Foreword

To the Class of 1964:
Quietly, now.
Ask, "What am I?"
The shadowy labyrinth of man's inner-self is a vast rainfall of conflict. The process of maturation implies a facing of that inner-self which includes a sensitivity to the struggle between the ideal and the real.
To function in society, one must postulate individual commitments to values which will insure integrity and provide a valid basis for self-respect.
Remnant '64 is not intended to offer platitudes. It is a superficial synthesis of four years and five hundred faces. It cannot mirror all that has happened to you. Ponder the subtle changes. Gaze upon the panoply of your experiences and make a judgment.
So exit from this place,
find an empty corner of the world,
and ask, "What am I?"

It has been my privilege to witness the inception and development of the Class of 1964. You have functioned commendably, especially during your Senior year, when excess student enrollment demanded strong leadership from your class.

You have been provided with many opportunities to learn and to fulfill your intellectual and creative potential. Actually, these opportunities are ever-present in life. It is my hope that you will continue to exploit them.
The guidance services of Cherry Hill High School are organized to aid the student, through educational and vocational placement, in detecting and cultivating individual interests. By means of personal and group contact, the pupil is exposed to the information which will facilitate the task of living a fulfilling life.

Election to the Hall of Fame is the highest distinction that Cherry Hill High School confers on its most outstanding students. Instituted in 1961, this honor is bestowed for excellence in all areas of school life.

This year, the faculty and the student body combined efforts to foster new methods of selection and presentation. Essays were written, debates scheduled; all designated to clarify the Hall of Fame process. A point system emerged. Ratings for candidates were determined in the four following categories: scholarship, service, sports and popularity; hence, those who received this award were selected objectively.

The RAMPANT staff, together with the faculty and the student body, offers its congratulations to these twelve people for their distinguished records at Cherry Hill High School.

THOMAS MAY
CLARE McWILLIAMS
JAMES NAUGHTON
CARTER NEWTON

JUDITH OAKLEY
ROBERT RITTER
DAVID THOMPSON
STUART WEINER
STUART WEINER

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

JUDITH OAKLEY

These people are certain to succeed. Their teachers say they're able. Their parents say they're dependable. Their friends say they're capable. But we know better.

HOWARD SIEGEL

CLASS INTELLECTUALS

ANDREA DWORIN

Intellectuals know many big words. They've read all the Great Books—twice yet. They know all the answers; Last week an English teacher chided one He'd forgotten how to spell his name.

ROBERT DARRIN

CLASS WITS

GAYLE WYCKOFF

These are clever people. They're very funny. When your cards come out They laugh and laugh and laugh.
CARTER NEWTON  BEST ALL-AROUND  CANDACE KERR

All-around people are everywhere
They belong to many school organizations
Some of which are hard to find
It is unfortunate that all of them will not graduate
They forgot to attend classes.

ROBERT MORRIS  MOST CREATIVE  MARY BETH CALLAGHAN

Creative people are misunderstood
They wear dirty turtlenecks and torn sweatshirts.
Society considers them "different."
No one understands their needs—
Only the people who make Dial soap.

WHO'S WHO

THOMAS MAY  BEST ATHLETES  BETTIE GARWOOD

Athletes are very agile
They also are very muscular
Boys respect their prowess
Girls admire their physiques.
All envy the scholarships the athletes receive at graduation.
GARY DAVIS  MOST SCHOOL-SPIRITED  PAMELA GRIMAC

School-spirited people are full of energy
They yell "Go, team, go!"
The crowd shouts "Go, go, go!"
To the school-spirited people.
They want to watch the game in peace.

ROBERT D'AMORE  BEST DRESSED  JOANNE LUESSEN

Aren't these best-dressed people pretty?
You'd think their clothes were from Bonwits' and Jacob Reeds'.
Such impeccable tastes, I thought, would demand the highest in fashion;
I met them shopping recently
In Robert Hall's and Gimbels' Bargain Basement.

PAUL GRUBB  MOST FRIENDLY  PHYLLIS CONTE

Friendly people are nice to have around
They make one feel warm and cozy.
Sometimes they are friendly because they want something.
When people are "most friendly"
You KNOW they want something.

VINCENT HOWARD  MOST SHY  DAWN HOLLAND

Shy people are hard to know
They are sometimes lonely
This makes them very sad
Next time you see one, say hello.
It will give you a good feeling.

The primary aim of an academic program is an intellectual one. Curriculum is determined, a staff is secured, and facilities are provided to encourage intellectual growth. This growth evolves from the interaction of these factors and the young minds which people the corridors of a school. It may be passive or it can be volatile. The best learning experiences take place when teacher and student actively confront ideas and together explore possibilities in an environment which respects dissent and permits reasonable controversy.

Education makes free men. A free man is characterized by his voluntary acceptance of discipline and law. He is able to sustain high standards of thought; he respects those attributes which define a man and thus expands the dimensions of his character. Therefore, although liberal education deals specifically with intellect, it has moral implications.

The discipline of reason is that faculty of man which makes him able to reduce a confusion of impressions and to establish solid intellectual relations. Participation in one of the highest activities of man—the study of the sciences and the arts—will cause the student to develop a mature and independent mind. In order for that discipline to have strong effect, the learning process requires freedom and latitude for growth. Learning is a mixture of rigorous thinking and active creativity. It is essential that a curriculum encourage individual differences and place great emphasis on the ability to think.

Exposure to diverse ideas can breed conflict. If approached with integrity, it requires one to evaluate the foundations of life and belief. Often, it precipitates a rejection of accepted concepts.

It is the responsibility of an educational institution, in order to be true to itself, to acknowledge that genuine learning produces change and that intellectual endeavor possesses its own values. An expression of policy in the self-study report of a liberal arts college demonstrates the importance of that responsibility:

The freedom necessary for learning... can be a very painful freedom. Diverse opinions or faiths cannot simply be substituted for each other; nor can a free society, without imperiling its existence, adopt the tempting alternative of spoon-feeding its youth with officially approved opinions.

For the building and sustenance of a vital and vigorous intellectual program in a school, dissent must be supported and change must be accepted. Mediocrity is to be abhorred.

We must demand commitment to ideas, and defend those commitments with our whole beings.

We must educate.
In The Classroom . . .

A class in traditional physics establishes the application of Newton's Law. Other physics classes employ the methods of the Physical Science Study Committee.

An argument about the relation of art to our society is generated in Mr. Belfield's History IV-Honors class.

Mr. Wermuth conducts an Honors German IV class backstage. The fourth year of language courses takes the form of seminar discussions of literature.

Richard Worthington presents an analysis of current events to senior American History students. Mr. Ellis looks dubious.
A chemistry laboratory session enables Mr. Primi-ano's students to investigate the properties of hydrogen by making the gas and administering tests to identify it.

Teacher lectures and student reports are common vehicles for the transmission of knowledge. Mr. Ainspach discusses for his European history students ideological extremism in reference to the Jacobin movetment of the French Revolution. Sharon O'Hara gives a talk to Mr. Fleming and his English IV-Honors class on the "Exeter Book," a collection of bawdy Early English poetry. Both classes exploit the relationship between the past and the present by making the student cognizant of his heritage.

Language laboratory facilities enable the student to increase verbal proficiency. Miss Brod, looking somewhat confused by the instrument panel, administers a grammar drill to a French III class.

Mechanical skills are taught to students in the shop. Practical experience is gained by actual use of tools and materials.

Mr. Barclay conducts a workshop session in the band room. The music program gives the student an increased aesthetic awareness and expands his cultural background.

Mr. Chilbert asks his American History-IV class, "What has caused this?" He would not specify for publication the intent of the question.
Carefully checking a drawing, Mr. Younger speaks with students about practical problems in industrial arts.

Miss Sherlock discusses composition with her English III class.

Language students, under the direction of Mrs. Omenson, discuss a chapter in their text.

Mr. Rhea presents the question of the existence of human instincts to his sociology class, which seems to find his statement on the matter amusing.
Scholarship, leadership, character and service are the chief qualities which determine eligibility for membership in the Robert E. Hansen Chapter of the National Honor Society. Ten percent of the Senior class is inducted in the spring of their junior year, followed by the election of an additional five percent in their senior year. Membership is honorary; the society performs valuable service through its system of tutoring. The National Honor Society also sponsors a make-up room, which has proved to be of assistance to both students and teachers. Under the direction of Advisor Mr. Walter Haworth, Vice President Stuart Weiner, Vice President Carter Newton, and Secretary Clare McWilliams, both projects have been successful.

College Profile

Each year since Cherry Hill High School has been in existence, more than one-half of each graduating class has gone on to some form of higher education. Eighty per cent of the institutions attended have been colleges or universities, and 131 schools in all sections of the nation are represented.

All of those who have gone to college, of course, have not remained there. In the classes of 1960, 1961, and 1962, there were 32 dismissals or withdrawals; only 15, however, were permanent expulsions for academic reasons.

The Cherry Hill High School guidance office maintains records of all graduates. Under the direction of Mr. Robert Ferris, Mr. Isadore Osherow, and Mr. Arthur Morgan, the department conducts each year an extensive analysis of each graduating class and updates its information on the activities of members of previous graduating classes.
Scholastic Clubs

At Cherry Hill High School, a variety of extra-curricular activities supplement and intensify academic areas initiated in the classroom. Designed for further education or just enjoyment, these clubs explore wide areas of student interest. Students sharing similar interests find club membership brings not only new ideas but new friends.

The numerous language clubs bring the cultural heritage of foreign lands to the students. And who can deny the fun of the Spanish Fiesta or Latin Banquet!

Satisfying interest in science, the Advanced Biology Club and the Ars Medica Club welcome members who expect to follow careers in these fields. The latest scientific news is always available.

Both the Future Teachers and the Future Business Leaders of America provide information for those who want to know more about their future occupations.

All clubs are sponsored by a faculty member who is actively involved in the organization. For the most part, these activities are governed by the students themselves. They ratify constitutions, determine agenda and decide the location of outings or field trips. Through this flexible system, ideas are profitably exchanged between the students and faculty.

The organizations in our school not only have stimulated education but also have contributed to the physical betterment of the school. Toy drives, bake sales, and car washing provide not only club funds but scholarships to fellow students.

Widespread membership in extracurricular activities indicates their impact; leadership and responsibility are developed through them. Surely, the initiative of the student body in taking part in these extracurricular activities is to be praised.
WORLD AFFAIRS CLUB

The World Affairs Club is affiliated with the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia. Among the numerous activities held to further its members' knowledge of world situations was a trip to the World's Fair. Advisor: Mr. Buckley; President: S. O'Malley; Secretary: R. Cooper; Treasurer: R. Rader.

ARCHAEOLOGY CLUB

Members of the Archaeology Club are extremely interested in unearthing and studying the fossil remains of past American life. They also study artifacts of other past civilizations. The club is sometimes referred to as King Tut Explorers. Advisor: Mr. Stark; President: R. Repp; Vice President: S. Lovett; Secretary: Treasurer: H. Myers.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

The Junior Classical League is a national organization established in 1936 to encourage among young people an interest in and an appreciation of the civilization, language, literature, and art of ancient Greece and Rome. Advisor: Dr. Fischer; Consul: J. Strada; Proconsuls: S. Lewis and C. Kerr; Quaestor: T. Landburg; Scriba: C. McWilliams.
First-year biology students learn more about this science by observing films and participating in discussions. Advisor: Mr. Strange; President: J. Sala; Vice President: T. Stevenson; Secretary: N. Teare; Treasurer: M. Sperti.

ARS MEDICA

Ars Medica, composed of students who plan to enter the field of medicine, presented informative films and heard guest lecturers from the medical profession. Advisor: Mrs. Kassis; President: A. Josselson; Secretary: N. Baum; Treasurer: M. Cohen.

ADVANCED BIOLOGY CLUB

The Advanced Biology Club is an answer to requests for a third-year biology course. Its members not only work on interesting projects but also take trips and enjoy an annual picnic. Advisor: Mr. Rubinstein; President: T. Davis; Vice President: S. Weiner; Secretary: L. DeBarth; Treasurer: G. Smith.
ENGINEERING CLUB

The Engineering Club, open to both girls and boys, functions to interest students in all phases of engineering through individual projects, group efforts, and field trips to leading research centers in the area. Advisor, Mr. Cole; President, K. Gerber; Vice President, J. Lunkheimer; Secretary-Treasurer, D. Glazer.

DEBATING CLUB

The Debating Team competes with groups representing eleven other high schools in the South Jersey area. It has ranked, each year, among the top three in its League. Advisor, Mr. McCallum; President, R. Cozen; Vice President, D. Mitchell; Secretary, J. Shapiro; Treasurer, M. Turk.

POETRY CLUB

The Poetry Club studied this year the platonic, thomistic, and existentialist theories of the aesthetic. Poets read included Dylan Thomas, Ezra Pound, T. S. Eliot, Federico Garcia Lorca, Allen Ginsberg, and several oriental religious imagists. Advisors, Mr. Fleming and Mr. Gilmore.
FRENCH CLUB

The French Club was established to introduce students in France and its culture. This is achieved through films, and occasional guest speakers and dinner parties with the annual French dinner. The officers are: President, Miss Brod; Secretary, Miss Weiss; Treasurer, Miss Gardner.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club meets to discuss current topics of interest. All members are eligible to participate in the Pennsylvania Dutch atmosphere. The officers are: President, Mr. Wernikh, Jr.; Secretary, Miss V. Yarish; Treasurer, Mr. B. Friedrichs; Corresponding Secretary, Miss J. Hahn; Recording Secretary, Mr. T. Schellenger; Treasurer, Mr. B. Simms.

LATIN CLUB

Duplicating the ancient feasts in menus, entertainment and dress, the Latin Banquet is the highlight of the year. Members of this club study throughout the year the history of Rome and her territories. The officers are: President, Mr. L. Fischer; Vice President, Mr. R. Broome; Secretary, Mr. B. Chapin; Treasurer, Mr. A. Thurmy, Treasurer, Mr. M. Frankel.
SPANISH CLUB

The purposes of the Spanish Club are to further members' appreciation of the language and to inform them of Hispanic customs. One of the club's achievements is its annual Spanish Fiesta. Advisors, Mrs. J. Katz; President, J. Badia; Vice President, P. Oritt; Secretary-Treasurer, M. Levi.

RUSSIAN CLUB

The Russian Club was formed by students interested in obtaining a background in Russian history and literature. They also study modern Russia's cultural contributions to our civilization. Advisor, Mr. Butter; President, M. Levi; Vice President, S. La Bove.

GREEK CLUB

Students interested in learning the fundamentals of Greek vocabulary and grammar comprise the Greek Club. Members also discuss the basic concepts of Greek philosophy. Advisor, Dr. Fischer.
ACCOUNTING CLUB

The Accounting Club is comprised of students who are planning a career in business and wish to obtain information concerning job opportunities in the fields of bookkeeping and accounting. Advisor: L. Kruk, President: D. Jordan, Vice President: M. Kiggins and M. Weiss, Treasurer: J. Wilson.

RADIO CLUB

The oldest club at Cherry Hill High School, Amateur Radio Station W2MBC, licensed by the F.C.C. in 1957, has become one of the largest high school radio clubs in the nation and the only one in the East that can boast its own telegraph key. Adviser: Mr. Max; President: J. Inacker; Vice President: D. Toronio; Secretary-Treasurer: A. Grossman.

MATHEMATICS CLUB

The purpose of the Mathematics Club is to prepare its members for the mathematics test administered at Rutgers annually. Since this test is for high school juniors, members of that class dominate this club. Advisor: Mr. Elder; President: M. Turk; Vice President: L. Lanning; Secretary: A. Kaput; Treasurer: S. Gibson.
Lotus Blossom dances before an admiring audience of Tobiki villagers.

The weekend of March 8 and 9 saw the presentation of the Junior Class Play, Teahouse of the August Moon. A smash hit on Broadway, 'Teahouse' repeated its success at Cherry Hill High School. Playing to capacity crowds both nights, this riotous comedy kept the audience and the actors laughing until the final curtain.

Under the direction of Mrs. Vera Chambers, the actors quickly learned to use such exotic props as kimonas, getas and a "prefabricated" teahouse.

The cast will long recall such memorable events as forgotten lines, stage fright, and Lt. McLean's dissertation on worms. Weeks of hard work were amply rewarded by enthusiastic audience reaction.

Variety Show

The 1964 Variety Show was not only the most successful but also the most diverse. Ranging from an "out of this world" moon scene to a homespun fun Hootenanny Act, the show highlighted student talent. Starring members of all classes, the show drew capacity crowds on both January 31 and February 1.

Over 200 students participated in this year's twenty-act show. The tremendous applause of the audience, and on Saturday night, the three curtain calls illustrates the caliber of entertainment.

Through the efforts of Mr. William D. Burley and his able stage crew, the various acts such as the show band, jazz combo, and the modern dancers combined to produce a thoroughly enjoyable and entertaining evening.

Art Club

The Senior Art Circle consisting of S. Beadock, D. Holland, M. Callaghan, J. Tuckerman, B. Zacherle and Mrs. Hansen plans something new.

Mrs. Hansen and officers V. Nicolo, L. Goldner, S. Gibson and M. Mascher supervise the many projects that the club directs. This year's activities include a clothesline art exhibit and an excursion to Washington, D.C.
The major accomplishment of the Senior Art Circle was the art exhibit held in the school library at the end of January. This was the first time that a student exhibition had been held in Cherry Hill High School. All of the pieces were original works done entirely by the students. Contributing artists were the following: Bill Birch, Sarah Beadcock, Mary Beth Calleighan, Joe Deane, Kathy Godard, Ellen Grassman, Dawn Holland, Sue Knoll, Maureen Loring, Joanne Luessen, Vincent Nico, Bonne Seemiller and Linda Spitzer.

Clotheslines were hung in the library and the art hung with clothespins; it lent added atmosphere to the shelves of books. The entire school was invited to view works ranging through every media and subject: life drawings, still life, portraits, landscapes and ceramic pieces. Since the exhibit was so popular with the student body, the Art Circle plans to sponsor several more in the future. Undoubtedly, this exhibition will be only the first of many such displays for our talented Cherry Hill artists.

Mrs. Hansen, instructor for students majoring in art, discussed and viewed the work of her senior students, Jean Tuckerman and Mary Beth Calleighan.
Mr. Ralph Barclay directs the Vocal Music department of Cherry Hill High School. His organizations include chorus, choir, and various smaller singing groups.

Joellyn Rich and Richard Marsh represent Cherry Hill High School in the All-State Chorus and participate in several concerts throughout the state.

Majorettes

Drum major/Color Guard - Judy Oakley.

As Director of Instrumental Music, Mr. William Burley works not only with the Band, but also with the Show Band, Brass Choir, Majorettes, and Color Guard. His creative talents are apparent during half-time shows at football games and at various instrumental performances throughout the school year.

Also providing entertainment at half-time are Betty DiEva and Nancy King, co-captains of the Majorette squad.

Cherry Hill High School boasts one of the largest bands in South Jersey and, at the same time, one of the best. With over one hundred members and swelled even larger by the majorettes and color guard, the Band impressively displays its formations and makes music at half-time shows during the football season. With its big sound and big look, the Band has won the admiration of many neighboring schools and continually strives to improve its image.

Once football season has ended, the Band, directed by Mr. Burley, turns to concert music. Various classical and popular numbers are perfected for exchange concerts and the Spring Music Festival. Sections of the Concert Band form smaller groups, such as the Show Band, which performs in the Variety Show. The Band year culminates at graduation exercises.

Providing enthusiasm and school spirit, the Cherry Hill High School Band is truly an important asset to the school.
The Color Guard performs at football games and carries the standards of the United States, Cherry Hill High School, and the Band.

Carol Wood
Under the direction of the faculty supervisor, Mrs. Hayes, the Lion's Roar reports the school news to the student body. There are also special features which include editorials, fashions, and alumni news. The publication of the paper this year was under the student supervision of co-editors Stuart Weiner and Judy Oakley. But it would never have been printed without the help of the other editors, reporters, typists, and writers who contributed much hard work in order to meet the deadlines.

Mrs. Hayes points out the techniques of organizing a newspaper to Myra Honigman.

Behind the scenes with the business staff.

The staff looks for new ideas.
Providing an outlet for the creative, literary and artistic talents of students, Aspects, the literary magazine, was initiated in the Spring of last year. Published in mimeographed form at first, the magazine, supported by student subscription, was printed this year in two issues.

Editor Sharon Gibson, assistant editor Debbie Hecker, literary editor Andrew Kapust, art editor Linda Sefcik and business manager Lois Spector, responsibly effected the development of the magazine. The magazine consists of prose and poetry created by students as well as art.

FOOTBALL

A charging Cherry Hill lion, John Watts, moves forward to gain important yardage in the victory over Camden High School.

Varsity Football

With confidence in the adept running of highscorer John Watts, the sturdy stance and sure foot of Tom May, and the unmistakable arm of Rick Emerick, this year's football team had an excellent season.

Living up to a reputation of being a "second-half team," Head Coach Les Zetty's gridmen saved several games with valiant late efforts to earn a 5-4 log.

Both Woodrow Wilson and Camden High School bowed as a result of excellent last quarter play. The Lions had a tremendous last quarter at Bridgeton but could not quite make up the halftime deficit. Vineland and Pennsauken were mastered by our Lions who met defeat at Atlantic City, Lenape, and Princeton.

The season was highlighted by our first home football game, a victory over Bishop Eustace. By next season, Cherry Hill will have its own field where more home games may be scheduled.

Eleven CHHS gridmen huddle to plan their next offensive.

Basketball

Although they were far from the tallest team in the league, the Lions leaned large in the eyes of their opponents. Capturing the Group IV title for the second straight year, Coach Monska's charges suffered only one defeat on their home court.

Seniors Bill DeAngelis, Myron Whitlock, and Jerry Hankin brought experience and dependability to a team which had other indispensable starters in Mike Wilkes, Bill Lovett and Bob Cole. These men kept the basket hot with victories over most of the best teams in the area. Camden and Bishop Eustace fell before their efforts as did Vineland, Bridgeton, Atlantic City, Pennsauken, and other rivals.

Varsity

Rapidly developing as a major varsity sport at Cherry Hill, wrestling attracted more fans this year than ever before. Rarely were they disappointed by Coach Alexander Neiman's wrestlers.

The team was especially strong in the heavier weight classes. Many opponents were pinned by Tom May, who added another laurel to his already outstanding athletic career. Joe Murray set a new school record of nine pins in one season.

Coach George Rhea, the Cherry Hill Boys' Swimming Team, was at the helm as the most successful season in the club's history began. Many team members were involved in establishing new league records this year. Both the medley relay and freestyle relay records were broken by Cherry Hill's quartet composed of swimmers Howard, Cassidy, Bennett, Lyons, Newton, and Adamson. Tom Cassidy established individual freestyle records while Cliff Lyons posted a new mark in the 100-yard butterfly event.

The Cherry Hill swimmers were the top-finishing team in Division II, breaking their own record by winning the Eastern Championship Swimming Meet at Lawrenceville.

Under the experienced and capable direction of Coach George Rhea, the Cherry Hill Boys Swimming Team stroked its way to its most successful season. Still other young swimmers, the team proved it had "come of age" when it accomplished the long-awaited dunking of archrival Moorestown. This exciting meet snapped Moorestown's streak of 63 consecutive victories. Among the victors were St. Joseph's Preparatory School, Atlantic City High School, and Sandy Spring Boys' School. The Cherry Hill swimmers were represented in the Eastern Championship Swimming Meet at Lawrenceville.

Paid Well at least it won't be a belly flop.

Anticipating the line-up for next year's team, Coach Rhea and Captains Cassidy and Howard look over the J.V.'s. On the diving board are B. Feuerhovell, J. Johnson, S. Sweet, S. Gibson, J. Player, B. Santini, L. Butler, and D. Zinger.

Despite limited facilities, Head Coach Joe Chilbert's track and field squad rolled up another impressive season. The team counted heavily on the speed of Roger Hornuff, Adrian Sweeney and Richard Hjorth, on the springy legs of Ralph Lotkin, and on the strong arms of Jerry Hankin and Carter Newton.

Beginning work in March, these Lions continued their grueling practice schedule almost until the last day of school. Their long hours of work led to attainment of the number two spot in both South Jersey Group IV and Camden County competition.

Another of Cherry Hill High's relatively new varsity sports is the boys' bowling squad, a recent offspring of the intramural teams. This year Coach Richard Oliver led the team to a league championship. Captained by Mike Saltzburg and bolstered by the skills of Karl Crandall and other stalwarts, the team defeated every opponent but one.

Although there is no organized girls' South Jersey Bowling League, our girls sometimes have matches with other schools. They have fared well in most of them.
Harry Gilbert exerts a final burst of speed in order to reach home plate before the catcher gets the ball.
With a well-balanced team, the Lion's Nine, in their fourth year of varsity competition, enjoyed another "better than .500" season. Guided from the bench by Head Coach George Gerstle, the team routed such formidable opponents as Bishop Eustace, Bridgeton, and Camden. When on a rare occasion, batters hit the pitching of Ed Bickel or Mike Saltzburg, quick gloved Ken Dunn was sure to keep it in the infield. A ball in the air, however, might be hauled in eventually by outfielder Tom May. The Lions were strong at the plate also, relying on the power of Bud Craft, Harry Gilbert, Ed Bickel, and others to keep opposing outfielders on the run.

Back for the catch!

Although they had great difficulty in securing practice courts, Cherry Hill’s netmen had a creditable season, boasting 12 wins against only 5 losses. Collingswood, Pennsauken, Bridgeton, and Mt. Holly found their measure, but all other opponents fell before them.

Dave Thompson, a senior, led the team which was composed primarily of juniors and sophomores.

Golf

Darn, right into the sand trap!

Formed first in 1961, the golf team enjoyed a successful third season. Under Coach Hayes, seniors Fred Gangloff, Steve Brown, and Ken Parlini helped lead the team to easy triumphs over Camden, Collingswood, and Woodrow Wilson. Our linksmen captured third place in the Southern Division of the South Jersey Interscholastic Golf League. “Speak softly, and carry a big stick” is their motto.

Adding pep and spirit to school sports events, the C.H.S. cheerleaders are kept busy with a schedule of football and basketball games. The precision squad, led by co-captains Pam Grimac and Bonnie Seemuller, added a wrestling match to their season of cheering which extended from September of 1963 through March, 1964. In order to achieve a good performance, the girls worked many hours after school under the direction and assistance of Mrs. Ann Hagan.

Mascot Margaret, a week at hockey camp, and an undefeated season are three of the cherished memories of the 1963 Hockey Team.

Hard work and earnest determination gave the girls a 5-0-3 season and the honor of being the only girls' varsity sport in the school's history to have an unmarred record.

Although eight seniors will vacate the field this year, a strong J.V. and freshman unit will keep hopes alive for another undefeated season.

The laurels of Claire Schultheis and Rose Wagner will be passed to juniors Tara Kast and Joyce Wilson. Coaches Sue Bell and Peg Conroy sum it up when they say, "an aggressive offense and a strong defense, plus undiminishing spirit and pluck were key factors in the team's success. We have high hopes for next year."

...so I sez to him...
The girls' basketball team, under the direction of Miss Lynn Brown and Mrs. Judy Wurster, bucked its way to a 10-2 season.

Placing third in the Delaware Valley Girls' Basketball League, the Lionettes' squad, composed mostly of underclassmen, was captained by Tara Kost and Bonnie Zacherle. It achieved a new record by scoring 61 points against Pennsauken.

Swimming

Oh, no! They forgot to fill the pool!

“Swimmers, take your mark! Go!,” started the Cherry Hill mermaids splashing to victory in the opening meets of the season against Lenape and Merchantville.

Co-captains Candy Kerr and Maryellen Morrison, juniors Sue Howard and Sue Holden, and sophomore Kappy Wells ably led the team. Junior diver, Diane Young once again had the chance to display her excellent ability and form. Managers were Sandy Marshall and Sue Mester.

This looks as though it might hurt!

Under the coaching of Mrs. Patricie Haughey and Miss Lynn McNitt, the girls played host this year to two new members in the Group IV league—Lenape and Pennsauken. The team had a total of six meets plus Interscholastics and the Group Meet at the end of the season.

Lacrosse

Winning seasons have been common in Lacrosse and this year is no exception. The six-game schedule resulted in 4 wins and 2 losses. A total of 49 goals were scored by Cherry Hill while fifteen under the tutelage of varsity and junior varsity coach, Miss Sue Bell, the team succeeded especially through the efforts of seniors, Bonnie Zacharle, Joanne Dubois, Jean Tuckerman, and Jerry Wolf. The junior varsity squad earned an impressive 5-1 record through the combined efforts of Betsy Caston, Diane Kalmans, Ellen Grassman, Carol Wood, and Joan Scullen.

A 5-3 record was posted by the 1963 girls' softball team. Head Coach, Miss Capano, worked with a varsity squad composed of many returning letter-wearers to achieve a winning season. Bettie Garwood and Julie Strada were standouts on the bases.

Miss Lynn Brown coached the junior varsity which also had a successful record.

Junior Class

The spirit of the Class of 1965 is exemplified by the enthusiasm with which it has initiated projects such as the "Look-Alike" button, "Operation Lion's Face," a class newspaper, and a candy sale. Competent class officers, an active Executive Council, and the efforts of Mr. Riley insured the success of the class in the co-production of Bye, Bye, Birdie and in the Junior Prom, "Moonlight and Roses," and bring the promise of a most rewarding experience for all class members as Seniors in the year to come.

The Sophomore Class, led by its officers, executive council, and advisor, Mr. Williams, sponsored such successful activities as the Sophomore Dance, "Enchanted Winter," which boasted a sleigh, giant snowman, and even "snow," and the sale of programs at basketball games. These ventures plus participation in other school functions, have provided the members of the Class of 1966 with the experience necessary to assume the responsibility of becoming "upper-classmen" next year.

Freshman Class

Commencing a four year span at Cherry Hill High School, the Freshmen have rapidly become an integral part of the school community. Besides participating in many general activities, they have held a successful dance, "Autumn Festival."

With the aid of skillful class officers and their advisor, Mr. Ellis, the Class of 1967 looks forward to fruitful years at Cherry Hill High School.

FIRST ROW (l. to r.): J. Gordon, Secretary; J. Medgebow, Vice President; Mr. Ellis, Advisor; D. Grubb, President; J. Mahaffey, Treasurer. SECOND ROW: P. Flannagan, P. Endo, S. Feitly, P. Nerdona. M. Cooper, B. Brush, S. Lis, B. Roberts. THIRD ROW: S. Sopher, K. Kraner, S. Fenwick, P. Wilson, T. Hilsin, E. Jones, P. Tucironi.
The Queen and her court: D. Madden, N. Lyon, B. Gardner, M. Bernhausen, P. Wallace, M. Butler, C. Kerr.

Moonlight on Cherry Court
Junior Prom

For the second year, the Junior Prom was held at the Cherry Hill Mall through the courtesy and cooperation of its merchants. May 24, 1963, found juniors dancing to the music of Johnny Austin in a tropical environment which blended perfectly with the theme, Moonlight Safari.

Adding to the elegant atmosphere were the receiving line, the Grand March, the crowning of the Prom Queen, Deeann Madden, and the presentation of members of her court.

Prelude to a memorable evening.

Student Council dance committee (l. to r.): J. Gardner, J. Harrison, S. DuBell, C. Peters, D. Hooper.

The voice of the student body of Cherry Hill High School is heard through the Student Council. The Council provides the school with democratic student government and a means of self-regulation, serving further as a link between the student body as a whole and the faculty and administration. Work is accomplished in weekly meetings attended by elected homeroom representatives and in committee gatherings.

Mr. George Rhea, as Student Council advisor, aids the officers—Stuart Weiner, President; Susan Du Bell, Vice President; Carol Peters, Secretary; and Marcie Ruttenberg, Treasurer—in the supervision of Council meetings and activities such as the sale of activity cards and the holding of various dances throughout the school year.

The publication of a yearbook involves much more than page layouts and body copy. In order to be an accurate record of a class, it must embody the total spirit of the school. In the 1964 Rampant we have utilized a maximum of student talent; the writing, photography, and art are all contributions of Cherry Hill High School students. Departing from past custom, underclassmen have been actively involved in all phases of the yearbook production; hence the yearbook is a journal of all classes and all students.

Rampant 1964 is the culmination of many new ideas. The theme, epic literature, was selected not only for its artistic merit, but also because it represents the universality for which the book strives. Realizing that the primary task of a school is education, the staff initiated a scholastic section. Combining this with sections on sports, social and service activities, underclassmen, the faculty and administration, and, of course, the Class of 1964, we have endeavored to represent the significant moments in the history of our class and in the past four years at Cherry Hill High School.
