goal was this right? My four years at West have been an exercise in academic self-control. The critics of many have taught me that the teacher is always right... even when they aren't. I've bombarded my fair share of tests and pulled an all-nighter or two, all in the name of academia and procrastination. Julies aside, high school will forever be engrained in my mind and remembered in my heart. The friends I've made here are lifelong. I'm not the same guy I was in junior form this girl. I can confide in even when we haven't talked for ages, the Ginge I've spent so long with, my Panama boy who's made me feel happy, and the Troopers who've pushed my limits of morality and even those who I've grown apart from who helped me mature into the person I am today. The memories are beautiful, and I love every last one. High school isn't about a rank, or the highest GPA, it's about the memories. It's an amalgamation of the many great things life has to offer. If I must leave a bit of advice for my friends in the years to come, it would be this: Regret nothing because all is volatile. Regrets fester and run things. Truly, if you live how you want to, and work to the best of your capabilities, there's nothing better you can expect of yourself. Take pride in your endeavors, and greatness will follow. I've worked hard, and I am proud of our graduating class. I wish you all the best of luck.

Aubrey Stueven

These past four years, I don't know where to begin. The days have been enjoyable, thanks to people like Mr. Yont, Mrs. Savage, Mr. Hart, Mr. O'Donnell, Mr. Feld, and every other extraordinary teacher. I have crossed paths with the nights have been long, but the habitual lack of sleep gained me the two best homework buddies. I could've never asked for Connor O'Brien and Jimmy Fallon. I wish I had something insightful to add here, but all I want to do right now is thank my family, friends, and extended family of friends for seeing me through this. Thanks to them, as Lester Burnham said, "I can't feel anything but gratitude for every single moment of my stupid little life." I'm not sure if I'm supposed to have something inspirational to end this, so I'll just leave here the most useful advice I've ever gotten: straight from Coca-Cola's mouth, "Nobody in the world gets exactly what they thought they were going to get. But if you work really hard and you've kind of, amazing things will happen.

I wish you all a long and happy life, and my apologies for all the clichés; everything original I want to say already sounds like it's been done before.

Christopher Poresky

I could tell you that I loved purple, but I know for a fact it's more of a red. Trust me, I still have spirit, though, because I spent my high school years at Cherry Hill High School West. Choices are what YOUR high school years here too. Let's reminisce together. Remember that time there were a bunch of people just standing around in the ramp to F-wing and we wanted to walk past them? I'm glad we can share that memory. There was also that time Mr. Meleskio wore the best pants that the world has ever seen. But in all seriousness, we all have some of our most valuable memories from West. We've spent all of our time here for four years, I went home to sleep, but I came to school to do everything else. I loved friendships at West that will continue on forever, mostly because I made really strong friends. I let my hammer fall on teachers, too, sharing music and laughter with some of the most intelligent and open-minded people I've ever met. High school is the place where people change. High school is the place where people mature, discover themselves. Blossom, I'm a beautiful flower and I didn't get that way on my own. I was watered by Cherry Hill West. My teachers, my friends, my challenges, and my mentorship all helped me become what I am today. I didn't think I could have grown this way at another school. I have purple petals. Pick them off and I am not myself.

Samantha Farkas

Thomas Jefferson wrote, "A mind always employed is always happy," and two hundred years later, that statement holds true. In four years, West never allowed the mind to slip into idleness. And then, happiness never departed. No matter how foreboding a Monday morning may have seemed, there was and continues to be a sense of pride accomplishment, and joy when one steps into the school. West has become our second home, our teachers and friends a second family. We have struggled together, we have triumphed together. We still have the golden beach, we have grown together, lasting bonds that will last all our lives. Whether we realize it or not, our experiences at West—the friends we made, the things we learned, the adventures we had—have shaped us into the young men and women we are today.

The goodbys are bitter sweet, but we cannot dwell on our departure. Our lives may take us in different directions, but the farewell is hardly final. For wherever we go, the memories will never fade. Besides, as Jefferson said, "I like the dreams of future better than the history of the past." And thanks to West, that future looks bright.
Congratulations to our graduating RAMPANT staff members:

Congratulations to all West Athletes in the graduating class of 2011! Thank you for all of you dedication and hard work in making the Cherry Hill West Lions roar as loud as possible throughout the past four years. You've set records and won championships, but most importantly you've created memories that will last forever in your hearts.

Sincerely,
Dr. Kosloff, Vice Principal and Athletic Director
Mr. Laird, Athletic Trainer
Mrs. Savill, Administrative Assistant to Dr. Kosloff and all of your honored coaches

Schnooks,
Your smile has lit our lives for 18 years. It arrived almost at the moment you did, from the moment Daddy first held you. We are so proud of you and so happy for the light you shine on us and those you hold dear. Upward and onward into the next phase of your life with our love, blessings, and joy at the beautiful woman you have become. Only one question remains.......What will we do with all of the "hoodies"?

Love,
Mom & Dad
Dear G,

Sometimes you just have one of those days—and sometimes you have one of those weeks, months, and maybe even years. Yeah, totally been there.

You’re going to make it… and you’ll have my love and prayers with you all the way.

Always remember:

He who began a good work in you will carry it on to completion. PHILIPPIANS 1:6 NIV

I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me. Philippians 4:13 NKJV

I am proud of your accomplishments.

Love you now and forever,

Mom
