Many of us first came to know and appreciate Mrs. Gail Ruediger when we were freshmen or sophomores. Her enthusiasm for and knowledge of literature made English come alive! This feeling of liveliness was never confined solely to her classroom, as we learned in our junior year.

Mrs. Ruediger then became an advisor, a participant, a special friend. Her New England wit and vitality intrigued us, made us willing to help, eager to please. Through her direction of jersey sales, basketball concessions and "Three Coins in a Fountain," the spirit of '67 expanded.

Our senior year has been filled with "Moments to Remember." For us there is a Mrs. Ruediger who loves Robert Frost and coffee, inspires young students, cheers on Cherry Hill athletic teams. We know a woman we can depend upon for guidance and understanding.

In recognition of her encouragement, sincerity and warmth for our class, we dedicate the 1967 RAMPANT, the record of our high school year, to Mrs. Gail Ruediger.

To the Class of 1967:

It is with a sense of sadness that we say farewell to the Class of '67. The world outside is but a stepping stone to an era of great development for each of you individually. Behind are some of the finest memories of your life, and before you are many hard decisions and heavy responsibilities with moments of doubt and days of glory. Keep your eyes upward and ahead and know that your triumphs will be ours too. We wish you well and hope the goal you choose brings you, above all else, happiness.

CURRICULUM

Learning through participation in a kaleidoscope of classes is the primary reason students attend CHHS. Socializing, forming friendships, and understanding people are all offshoots of the flexible academic program devised to produce a graduate aware of his position in life. CHHS does not restrict students in selecting subjects, but rather emphasizes individual guidance in course scheduling.

The curriculum is constantly changing, thus adapting to the present tide of scholarly research. The Social Studies Department, emphasizing major concepts in the flow of history, compressed American History into one year of study in the junior year and will present great issues of the United States to the Seniors of next year.

Perhaps the most imaginative addition to the CHHS English program in '67 was the "communications laboratory" built by Mr. Robert Quay and his students in F-30. Equipped with a projection booth, audio-visual aids, a stage, and the "Bit of English," the students worked in an atmosphere as vibrant as the thoughts presented in the literature read.

The varied activities at CHHS this year clarified, supplemented, and added depth to ideas presented in class. Movies such as Macbeth, Julius Caesar, Wir Wunderkinder, and "Charlie Chaplin" were seen; a students' presentation of A Child's Christmas in Wales introduced many classes to Dylan Thomas; field trips to art exhibits, plays, places and firms of interest inspired many. Conventions, institutes, regional meetings broadened horizons.
This year Cherry Hill played host to visitors from Argentina; this experience was valuable for both groups involved. Through discussions—both formal and informal—we began to understand our relationship to other American nations.

Cherry Hill provides solid, academic program for its students. The courses it offers are varied and stimulating; it has activities which challenge and complement.
The Order of the Lion is an award bestowed upon those three students from each class who have earned the highest cumulative average for that academic year. Each member is awarded a gold or silver key and has his name engraved on a plaque near the main office.
NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is comprised of seventy-three members of the junior and senior classes who excel in scholarship. But academic excellence is not enough. Members are selected for outstanding leadership, character, and participation in school activities. The main services offered by this group are student tutoring and the spring lecture series which features guest speakers who discuss various subjects such as African culture or socialism. This year the group introduced a film session, the proceeds of which went to a scholarship awarded to a worthy member of the senior class.

Advisors: Miss Pauline Ziegler; Mr. Walter Haworth.
Officers: Linda Friedman, president; Steven Britz, vice-president; Batya Yavne, secretary-treasurer.

The woman's role in society was the theme of last summer's Citizenship Institute held at Douglass College. Polly Cahn and Betsy Carty attended; they were chosen on the basis of scholarship and leadership qualities. The Institute, sponsored by the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, featured prominent women such as Mary Roebling, member of the board of trustees of the Trenton National Bank.

Representing Cherry Hill at Citizenship Institute are Betsy Carty and Polly Cahn.

Delegates to Girls' State, Pat Flanagan, Ricki Gottlieb, Judy Jolie, and Kip Malick joined other New Jersey girls at Douglass College in New Brunswick last summer. The high school representatives participated in a week of planned activities which demonstrated the workings of a democratic system of government.

BOYS' STATE

Jon Garber, Ken Williams, Tom Kuhl, Marc Cooper, Harris Dobkin, Bob Plotnick, and Eric Kapust were CHHS' representatives to Boys' State.

Boys' State delegates returned from Rutgers' campus last summer with a better understanding of local and state governments. During the week of activities sponsored by the American Legion, 800 New Jersey boys set up a mock government, complete with political parties and campaign speeches. Daily lectures by such notables as Commander Keane gave the boys added insight into politics on the state level. Delegates Marc Cooper, Harris Dobkin, Jon Garber, Eric Kapust, Tom Kuhl, Bob Plotnick, Stu Sweet, and Ken Williams also welcomed the opportunity to meet boys from other parts of the state.
JR. AMS

The Junior AMS is an honorary organization which gives recognition to top ranking business students; Nancy Fanelli and Janet Gangemi are this year’s members. These girls represented Cherry Hill in the national Junior American Merchandising Society and attended the national convention where they met with superior business students from other parts of the country.

Advisors: Mrs. Dorothy Jones.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Juniors and Seniors are elected to Quill and Scroll, an honorary fraternity of high school journalists. Selection is based on the student’s rank and contribution to school publications. The advisors plan trips and seminars around the journalistic interests which members share.

Advisors: Mr. David Lefever; Miss Barbara Sherlock.

Quill and Scroll Members: Eric Keyser, Bob Blumrick, Peggy Beck, Jacqueline Williams, Barbara Dildine, Cheryl Aresault, Jon Garber.

OFFICERS' CLUB

Organized last year, the Officers Club is a group designed to provide a coordinated government for the entire student body. The class officers and officers of Student Council work together to solve problems common to all four organizations. The club framed a model constitution for class government and planned joint projects which have made student government more efficient.

Council Advisor Mrs. Joan Katz consults President Stu Sweet and Class Secretary Chris Ruth on Alumni Week plans.
STUDENT COUNCIL

Democracy, patterned after our national government, came to Cherry Hill in '67. At once, the students of CHHS found themselves aware of the new responsibility of being citizens with a powerful voice. With the passage of a new Constitution and the formation of a House of Representatives and a Senate, Stu Sweet, former Student Council President, found himself serving as an Executive head of the new student government. A cabinet and a Supreme Court of Justices promise even closer student-faculty cooperation than in the past. Those who enjoyed the innovations of this year's Council which sponsored, before its transformation, the groovy sounds of the Sleepy-Head Sock hops, the first Bonfire-Pep Rally, and the thrill of the Homecoming weekend certainly will not be disappointed with the new government. The apple machines and other successes will continue, but the student will find he has more command of CHHS. The student government of our school has become just what its name implies—an opportunity for students to govern themselves.

Student Government Advisor: Mr. Robert Riley.
Officers: Stu Sweet, president; Bob Collier, vice-president; Lois Wuerffel, secretary; Linda Zeitz, treasurer.
LANGUAGE CLUBS

As an outgrowth of classroom scholarship, the language clubs exist for those students who want to increase their skill in handling the language or to learn more about the cultural background of the country. Some clubs require members to speak the language at meetings; this practice is informal and often helpful. Cultural events such as ballets, concerts, and plays are enjoyed for academic as well as social benefits.
Many French language students belong to the French Club, for this organization affords its members an opportunity to learn more about French culture. Informal meetings are supplemented by visits to the Philadelphia Museum of Art where this year the work of noted realist, Edouard Manet, was shown. "Is Paris Burning?" was enjoyed and discussed by the club's members.

André Braunstein, Karen Miller, Mr. Harvey, Harry Sauer, Barbara Watanabe.
The Spanish Club reinforces an interest and appreciation for the Spanish language. The club got off to a vital beginning this year, when two club members who had visited Spain last summer presented a slide show, "Mexican Day." Members also enjoyed Jose Greco, the famed Spanish dancer, who performed at the Academy of Music and more delightful Spanish dancing was seen at a ballet in New York City.

Advisor: Mr. Pasquale Carlucci.
Officers: Mary Lou Bienewicz, president; Mar- gie Burrell, vice-president; Robin Jacobs, secretary; Gale Raban, treasurer.
Germany has contributed greatly to our western culture. Students who study the language congregate weekly to discuss contributions made to art, literature, music, and science. This year members saw the film, Wir Wunderkinder and heard the Vienna Boys' Choir. Plans have been made to visit the Goethe House in New York City.

Adviser: Miss A. Rohrer.
Officers: Amy-Jo Panitz, president; Robert Sefcik, vice-president; Mary Pennell, secretary; Mike Roberts, treasurer; Steve Rosen, parliamentarian.

GERMAN CLUB

By intensely studying the language, members of the Greek Club hope eventually to increase their appreciation of the classics in their original form. The club balances its academic activities with social activities: members visited the University of Pennsylvania Museum and attended theatre programs planned in conjunction with the Junior Classical League.

Advisor: Dr. Jan Fischer.
Officers: Morris Siegal, president; Richard Kaas, vice-president; Larry Dreful, secretary-treasurer.
RUSSIAN CLUB

Fast-moving music, captivating architecture, and lively, vital people . . . the Russian Club learns of these things and many more. Its members are students who have indicated a desire to increase their understanding of our relations with Russia by studying the Russian culture. The club features outside guest speakers; Mr. Fred Butter has also spoken on the history and government of Russia.

Advisor: Mr. Fred Butter.
Officers: William Landsburg, president; Ann Thomas, vice-president; Jeff Carey, secretary-treasurer.

JR. CLASSICAL LEAGUE

A Round Table: B. Dillina, L. Cares, J. Holmes, D. Kas, S. Williams, F. Venin, Dr. Jan Fischer (Advisor), M. Siegel, E. Gajilano, L. Montgomery, H. Baldyga, A. Wett.

The Junior Classical League, or JCL, is a world-wide organization which claims to have the largest enrollment of any youth group. Delving into the classical tradition, the members participate in seminars, projects and conventions. The activities of the Junior Classical League, or JCL, are often coordinated with the Latin Club and with those of the state. This year, Helen Baldyga and David Brownlee represented Cherry Hill, JCL on the state executive board.

OFFICERS: Barbara Dillina, consul; Helen Baldyga, proconsul; Elizabeth Carey, scuba; Alan Wettbergs, quaeor.

Advisor: Dr. Jan Fischer.
The influence of Roman culture on our modern world is emphasized in the Latin Club, one of Cherry Hill's largest language groups. Featuring many activities which revolve around Latin lore, the club made a field trip to the Fels Planetarium and viewed a Roman play. The Cena Romanata, an annual Roman banquet, found members in attendance garbed in ancient Roman togas. Commemorating the classic Latin tradition, students participated in Latin Week.

Advisor: Mrs. Deborah Munsey
Officers: John Holmes, co-president; Pete Doyle, vice-president; Bev Fleishman, secretary; Richard Weissman.

Many people help in making a school run efficiently. Students in the service groups assist the faculty by doing routine office work and by running errands.

Students gain insight into future careers by working in the various offices of the school. Girls interested in nursing act as the Nurses' Aides, typing and filing records for the school nurses, Mrs. Miriam Davis and Mrs. Diane Cunningham. Attendance Aides work in D-4, registering late students and distributing attendance forms.

Working in the various laboratories are students who help teachers prepare for classes. Biology Lab Aides further their interest in the life sciences while they prepare cultures for use in classroom experiments and maintain clean, efficient laboratories. Under the direction of Mr. Floyd Wermuth, Audio-Visual Aides distribute tape recorders, record players, and projectors for use by teachers. Maintenance of the physical education equipment is the responsibility of the Gym Aides, who are also in charge of lost-and-found articles in the locker rooms. Monitors are stationed in corridors throughout the school, where they maintain order among students passing to classes.

Whether registering late students, helping with the time tests, or working in the lost-and-found, students in the service groups are instrumental in the operation of the school.

PHOTO CLUB

The Photo Club services Cherry Hill publications. Despite limited equipment and small darkroom space, the club takes and processes photographs for the LIONS ROAR, RAMPANT, and township papers. School photographers cover assemblies, athletic contests, and all school social functions. At regular meetings, the amateur photographers teach fundamentals to younger members.

LIONS ROAR

Serving as a reflection of the activities and interests of a large student body, THE LIONS ROAR strives to achieve a piercing analysis of the school environment. The primary objective of the newspaper is to inform the student body of activities which have been or will be sponsored by school groups. Arousing student thought, the paper presents news articles and feature editorials which constructively evaluate CHHS and its students. As a recipient of THE COURIER POST scholarship to Blair Academy this past summer, Barbara Dildine, editor-in-chief, returned with many suggestions for improving THE LIONS ROAR. This year's staff increased the number of pages, changed the newsprint and concentrated on depth reporting. THE LIONS ROAR has vitally recorded Cherry Hill's activities this year.

Advisor: Mr. David Lefever.

ASPECTS, the school's literary magazine, serves as a means by which students' ideas in a given form, both verbally and artistically, are published. Once submitted, the literary pieces are reviewed weekly by the editorial staff. Printed bi-annually, the magazine includes selected student works in prose and poetry. An innovation this year was the inclusion of artwork pieces which often reflect or complement ideas presented in written form.

The purpose of the 1967 RAMPANT is to present an accurate and informative review of the school year while utilizing the creative abilities of the staff members. Under the leadership of Editor-in-Chief Jon Garber, the staff overcame the pressures and tensions of pictures, layouts, copy, and deadlines, in preparing our yearbook. The staff has modernized the yearbook through change. Combining the social, scholastics, and service sections into one activities section and eliminating the antiquated senior write-ups has made this year's RAMPANT much more representative of Cherry Hill High School life.

Jon Garber, Editor-in-Chief of the 1967 RAMPANT.
INTEREST CLUBS

One of the advantages of a large high school is that the range of interests is as diverse as the student body itself. Interest clubs are formed so that students having similar avocations may share ideas.

Some of these clubs provide members with a preview of their prospective careers; FTA and the Ars Medica Club are examples. Other clubs provide an outlet for individual hobbies.
Using their domestic skills, the Future Homemakers of America prepare refreshments for school dances, faculty teas, and the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet. Members participate annually in the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award contest sponsored by General Mills. This year the Cherry Hill Chapter proudly sponsored the regional meeting of the club.

Advisors: Miss Elizabeth Haywood; Mrs. Rachel Hoffman.
Officers: Nancy Hass, president; Sandy Hewitt, vice-president; Sally Kroll, secretary; Barbara Day, treasurer.

To prepare for the teaching profession, members of the Future Teachers of America Club view movies and attend panel discussions by well-known teachers. This year the club heard the experiences of an English teacher who had worked in the Peace Corps. At Christmas time the members conducted a food and toy drive for needy families in Cherry Hill, and in the spring, upperclassmen in the club teach. Each year, one senior member of the club is awarded a scholarship by the national FTA.

Advisor: Mrs. Helen Robinson.
Officers: Susan Liu, president; Karen Larson, vice-president; Carol Komak, treasurer; Elaine Haley, secretary.

FTA OFFICERS: Karen Larson, Carol Komak, Sue Liu, Elaine Haley, and Mrs. Helen Robinson, advisor.
Many Cherry Hill students plan to enter the field of medicine. The Ars Medica Club presents opportunities for these students to get a glimpse of medical theory and practice. Dr. Boris Traven, a local physician, spoke to the group. In addition to monthly meetings, field trips were taken to Hahnemann and Cherry Hill Hospitals, as well as the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania.

Advisors: Mr. Anthony Costi
Officers: Mark Tanzer, president; Gary Ruben, vice-president; Janet Hornstein, secretary-treasurer.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Members of the Biology Club hope to develop techniques necessary for advanced biological study by acquiring fundamental scientific knowledge. To achieve this, members conduct original experiments in the laboratory, preparing their own culture media and working with both organic and inorganic materials. Their use of laboratory equipment and scientific methods reinforces biological learning.

Advisors: Mr. Laurence Eikin; Mr. James Loar
Officers: Walt Jung, president; Paul Padula, vice-president; Linda Domen, secretary; David Rosenblatt, treasurer.
The Accounting Club is comprised of students who have taken courses in Bookkeeping and College Accounting. Featuring speakers who work in business fields, the club acquaints its members with business policies and procedures. High-lighting the year was a trip to IBM in Philadelphia.

Advisor: Mr. Robert Andress.

The Distributive Education Club of America provides an opportunity for business students to study and to partake of activities which will prepare them for their chosen vocations. The officers of the club were privileged to attend the State Convention sponsored by the national Distributive Education Club at Trenton State College.

Officers: Elliot Sacks, president; Linda Murphy, vice-president; Leslie Clark, secretary; Lynne Williams, treasurer.
Originated by Bill Bry, the Model Airplane Club got off the ground this year. Members discuss the mechanics of model airplane building as well as theory. Theory turns to practice when members test their planes on the field. The club hopes to merge with the National Model Airplane Club in the future.

Advisor: Mr. Willard Kenvin.

RADIO CLUB

Cherry Hill’s Radio Club, W2MBC, directs theory courses to aid interested students in obtaining the novice license for radio operating. Licensed by the F.C.C. in 1957, the club is one of the largest of its kind in the country. This spring, members joined in a national alert, during which time radio operators worked under simulated emergency conditions.

Advisor: Mr. John Suggs.

Dave Rosenblatt, John Bry, Ray Carter, and Roger Lighthowler manipulate complicated radio dials.
Mr. Fred Butter checks the progress of opening strategy.

CHESS CLUB

Chess is a game which demands skill, study, strategy, and practice. Students who enjoy the challenge of this sport meet weekly and became more proficient by competing in inter and intra school matches. Lectures and discussions on chess openings, middle game, end game, and chess problems were part of this year’s program.

Advisor: Mr. Fred Butter.
President: Henry Happ.

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

An unrestricted exchange of ideas takes place at regular meetings of the Political Science Club. By participating in debates, attending lectures, and viewing films, each member can develop a greater awareness of the tensions forming his world. This year the club featured a film on the Ku Klux Klan.

Advisor: Mrs. Jessica Kozloff.
Officers: Eric Goldstein, president; Alan Kushner, vice-president; Jeff London, treasurer.

SATURDAY CLUB

The idea for a Saturday Club was originated by sophomore Ann Thomas. The club took the name of the Saturday Club when it was decided that meetings could be held any day during the week except Saturday. Plays are read and interpreted; discussions are lively and informal. Often contemporary playwrights are considered.

Advisor: Miss Susan Pontius.

"The Saturday Club" intellectuals exchange theatrical thoughts on Tuesdays.

Ed Franberg and Anne Thomas analyze Waiting for Godot.
THEATRE WORKSHOP

The Theatre Workshop is new this year. Organized by interested students under the direction of Mrs. Townsend, the group reads and discusses plays by contemporary and past playwrights. At Christmas time this year four workshop members, Eddie Feinberg, Janet Hornstein, Debbie Kaplan, and Alan Kushner, gave a dramatic reading of Dylan Thomas' A Child's Christmas in Wales.

Advisor: Mrs. Barbara Townsend.

Janet Hornstein, Ed Feinberg, Debbie Kaplan, and Alan Kushner starred in "A Child's Christmas in... Snow?"
ART & PAINTING CLUB

Members of the Art Club were fortunate enough to see the three greatest art exhibits in the country during the past year. In the fall the club viewed the Andrew Wyeth Exhibit at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. Later in the year they visited the Philadelphia Museum of Art. A spring day was spent in Boston at the "Age of Rembrandt" exhibit. Posters which advertise dances and other activities are created by Art Club members.

Bart Freedman, Rob Perkins, and Ron Zaleski co-ordinate their efforts on a stylish portrait of a cheerleader.
The Pajama Game was lively; hits like "Hey There," "Hernando's Hideaway," and "7½ Cents" made it this way. Performing with the skill of professionals, juniors and seniors re-enacted how employees of the Sleep-tite Pajama Factory managed by Don Saltzburg obtained a 7½ cent raise.

The sets were as lively as the action. The use of black light in the Hernando's Hideaway scene added drama and professionalism to the play. Thrills were felt when Corky Mutschler's knives encircled star, Debbie Stranahan. The Pajama Game reached a theatrical excellence that will be difficult to surpass.

West Side Story, a musical which tells the tragic story of romance, ran four nights at CHHSW, April 7, 8, 14 and 15. This play was the first of its kind and was marked by many technical innovations; included in these was the use of "blackout" instead of curtains. The musical had definite appeal to the youthful audience, for it is the story of the turbulence of adolescence in the New York City slums. The difficulty of life in a ghetto was balanced by the tender love between Tony and Maria, played respectively by Bill Walton and Lauren Caniglia. They succeeded in capturing the ecstasy of such songs as "Maria" and "Tonight."

VARIETY SHOW

Every year at CHHS, a traditional Variety Show is presented which represents a cross section of high school talent. With a show business theme, the '67 viewers saw many new faces but again enjoyed Lauren Caniglia and Betsy Roberts.

The CHHS choir, composed of fifty voices, combines melodiously in four major sections: bass, tenor, soprano, and alto. Highly selective in that sophomores and juniors must audition to gain membership, the choir is comprised of vocalists who are chosen for the quality of their voices and their ability to read music. This year's choir performed musical selections in some new places. They shivered and sang while the Jersey Devils faced the Jets at Cherry Hill Arena. The PTA and crowds at the malls enjoyed the annual Christmas program. The choir's performances are noted for their exceptional quality and have been well-attended and appreciated.

The entire CHHS Choir poses in full array.
As the youngest musical organization in the school, the Cherry Hill High School Orchestra is in the process of increasing its membership and strengthening the string section. Composed of fifty instrumentalists, the group practices bi-weekly, attempting to build its repertoire of classical music. Highlighting the year, the students performed two concerts at the annual Spring Music Festival. It is hoped that this group will eventually become one of the largest orchestras in the South Jersey area.

BAND

Whether entertaining at half-time or piercing the air with the school anthem at pep rallies, the Cherry Hill High School Band presents spectacular shows. Practicing daily, the members work up programs for assemblies and the Spring Concert. This year the band made a television appearance on WFIL. The 140 member band provides excitement for members, enjoyment for spectators.

Director: Mr. William Burley.
COLOR GUARD

The colorful half-time performances of the band are enlivened by routines of the color guard. The nine member guard, the largest in Southern New Jersey, presents the flags of the United States and Cherry Hill High School. The color guard is traditionally part of pep rally programs.

This allows more students to participate in school affairs.

Three Coins in a Fountain

The Junior Prom, "Three Coins in a Fountain," was a social success. Couples drifted across the floor amidst Roman columns and thrilled to the music of Tommy Darrow. Charms, refreshments and a receiving line added to the majesty and specialness of the Junior Prom.

Class President Marc Cooper presents a plaque to Mr. DiBart in appreciation for efforts he extended to the Class of '67.

DANCES

Dances at CHHS are major social events. This year, Student Council planned a successful Halloween Dance, which was followed by the Social Ball. Earlier in the year, alumni returned to enjoy homecoming festivities and the gala Homecoming Ball. The cupids appeared at the St. Valentine's Day Dance and the devil, at the Pop Rally Dance. Sleepy-Head Sock Hops too, were sponsored by the Student Council.

FOOTBALL

The 1966 Football Team, coached by veteran Les Zetty, experienced an erratic and occasionally disappointing season. Opening with three big wins, CHHS' fighting eleven appeared to be on its way to an undefeated season. When spirit was at its height and expectations were soaring, the team ran into a rash of misfortunes. The new watchword was alarm as it lost to Vineland and Bridgeton. But with renewed spirit and a new sense of purpose, Camden was beaten. However, in the Pennsauken game Mr. Zetty's boys hit an all-time low by losing to them for the first time since 1962 by the humiliating score of 53-6. Over-all a successful season (5-3) resulted through the ability of such players as Carter, Monokian, King, Benson, All-state tackle Licata, Tydeman, and Jones.

Coaches: Mr. Lester Zetty; Mr. Alex Neiman; Mr. Herbert Fisher; Mr. Joseph Chilbert.
Captains: Don Tydeman; Dennis Carter.

The 1966 Cross Country Team completed its best season since 1962 with an impressive 7-2 record. Under the supervision of coach Theodore Page, there was keen competition among the harriers for top team positions. Co-captains Don Sweeney and Rod Maybee led the team to third place in Group IV when they earned medals in the Group IV and Camden County meets. Having proven itself of high calibre, the team qualified for the state meet at Rutgers.

The success of the 1967 Bowling team was mainly attributed to an overall team effort. Coach Robert Andreas was very pleased with the team's 33-9 record along with capturing the District B Championship. The boys finished the season by placing a weak fifth in the State Finals. Ray Lovett had a 129 average, Alan Fisher a 171 average, and Roy Stone compiled a 173 average.

TOTAL 33
Only a tremendous hustling effort rewarded the 1967 Basketball Team with an average 10-10 record. Holding their own with the smaller clubs, the Lions discovered that a lack of height hindered their chances for a Group IV title. Our smaller and quicker team relied on tight zone defense and fast breaks for many of their victories. Head coach Mr. Reese Rudigier was extremely pleased with the deliberate hard work the boys contributed to this up and down season.

The guards were seniors Bill Wiley and Dennis Carter and Bruce Huntzinger played forward.

The young and inexperienced 1967 Wrestling Team matured beyond the expectations of head coach Mr. Alex Neiman to claim another successful season. The boys wrestled with the same vigor that earned last year's team with the District Championship. The team finished fourth in the Delaware Valley Wrestling Conference with an impressive 8-4 record. Leading the team to a standing second-place finish in the Districts were co-captain Mike Young, undefeated Jerry Licata and Greg Alexander, who captured a 10-1-1 record.

Coached by Mr. Fran Meehan, the team achieved its finest record, 6-7, of its short three season career. Although hampered by illnesses, cooperation and spirit resulted in an admirable amount of team effort. Captain Ken Gerber performed on the rings and parallel bars while all-around gymnast Rich Tobin gave the team an added boost. Other outstanding members of the team were Tom Buehler, Howell Rettstadt, and Jim Venzie.

Innovations marked this year's three pep rallies. Marching from school to stadium, the student body cheered the football team at its home-ground stadium. A bonfire pep rally and parade were held during Alumni Week. An outstanding Homecoming rally, under the direction of Dan Welch, began with a march from Brainerd Jr. High School to the CHHS stadium; there Marie Judge was crowned Homecoming Queen. A powder puff football game was also featured at this '67 pep specialty: male cheerleaders led the shouts!

Freshmen

The Class of 1970, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Lynch, got off to a fine start in keeping with its slogan, "Go Go 7-0." The Student Council officially welcomed the freshmen early in September with its Hospitality Dance. In November the frosh played host when the gym was filled with flappers and raccoon coats at the "Roaring 20's Dance." Feeling more at home with throngs of upperclassmen, the 70'ers participated in the big Homecoming parade by entering the float contest, and later ranked high in the annual activity card sales' competition. After five months of a four-hour day, the freshmen adjusted to our seven-hour day, proving that the smallest are not always the weakest.

No longer novices but not quite upperclassmen, the sophomores, in a world of in-betweenness, have participated enthusiastically in all phases of school life. The Class of '69 distinguished itself with a successful sophomore hop, "Washington Square," and a first prize-winning float where the Pennsauken Indian was roasted by our lion Leo. Following through with Student Council's suggestion, the sophomores again showed their spirit by strongly endorsing the "Principal of the Year" contest. Beginning to know themselves, the "Lions will shine in '69."

The junior year is more than the third year of high school. It brings responsibilities to its members, intensified responsibility for themselves and an awareness not only of others. The Class of '68, both individually and as a group, has met these responsibilities through such activities as supporting Kim Soo Bok, a Korean orphan, selling refreshments at sports events, and welcoming alumni with a prize-winning float. The range of spirit and talent in the Class of '68 was exhibited in the exuberance and energy of West Side Story, the lead of Tony; and Walton sang the lead of Tony; and "Bail Hai" in the quiet, romantic air of the Junior Prom.

Without Kuhl, Kruse, Ruth and Zetty, '67 would just not be '67. Spurring class spirit, the foursome kept the class moving. All was active on the F-wing front. Tom "Phleas" Kuhl directed the class in true executive form. Pete "Schmads" Kruse created Moments to Remember. Zesty Zetty kept the money rolling, while Chris Ruth recorded minutes of the whole thing.
HALL OF FAME

An assembly, filled with suspense, excitement, and high hopes, climaxed the long process of choosing fifteen seniors for the Hall of Fame. The tradition, designed to give honor and recognition to seniors who have contributed to the curricular and extracurricular programs of CHHS, has become the highlight of the senior year. Members are chosen on a point system considering five areas of achievement: academic performance, athletic achievement, extracurricular activities, community service, and faculty vote. Students chosen are the leaders of our class and of our school. They have excelled in their work and in doing so have set high standards for CHHS.

The Hall of Fame is an honor deserved by all seniors elected.

SWIFTLY

Experiencing freshman fears feeling uncertainties attempting adjustment to awesome seniors
Clowar Hour
one gymnasium bomb scares with shortened classes—we were building the foundation of our diverse class.

And with the passing summer we were no longer the lowest on the rung—
sophomores gaining confidence
F-wing expanding our horizon our prize possession—a purchased banner proudly proclaiming Go Get 'Em '67
The Golion Convention drained classrooms
Midas touched Ronnie Franklin Marc Cooper prodded action basketball programs and bus rides McCarter Theatre
purple vs. the white—
our mark had been made an impression imposed but we dreamed of what was yet to come.

Upperclassmen dreams became realities rings, jerseys, bulletin boards and we threw our Three Coins in the Fountain
It was a year of changes
a new stadium, concessions undampened football spirit — even in the rain — ten o’clock Brunch a rash of sock hops, pep rallies college boards, poster parties election fever
the enthusiasm of Miss Richey
It was a year of growth in spirit and personality Still our interests grew in expectation of our senior year.

Now we are building memories of picnics, haunted houses, hayrides licenses, hondas, and muddy parking lots shorts to exams
Homecoming powder-puff football with male cheerleaders bonfire pep rallies senioritis
memories of Mrs. Ruediger as Miss Richey
long-haired Jets and Sharks Lauren’s “Tonight”
of secrets, CHTC and friendships Kuhl, Kruse, Collier, Sweet the satisfaction of achievement vending machine apples
Mr. Schenck’s sleepy-head sock hops publications deadlines college, jobs, armed services — the present, has produced memories to brighten the future
by illuminating the past.

People who complain about school are those who refuse to make the most of an inevitable situation. It's pretty selfish to think that the high school must cater to you without your putting out some effort. How's it going to benefit you ultimately?
