A Chorus Lion? That’s me, I guess. So you want to know about a day in my life at West?

Wake up, paws. Come on, walk down the bus steps. That’s right, one paw in front of the other. Turn left to my locker. Come on, locker; open!

"If I’ve told you once, I’ve told you a million times..."

"Back so soon?"

"It’s gotta be in here, somewhere. Keep looking."

"Don’t look now, but I think we’re being watched!"
For the enterprising young lion, business classes are the courses to take while at West. Typing, data processing, and other courses prepare us lions for the future.
How do I use this thing?

I've always wondered where Grenada is.

Now for second period — English. No, please! Don't call on me. I didn't do my homework. You see, the dog ate it, and my typewriter broke, and my pen ran out of ink, and my baby sister spilled her milk on it.

What's so interesting Chris?
Boy, I’m sure glad that’s over. I bet you never knew I was the next Rembrandt. All that creativity over in A-wing amazes me — brushes, paints, woods, clays, glazes, needles, threads, pots and pans. What do you mean, I can’t use acrylic paint on my clay? The clay is dry, so why can’t I?
On to math. The absolute value of tan theta equals the slope of line one minus the slope of line two, divided by one plus the slope of line two? Teacher, how many days a week did you say you would stay after school to help those of us not related to Einstein?
Learning a foreign language is a manifold challenge, especially learning to congregate verbs. I can't quite put my paw on the way to con- conj- conjugate?
Class with Mr. Patterson and Mrs. Borges.

Lunch time. I spent twenty minutes in line waiting for this? Oh, no, please don’t do that. You’ll ruin my fur. Honestly, I don’t want to wear spaghetti and jello for the rest of the day.
Archery, tennis, golf, weight training, badminton, volleyball. These are just some of the sports offered here in the Lion's Den. Oh, oh, I forgot my sneakers, and here comes the teacher. "No, I'm not unprepared; I just forgot my sneakers. Oh, come on, don't mark me unprepared. Why do I need sneakers for archery?"
For those of you who don't know, lions are great historians. 1776, the Declaration of Independence. 1783, the Treaty of Paris. 1787, the Constitution was signed, or was that 1789? Oh, don't tell me that, an oral report due next Friday. You must be joking. I guess I'll have to buy a tie.
La, la, la, la, la, la, la. Do, re, me, fa, sol, la, ti, do. I can’t play today. You see, I took my music home to practice. You know how dedicated I am. Can I share with her. Huh, me, do a solo, in front of all those people?!
The periodic table has 108 elements and the animal kingdom is divided into five sections, and a plane mirror doesn’t enlarge its image. Huh, you want me to tell what effect paradichloridebenzyne has on the lungs? Buzz; saved by the bell!
This is my chance to show my lion’s pride. Pep rallies make me one dandy lion. Come on, everyone; clap your paws and show your spirit!
Time to leave the den. All this hard work has really exhausted me. As a matter of fact, I think I'll go home and take a cat nap.
There is a whole range of activities to fill any roaming lion's after-school hours: sports, clubs, theater groups, musical groups. They're all so interesting that I don't know which ones to choose.
W is for the wonderful friends that I will always remember.

E is for all the encouragement that my teachers have given me.

S is for the spirit of West that will live within me forever.

T is for the best of times from the past as well as the future.

Mrs. Morris was a lady. She was always charming, pleasant and bright. No matter what was going on in her life, no matter how busy, she was always there for every one of us who needed her. She had a great deal of tolerance for the stunts that high school students always pull and never lost her temper or her sense of humor.

She had a benevolence and a feeling for humanity whenever she approached a problem with a student. She also had drive and determination to do the best she could at whatever she was doing. She set a high example for girls of my age to model themselves after. She was a solid support for all of us to learn on.

Mrs. Morris had only one son, but in a way, the students of West were all her children. She treated us as her own, and we turned to her like our mother away from home. We all miss her very much.

Zelda Morris was an inspiration to us all; we are richer in spirit for having known her. She has left us a legacy that will remain with us as long as her memory. I know that will be a very long time.

Esther Goodstein
When I was asked to tell about the woman whom I most admire, I did not have to go beyond our school to choose such a woman. She is someone with whom everyone here at West is familiar - our principal, Mrs. Katz. One of the most rewarding experiences that I have had since being elected president of Student Government has been the opportunity to work on a closer level with Mrs. Katz. I have found her to be not only a great principal, but a great person. She possesses many valuable qualities, but the ones which I most admire and would like to emulate are her qualities of school spirit, guidance, and, most of all, leadership.

Mrs. Katz goes far beyond the normal duties of a principal, giving her time and effort to a variety of school functions. She can frequently be seen at many sporting events, cheering for our teams. She not only attends home games, but many away games as well. She also donates many of her nights to attend dances, and is willing to help in any way to make them a success.

Whenever anyone has a problem, Mrs. Katz is the one to go to for advice. Being a former guidance counselor, she works well with students. She has the ability to communicate on a one to one basis. Often she can be seen walking through the halls or lunch room, trying to recognize student problems in order to offer her advice and counsel.

Although her other qualities are very important, the strongest quality which she possesses is her leadership. Mrs. Katz guides the school in a smooth and efficient manner. She handles each student on the basis of what is best for the school and not what is convenient for her. Acting as she does, surely she will be considered one of the great principals of West.

Music

West offers a cornucopia of music:
The sound and pomp of a marching band,
The fugues and rifts of a jazz ensemble,
The harmonious blend of classical music,
The hymns and arias of a chorus,
The rich melodies of a wind ensemble —
Music, the thread of mankind.

The wonderful thing about phys-ed is that there is something for everybody. This year, Mrs. Lifshey returned as advisor to the Freshman Class Cabinet, after an interim of five years, when she followed the Class of 1979. Led by Governor Kerry Mitchell and Lt. Governor Keith Goln, the Freshman Class had a very successful magazine drive to begin their first year at West. Painters' hats were sold and dances planned to increase the class treasury. From the look of things, the Class of 1987 will have no problem adjusting to the spirit of West.

SOCcer

The freshman soccer team finished their season with a 14-1-1 record. Carried by a high-scoring offense and a brilliant defense, the team received their only loss to a tough Washington Twp. team. Team co-captain David Yanstick led the team with 25 goals. Left wing Jaime Leach was the team’s second highest scorer and right wing Adam Lifshey led the team with 11 assists. The defense, led by star sweeper and team co-captain Josh Stern, allowed an average of only a half a goal per game. Goalie Rob Morrison collected 10 shutouts. The team scored 66 goals while allowing only 8 goals to be scored against them.

FRESHMEN SPORTS

FOOTball

The freshman football team had a fun season this year. They finished the year with a 4-5-1 record. Some outstanding plays were made by Mike Bottalico, John Eissler, Scott Cohen, Rich Horowitz, Gary Gagnon, and Ira Fleisher. The coaching staff, consisting of head coach Jack Clower, line coach Mike Woodland, and defensive back coach Joe Albanese, did a fine job. Moral support was given by an enthusiastic freshman cheerleading squad.

GYMNASTICS

The Freshmen gymnasts were led by Jennifer Lusardi who placed third in the balance beam with a score of 8.15 on the All South Jersey Girls' Gymnastic Team. Good performances from Lynn Hatoff, Tasha Schwartz, and Lisa Lorenzo help guarantee a promising future for West's gymnastics team.

HOCKEY

The freshman basketball team was led by Andrew Albrecht, Eugene Royster, David Yarstick, and Brian Steigler. Each scored more than 100 points for the season. Andrew Albrecht led the team in rebounds with 97 points.

BASKETBALL
Wrestling

Bowling

Marta Burmeister led the JV team with a high average of 142, the high series of 467, and the high game of 215.

The Sophomore Class cabinet of 1984 is full of ideas, action, and spirit. They began the year with a very successful Toga Party. In February they sold carnations for Valentine's Day at West. Then, in March, they hosted the "Battle of the Bands". And, in June, they planned the sophomore dance to end the year in style. This was a class worthy of West spirit.

The Class of 1985 began the year with a bang. Aside from sponsoring the enormously successful Hooters’ concert, they also sold Class of ’85 t-shirts and refreshments at West’s football games. The Junior Class, led by Governor Mike Dean, Lt. Governor Steve Esposito, and Class Advisor, Ms. Wright, also collaborated with SAO to help make the PAL Christmas party a memorable event for mentally handicapped children. With such enthusiasm, the Class of 85 is well on its way to being one of the best classes in West’s history.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES ORGANIZATION

Mr. Schmidt, the Student Activities Organization advisor, made his first year with West's SAO a very memorable one. The Purple and White Dance, the Pajama Party, and the Alumni Dance were the fall events sponsored by SAO. The activities of Spirit Week and the Homecoming Queen float generated a great deal of school spirit. SAO also sponsored the Pumpkin Decorating Contest and the Cake Decorating Contest to benefit the Cancer Society. For handicapped children, SAO co-sponsored the annual Christmas Party at the Hyatt House. To round out the year SAO held the annual Spring Carnival and a "Name the Baby" Contest. A special goal was the writing of a new constitution.

The motto for West's 1984 Lion's Roar was "Bigger and Better." Editor-in-Chief Michael Goldman hoped to lengthen each issue and increase the number of issues for the 1983-84 school year. He also said that his staff was not afraid to publish controversial articles. For instance, the December issue of the paper included an editorial about drug abuse which earned acclaim for the newspaper. The paper also featured West's sports teams and various special events.
West’s Cross Country team ended the fall sports season with a very impressive record of 11-6. Leading the Lions this year, was Bill Madara, a senior who placed for the fourth time in the Olympic Conference. If next year’s team follows Bill’s example, they should have a winning season.

West's Varsity Field Hockey team finished the fall sports season with a 7-5-3 record. The Lions deserve recognition for ranking third in the American Division of the Olympic Conference. Janet Doran, the team's high scorer, and Vicky Wu, the team's goalie, led the Lions in their victory over Triton, a very tough team in South Jersey. Congratulations go to Rosie Fantozzi, Janet Doran, and Dayna Shomer, who placed in the Olympic Conference. Rosie Fantozzi also qualified for the All Stars Team. The Lady Lions can be proud of a very successful season.

Even though West's Football team had a slow start, the Lions can be proud of their effort. At the end of the fall sports season, the Lions finished with a 1-7 record, chalking up with particular satisfaction a win over a strong Camden High School team. Mike Crovetti and Dean Smith led the offensive attack, with support from the team's strong defense. The Lions worked hard, but other wins eluded them. Don't worry; they will be back next year.

West's Boys' Gymnastics team provided the school with the biggest moment of the fall sports season when they beat crosstown rival Cherry Hill East. This year's squad was led by Carey Cunningham and Bobby Kane, both of whom competed in State Sectionals. Hard working and talented, the Lions ended a very rewarding year.
After a rough start, West's Girls' Gymnastics squad won four of their last seven meets, to finish the season with a 4-7 record. The Lions were led by Jennifer Lusardi and Sarah Scofield, both of whom qualified for State Sectionals. Jennifer Lusardi also ranked in All South Jersey. The girls gymnasts look forward to next year, when a strong team promises to return.

The team began the winter season with a brand new squad. Because seven seniors left West last year, Varsity Coach Murray found himself working with five new starters: Eric Lee, Brian Murray, Andy Spell, Danny Campbell, and Craig Lynch. As of January, with a 5-5 record, the lions expected to qualify for the State Tournaments with three more wins. The boys were determined to make 1984 a memorable year. Highlighted this year was senior Eric Lee who anticipated scoring his 1000th varsity point! Lee, who averaged 20 points per game, broke Rick Dean’s 1962 record of 36 points in one game when he scored 38 points against Camden. Eric Lee’s magic moves insured an exciting season for West.
West's girls' basketball team had one of its best seasons. With a 7-2 record in January, the lady lions were sure to qualify for State Competitions. The team, after playing together for two years, reached its top form with starters Joyce Moffett, Mindy Burcat, Rosie Fantozzi, Sue Gruber, Dayna Shomer, and Tina O'Neal. This year, in the Christmas Tournament, West placed second, and Joyce Moffett shot her 1000th point against Collingswood. In the middle of the season Mrs. Morin, Varsity Coach, and Junior Varsity Coach Rosie Papa planned to end their season with a record of better than 500 by concentrating on controlling the offensive boards and on confidence. With a team like this, they have no problem achieving their goals.

The winter track team took to the freezing temperatures of the outdoors, while most of us were warm and cozy inside. Under the guidance and encouragement of the coaches Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Mitideri, the team went through a steady program of individual or group running, nautilus, and wind sprints for endurance to prepare for their few but important meets at Widener University. Much talent can be found within this small and devoted team.
"Spirit and dedication" is the motto of West's boys' swim team. The team's goal of winning 18 meets in both the 1984 and 1985 season was well on its way to being realized. Their record was 8-4 as of January. With 36 more victories West would be the first high school swim team in the state to achieve a record of 400 victories. Senior Bill Madara led the team by example, while Harold Wolfman's outstanding performances contributed to the most exciting victories to West's record. Coach Rhea, very proud of his team, looked forward to being the first coach to lead a team to its 400th victory.

As of January, Senior Andy Feinberg, one of the top ten wrestlers in South Jersey, had the team’s best record of 7-1. Feinberg’s third place win in the Edgewood Tournament made West proud. Captain Vince Nolan, with a 5-2-1 record and Ed Walters with a 6-3 record contributed outstanding performances.

What a team! West's 1983 golf team coached by Mr. Page finished their spring season with the first winning team record (11-9) in ten years. Dan DePasquale and Mark DePietro led the team with the best performances on the golf course. With returning players Rich DePasquale, Jim Coleman and Mark Canale, West's 1984 golf team looked forward to a promising season.
Champions of the Olympic American Conference, the lions finished their 1983 spring season with a record of 21 wins and 7 losses. They qualified for State tournaments, winning their first two games, but losing in the third round. The lions also participated in the Diamond Classic Tournament, winning their first game, before losing in the second round. In 1984, the team promises to have an exciting year with many returning varsity players including Gary Bromke, Kevin Bernard, and Derek Reardigan.

Ending last season as champions of the Mohawk Division, the girls' lacrosse team moved up into the higher Sioux Division for the 1984 season. The Courier Post deemed West as a pleasant surprise as they beat some of the toughest teams in the Delaware Valley Scholastic Lacrosse League, and qualified for State competition. At the close of the season, Vicky Wu had been named best goalie in the All Delaware Valley Mohawk Division First Team. Janet Doran had placed in the First Team for her outstanding contribution to the team and Joyce Moffett placed on the Second Team. The lady lions hope to use the same enthusiasm and momentum that they experienced last year in order to make this year as successful as the last one.
The 1984 softball team hoped to continue their winning ways in order to further the legacy of the West lions. Last year's team won the South Jersey Group 4 Championship and progressed to the state finals. The team ended the season with a 19-10 record. Outstanding contributions were made by Rosie Fantozzi, Andrea Scavuzzo, and Dayna Shomer.
Highlight of the 1983 spring track season was Bill Madara’s entrance in the Woodbury Relays. For the first time in West’s history a distance runner entered in the steeplechase, a very strenuous event. In his senior year, Bill plans to make spring track even more exciting.

The lady lions ended a very tough 1983 spring season with a 3-9 record. They won against Deptford, Pennsauken, and Gloucester Catholic. Returning seniors Donna Oorlog and Amy Van Syckel expect this season to be one of their best.

On the evening of November 6, West’s Student Governments began their year with dinner and dancing at Cherry Hill’s Holiday Inn. Present to swear in the officers elected were the distinguished guest of honor, Congressman James Florio. West’s own dignitaries at the 1983 Inaugural Ball were Mrs. Katz, Principal, Mr. Jordan and Mr. Harvey, Assistant Principals, Mr. Schmidt, Advisor to SAO, and Mrs. Banks, Director of Student Activities.
On October 22, The Hooters rocked West in an unforgettable concert. The Hooters, one of Philadelphia’s most popular groups, is composed of Rob Hyman on keyboards, David Uosikkinen on drums, Eric Bazilian and John Willy on guitars, and Rob Miller on bass. Their unique brand of rhythm-oriented rock was extremely popular with the West crowd as everyone enjoyed the concert. We wish The Hooters the best of luck with their new album, “Amore.”

"Helen Hayes once drew the distinction between achievement and success. She said that achievement is the knowledge that you have studied and worked hard and done the best that is in you. Success is being praised by others, and that's nice, too, but not as satisfying or important. Thus, always aim for achievement and forget about success."

West made history on October 21 when Ken Hastings, a talented sophomore, was crowned Mr. Cherry Hill West. Of eleven men, Larry DiCicco and Aki Carabases finished first and second runner-up, respectively. The Theatre Workshop can be proud of this gala event for providing an exciting and entertaining evening.
Spirit Week at West is a tradition. Each year, West's four classes, led by their respective class governments and SAO, compete creatively. First come the hall decorations. Each class enthusiastically, quickly, and creatively decorates a different wing of West in an image which they think best represents the spirit of West. This year, the freshman class carried off the prize for their innovative decorations proclaiming, "The Class of 1987 takes off." Next during Spirit Week comes the cake decorating contest. Every club at West is encouraged to enter an original production of flour and icing. Finally, each class dressed according to their class motto, and on this day West holds a pep rally after classes. Mr. Rhea, West's cheerleading coach, and Mr. Williams, director of West's marching band, organized one of the best pep rallies in years. Janet Doran was also hailed as West's 1983 Homecoming Queen. West students always enjoy the opportunity to encourage their Lions.

Trip To Italy

For two weeks in November, West's Foreign Language Department sent 13 students to Italy. The students, chaperoned by Mrs. Nicola, stayed with families in Bologna. Eating new foods, visiting historic places and speaking a different language were some of the students' activities. In past years, the trips have been extraordinary successes and this one was no exception.

Eleven West students experienced French life for two weeks in November as a part of the Foreign Exchange Program between Cherry Hill and Salon, France. The students stayed with families in Salon, an old-fashioned town outside of Marseilles. Salon, centered around a long main street with stores and historical buildings, resembles a French-style Haddonfield.

The eleven students spoke French, went to French schools and ate French food, including rabbit. From their Salon location, the students took side trips to Monte Carlo, Aix, and the Vasarely Foundation.

After visiting Salon, the West pupils flew to elegant Paris to tour one of the world’s greatest cities. From the tall, powerful Eiffel Tower and the artsy, modern Pompidou Center to the crowded gigantic Parisien mall, Les Halles, the students visited all corners of the city.

This year, the 1984 Go West Show Troupe took its smash hit, "Show Biz is . . ." to San Francisco, California. The company of twenty seven students was hosted by students of El Camino High School and their families. The troupe performed six times during the week for the high school and junior school students, and the community. As well as performing, the troupe toured San Francisco from Fisherman's Wharf to the most crooked street in the world.

On the evening of January 31, West's chapter of the Distributive Education Club of America, led by President Michele Baker and Advisor Mr. E. Reitman, presented their annual fashion show. The students featured sportswear, casual wear, and formal wear, which were provided by local department stores. The club members also modeled several outfits for their classmates the following day. The pièce de résistance of the show occurred when Carol Kwasniewski entered in a traditional white wedding dress.
International Banquet

This year, Cherry Hill's annual International Banquet was hosted by West. Aside from West students, East and Brainerd students along with West's Principal, Mrs. Katz, and several Cherry Hill Board of Education members attended this gala event. The Banquet began with a fashion show. Several West students wore native costumes from Korea, Switzerland, Hungary, Greece, the Philippines, India, and the Ukraine. The Spanish, French, and Italian clubs also entertained the guests with dancing and singing before dinner. Dinner, provided by the hosting students, was composed of dishes of ethnic origin. The Banquet was an exciting event of cultural exchange enjoyed by all.
Aspects

The 1984 Aspects promises to be a very fine publication. The staff notices an increase in the number of creative pieces from last year. Moreover, the literary and art staffs hope to make Aspects an attractive and entertaining magazine. Although it will be difficult to top 1983, when Aspects was rated by the American Scholastic Press Association at 985 out of 1000 points and chosen over all competitors for "Outstanding Concept," this year's staff is very hopeful. Even so, with the enthusiasm of this year's staff, Mrs. Beir, the art advisor, and Dr. Fletcher, the literary advisor, confidently expect to have another award-winning issue in 1984.

West's 1984 Senior Class had an exciting final year at West. Governor Steve Kessler and Lt. Governor Gillian Gerson, along with Class Advisor Mr. Mello, guaranteed a very memorable year for the seniors. By Christmas, the Senior Class had sponsored West's Second Annual Beach Party, the elections for West's Homecoming Queen, and a candy sale in order to lower the price of the Senior Prom in May. In the remainder of the year, the seniors held a "slave auction," sold refreshments at the boys' basketball games, and 1984 t-shirts and mugs. This year was a year to remember.

West's Hall of Fame is the highest honor that the faculty and senior student body of West can bestow upon a senior. As tradition dictates, 10 seniors were inducted into West's Hall of Fame. This yer, West's Jazz Ensemble, conducted by Mr. Williams, entertained during the assembly while Mr. Jordan, Principal of the Class of 1984, officiated the ceremony. He called forth a member of West's staff to introduce each inductee and after a drum roll, the student's name was announced. Five students were inducted before the Jazz Ensemble displayed their award-winning talents. Then the final five students were inducted. As each of the inductees approached the podium, a teacher presented him with a plaque. The ceremony was a fine performance and a tribute to the Class of 1984.
The 1984 induction of West's PAVAS members was the highlight of the evening on November 6. A night of musical and artistic entertainment impressed many, including Mrs. Beer and Mr. Gellura, advisors to PAVAS. On hand to congratulate the new members was the founder of PAVAS, who encouraged the young talents to pursue their dreams. This year, West's chapter of the Performing and Visual Arts Society was dedicated to Mrs. Zelda Morris, in memory of her love for the students of West.
During West’s 1983 Spirit Week, Janet Doran was crowned Homecoming Queen. Thirteen seniors were nominated for this coveted honor, then through two elections conducted by the Senior Class cabinet, the number was narrowed down to five. At the pep rally which concluded Spirit Week, the five finalists made their entrance: Nadine Lesnowski, escorted by Larry DiCicco; Margaret Binowski, escorted by John Soukas; Janet Doran, escorted by Derek Reardigan; Amy Bottalico, escorted by John Perla; and Leslie McDonough, escorted by Mike Visco. Mr. Rhea, accompanied by the Marching Band and the Cheerleaders, crowned West’s new Homecoming Queen, Janet Doran.
