As we move down Chapel Avenue, the trees seem to march quickly by to a rhythm only trees hear.
And as we wait at the corner for the traffic cop's signal, classmates strut by looking one like the other.
Pausing to step out of our monotonous paths to breathe, alas!
That quaint rustling sound coming from beneath our feet?
Those brilliant hues of color scratching at the tastebuds of our eyes?...
...It is Tree,
Cherry Tree.
The leaves of autumn crunching at us like cereal-- like bones-- like thunder in our hands.
Branches like fingers scream at us through gloves of ice-- not in argyle or in checker but in striking swirls and balanced Picasso lines of paint, each of its own.
When we move too quickly,
everything
blurs.
People become flat smudgy faces like in a bad cartoon where everyone's named Joe.
When we move too quickly,
we lose things like last night's English homework like your gym locker combination like the phone number of that new foreign exchange student who sits next to you during your seventh period class.
When we move too quickly,
we lose...
...the individual.
Let us stop now
and breathe before four years zoom by like a stray bullet-- before we find ourselves beneath the shadow of a dead end sign.
alone.
and with nothing to grasp onto but an empty yearbook.
Let us stop now
and breathe
Life
into the nostrils of these pages (into the skeletons of these experiences) and get the blood in these leaves to circulate again-- not just once, but every single time this book is opened.

Let us stop now
and breathe...

See the individual. Be the individual.

pressing gently against your back or beckoning with hushed fingers forward the hand of merlyn whispering child, listen!
planets and constellations sprinkled upon the purple of his guise like a lightning rod of truth and you momentarily paralyzed in a blissful ignorance

Dear Class of 1994:

You are part of a world that is rapidly changing. Each of you will wrestle with changes and discoveries you only dream of. Over the next few years you will come to many crossroads. I hope and trust your experiences at least, the friends you have made, the faculty who have touched your lives, will help guide you through the challenging times ahead.

Good luck and best wishes.

Sincerely,

Richard A. Simon

Dear West Senior,

What will you remember of your senior year? Will you remember the travail of college applications, the fifteen snow storms, the color of your prom dress? If you’re anything like the rest of us, chances are you won’t. You won’t remember to which colleges you applied. You won’t remember the number of delayed openings and school closings. You’ll certainly be embarrassed by your prom photographs. In short, years from now, high school will be but a vague and, at times, embarrassing memory.

I hope that it will also be a fond memory. Put to rest the detentions in D-5, the silly rules, the mettlesome assistant principals. Instead, cherish the remembrances of the good times and those with whom you lived them. Remember the athletic contests and running sprints together at the end of practice, the Winter Concert and the unity of massed voices singing the Hallelujah chorus, the Senior Prom and the exhilaration of the morning sunrise. These are the sound and sense of your high school experience; these are your memories.

I sincerely hope that you enjoy the voyage upon which you’re about to embark. As a community, we have done our best to prepare you to successfully meet all of life’s challenges. We’ve encouraged you to think critically, to act responsibly, and to respect each others differences. Now, it’s time for you to set sail and heave to, to exercise your many talents. Lay out your course carefully and keep in touch, because you leave behind many who care deeply about you and who pray that nothing injurious befalls you. We at West wish you all the best — fair winds and following seas.

Each month, the World Affairs Club meets to discuss current world issues and also to exchange ideas with people who have travelled to foreign countries. Led this year by President Lori Kagan and Vice-President Nan Lightstone, World Affairs continues to educate club members about cultures from around the world. Members always leave the meetings with much food for thought.

Members of Amnesty International have a different perspective on the world. It comes from the special interest they have in prisoners of conscience. Students are reminded that freedom is precious when they meet and talk to people imprisoned for expressing their beliefs.

Participation in regional events sponsored by Amnesty allows club members to meet other socially conscious students and adults who are committed to the protection of human rights.

Amnesty advisor, Mr. Schnell, really believes that students can change the world if they raise their voices and their pens against tyranny wherever it exists in the world.
This year Nature Defense has devoted an increased amount of time to the local environment. T-shirt and food sale proceeds have been donated to major foundations concerned with the environment. Some members took part in a program entitled “Adopt-a-Highway.” Along with other members of the community, students planted trees and flowers on portions of Route 70. The most rewarding program, Project Earth, took place in April. Students went to the elementary schools in Cherry Hill to raise environmental awareness.

Throughout the year, the Science Club has held numerous invitational contests, one of the most famous being the egg drop contest. Additionally, the club hosted many speakers and had the pleasure of seeing Carl Sagan. Aside from the entertaining activities, the club put their talent to work, teaching science lessons to elementary school students in a six-week program.

Mrs. Lifshay took members of the Humanities Club to Venice, Florence, and Rome during spring recess last year. This year students went to Greece! Expanding horizons is the goal of the Humanities Club. Throughout the year, trips were planned to cultural events and to art museums both in Philadelphia and in New York. This year, students attended a performance of “The Magic Flute” and made plans to attend other operas during the season.

Under the guidance of Mr. Genovesi, the Latin Club had a fun-filled and memorable year. As a member of the nationally recognized Junior Classical League, the club participated in the annual competition at Princeton University this fall, along with hundreds of high school students of Latin from across the nation. Junior, Chris Kelly, treasurer of the club, remembers the first sentence uttered at the initial meeting: “Puella est villa” (“The girl is in the house” a classical Latin colloquialism of obvious significance).

The Italian Club has been extremely busy this year fundraising for both an exchange program with students from Italy and donations to charity. Beginning in the fall, students from Frosinone, Italy visited Cherry Hill West, and stayed with our Italian Club members. The West trip was financed by the club with proceeds from regular panzarotti sales, pizza sales, and hot cocoa sales. They also used several sales to benefit charities in the area. Overall, it has been an extremely busy year for members who worked hard to help pay for a trip and a memory that will surely last a lifetime.

Visions, a foreign language literary publication, will put out its second magazine this year. The magazine gives students the opportunity to write creatively in languages they study here at West. Last year the magazine was recognized for excellence. It received awards from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and SIPA. The Visions staff hopes to maintain the high quality of the first publication in the 1994 edition.
West Students Travel

Italy
Once a month, students gather in the professional library as representatives of clubs, sports, musical groups, honor societies, and class governments. These student leaders have a genuine concern for the present and future at West. As Mr. Simmons link to the student body, this group discusses current school issues from the attendance policy to the school budget. The Student Leadership Council represents all of the students who make the West community strong.

Our student government organization serves the school and the Cherry Hill community with the biannual blood drive for the American Red Cross. SGO hosts an F.O.P. party for special and handicapped children and adults at the Hyatt each year. Other activities of Student Government include daffodil sales for the American Cancer Society; renovation of homes in Camden; and participation in the Special Olympics. One of the most memorable SGO-sponsored events was the Battle of the Bands held on the 8th of April this year.

Students Against Drunk Driving met with Mrs. Lifshey during the school year to plan activities and to sponsor programs to maintain student awareness of the dangers of drinking and driving.

Members of S.A.D.D. are ever conscious of the fact that each year thousands of lives are affected by alcohol and substance abuse. Their goal is to help ensure that no lives in the West community will be lost to drinking and driving accidents. To this end, students dressed in black, painted their faces white, and attended classes in silence on a "Day of the Dead" as a graphic memorial to those who have died in alcohol related car accidents.
The caring students in Respect for Drugs take on a huge responsibility of educating elementary school children about the dangers of drug abuse. All year long this group has devoted long hours and hard work to developing programs that teach valuable lessons to young children. Travelling from school to school, students help young children distinguish between "Use, Misuse, and Abuse." Students in Respect for Drugs have accepted the challenge of making Cherry Hill a safer community in the future.

Peer Mediation, a new organization at West this year, has already made an impact in school. It was first introduced at class mini-meetings through the presentation of short skits explaining the function of the organization. Students were invited to utilize this new resource at these meetings. Members of Peer Mediation are required to undergo special training to handle students’ programs presented for mediation. This new service has proved to be a valuable asset to the school, and promises to be an important part of school life at West for many years to come.

"I'll get this done right away," the student aides reply cheerfully, as they complete everyday tasks with bright smiles. In every part of West, student aides are hard at work shelving books in the library, caring for students in the nurse's office, looking for a phone number for their house principal, cleaning science equipment, or searching for the perfect article to supplement an English teacher's lesson plan. They arrive in school early and remain until the last late bus pulls out of the parking lot, always making sure their jobs have been completed properly. The student aides are giving, dedicated students who are willing to work hard for the entire school.

HIGH FLIGHT
By John Gloste Hope Jr.
Oh! I have slipped the surly bonds of earth.
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings.
Up, up the sunlit clouds—and done a hundred things
You have not dreamed of—wheeled and soared and swung.
High in the sunny silentHeaven there.
I've chased the shouting wind along, and flung
My eager craft through footless halls of air
Up, up the long delirious, tumbling blue.
I've topped the windiest heights with easy grace
Where no man ever, or even eagle flew.
And, while with silent, lifting mind I've trod
The high, unresrapped sanctity of space.
Put but my hand, and touched the face of God.
The NJ 781st R.O.T.C. Group of Cherry Hill West has had an exciting and successful year. Many students began this year by attending a rigorous summer camp held at McGuire Air Force Base. The group has had many successful projects as well. Among these have been the Spaghetti Dinner, Dining Out, a group picnic, and a food drive. The Military Ball and an Oriental Dinner were highlights of this year along with the mid-year and final award ceremonies, and a trip to Washington D.C. The cadets went on a tour of the nation's capital to cap a busy schedule during the '93-'94 school year.

In our attempt to freeze time within these 520 pages, the editors and the staff designed, layed out, cropped pictures, wrote copy, and struggled to create the best edition possible. We had deadlines. We had encouragement. We had enthusiasm. We had food. Gradually, the book was assembled. Pages were revised, and this yearbook, record, was completed. A little contribution to West's history.
Competing in a forensics tournament is like running in a race— it is the individual's self-struggle and determination that brings success. Giving students a chance to improve public speaking skills, the forensics team offers categories in current issues, extemporaneous monologues, duo interpretations, prose, and poetry. The meets themselves are great experiences for the West team. The students say that the best thing about forensics is the competition they face and the friendships they make.

Generals gather in their masses. Two walls collide, and both begin to crumble. Wild horsemen ride through the crevices, in pursuit of the opposing king who hides beside his queen. Anarchy breaks loose, and pawns act like cannibals. As the battle continues, the yin-yang breaks and one side prevails. A checkmate is declared, and an individual stands victorious. Undoubtedly, the victor is a member of the South Jersey Champion Cherry Hill West championship team.
Comic books... the ultimate form of expression, a combination of words and art. These students have chosen to join the ranks of the comic book legends in the breaking of traditional boundaries and the founding of new worlds. From the far reaches of the galaxy to the city streets of Suburbia, USA, John Doe Comics has presented new twists on the conflicts of life. The club has been featured in the Courier-Post and is connected to other schools. When it comes time to work, however, the group comes back to reality.

Tap, tap, tap... I got a Tetris! Computer Club members are easily recognizable in the hallways because of their distinguishable fly- ers. Whether they're watching a movie or figuring out new ways to hack, they always keep an eye out on the Information Highway.
The ball finds the net — adrenaline races through the body like a knight on a gallant steed.
He charges toward the goal,
His journey is short lived but hard.
He is exhilarated charging the enemy line . . .

One!
Two! Three!
He pushes and shoves his way through till he stands one on one. One more obstacle — the goalie stands poised ready to POUNCE —
the offensive man steps to turn left, then right,
and left again,
spins and throws . . .
the ball takes flight only for a few seconds, but it seems like an eternity.
The goalie's arm extends — the spinning sphere whizzes by — only by fractions of a centimeter does it soar in and score.
so quickly
one foot brushes past
the other crunching down the leaves to dust.
she rests,
with head hanging, sweat rolling down the edge of her nose-- so she breathes.
SPRING sports
1. A ball is fired to first by Brad Napoli.

As the U.S. Hockey Team skated to gold in the 1980 Olympic Games, sportscaster Al Michaels exclaimed, "Do you believe in miracles?" The Cherry Hill West Baseball Team surely does! Just when it seemed that the South Jersey dynasty was about to fall, the Lions pulled another trick out of the magic baseball cap. Last season, the Lions kept their South Jersey sectional title alive with a come-from-behind victory over Toms River East. The win makes seven straight sectional titles!
The Cherry Hill School West softball season started with great expectations. The team was snowed in at the beginning of the season and had to practice in the gym. Spirits were high though, and remained so throughout the season. The Lady Lions played their hardest game after game, inspite of many disappointments and heartbreaking losses. At the end of the season the coach was proud of the fact that the girls had stayed together and were still friends!

1. Preparing for the match, Alex Ronning practices his form. 2. Gail Mumma sends this putt for par.
3. Randy Cook, Pat Buysse, and Brian Kirsch take a break to celebrate a West win. 4. 1993 GOLF TEAM: Mr. Page, Gail Mumma, Joe Giordano, Karl Foote, Randy Cook, Pat Buysse, Brian Kirsch, Alex Ronning, Rob Obreinger. Not Pictured: Jeff Ganon. 5. Coach Page totals up the score. 6. "A little farther, a little to the right..." 7. A golfer demonstrates the accuracy needed on every shot.
In the competition, every shot is crucial. From the moment the golfer scrutinizes his target, to the moment the ball vanishes into the hole, the intensity level is high. Victory requires self-discipline. There is no easy strategy for playing golf except practice and precision.

Golfers hope for the perfect stroke with every shot. Though inexperienced, West’s golfers were challenged to reach their potential in 1993 by their coach, Mr. Ted Page.

In the end, the golf team proved that practice inevitably leads to improvement and that learning depends, not on the win, but rather on the experience of playing the game.
The girls' lacrosse team worked hard making adjustments this season. Inclement weather restricted the first two weeks of practice to the indoor gyms and caused cancellations for several scrimmages and games. The girls took to the field for the season opener in April and played as a unified team through the closing game. They never once lost the desire to win in spite of a disappointing 5-7-1 record for the season.

Congratulations to the Lady Lions — A Class Act in 1993.
1. Wes Tudor sets his backhand for the return.

Skimming the net, the ball bounced on the baseline just out of reach of the opponent's racquet. With routine harmony, the team practiced each shot. The pounding of the ball, shot after shot, reflected the long and prosperous season. Led by Dr. Brown and Mr. Injajan, the team withstood all challenges, emerging as state tournament players. From topspin drives to overhead smashers, the team discovered that keeping an eye on the ball may not be easy, but the results are rewarding.
A 0-9 dual meet record doesn't tell the whole story of the boys' track team during the 1993 season. Individual and team performances in championship meets were highlights of the season. At Camden County Championships, West beat Camden, Triton, and Cherry Hill East. Performances by sprinter, D. C. Braswell, discus thrower, Aaron Lazar, and long-distance runner, Dave Zuzga, led to a strong placing in the Olympic Conference Meet. Braswell and Zuzga both earned All Conference honors, while Lazar qualified for the State Championship.
Things looked good for the girls’ track team in 1993 with the return of some top athletes. A very talented sprinter and long jumper, Neena Moore, was West’s strength. She took first place in the state long jump and fifth place in the 200-meter run. Jody Sanders and Jen Jennings both made a significant contribution to the team in long-distance events. Victories for West in field events were secured by Dana Pilli and Melissa Majikes.

The Cherry Hill West field hockey team surpassed every expectation for 1993. The Lady Lions finished second in the Olympic Conference with a record of 9-6, earning a state tournament berth. More importantly, though, was the team’s opening round victory in the tourney over Lenape, 2-1. Throughout the season, the Lions bounced around the South Jersey Top Twenty Poll. West opened the season with a fashionable shutout victory over Pennsauken. After struggling at the midpoint of the schedule, the girls regained their opening fire and qualified for the state tournament. Next year, Coach Thompson thinks the Lady Lions could win the Olympic Conference and surprise some South Jersey foes on the way to the Group IV Championship.
The 1994 Cross Country team enjoyed many successes and offered hope for a promising future. The team's #1 runner Ed Devlin led a talented varsity team which included Jason Connell, John Connell, Karl Erhard, Kevin Hilyard, Melvin Bonifacio, Alex Mlynarczyk, and Brian Lockwood. The team's practices at Pennypacker Park increased the unity within the team, and the runners grew to enjoy each others' presence. West went 4-3 on the year, and the strong core of juniors and sophomores, who improved dramatically over the season, will be the talented and experienced leaders of next year's team.
The 1993 Cherry Hill West football team constantly fought injuries to pull out three exciting victories this year. The Lions began the season with a solid 14-0 win over Bishop Eustace. The season was highlighted by two impressive wins over conference foes, Camden and Overbrook. West played the highly ranked Washington Township, Woodrow Wilson, and Cherry Hill East teams and the games were very close. The talent of the 3-6 team is evident in the fact that three of the players were named to the All-Conference team. With the return of many offensive and defensive starters, Coach Smith is expecting big things from the Lions in 1994.
Above the yelling and clapping of each touchdown or basket, the chants of the everpresent cheerleaders can be heard. For both football and basketball seasons, the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders inspire the West student body.

The 1993-94 football season culminated with the pep rally and homecoming game. Over eight weeks of daily practice were put into a concise but perfect five-minute routine. A most remarkable change during the basketball season was the addition of one male varsity cheerleader, Mike Folcher. The highlight of the season was the annual competition held at Washington Township High School.
Boys' Soccer
The boys' soccer team entered the 1993 season with two overriding goals established--to win the Olympic American Conference and to qualify for both the state and coaches tournaments. The following year, the Lions reached the South Jersey-Group I final game before falling to Shawnee. So, of course, the boys had lofty expectations for this year. Although West did not win the Olympic Conference, they did qualify for both tourneys with an 8-7-2 record. Coach Sleeth believes the team's biggest win was a 1-0 victory over its Olympic conference rival, Washington Township. If the players continue to work hard in the off-season, all agree that 1994 could bring the elusive conference title along with a shot at the Group IV State Championship.

The 1993 girls' soccer team season was a thrilling roller coaster ride. It opened with a grueling 2-1 loss to 12th-ranked Haddonfield. The Lady Lions kept the excitement throughout the season, ending with a final record of three wins, eight losses, and one tie. Some games went into overtime. During the Bishop Eustace game, the Lions won within the last three minutes. As the season came to a close, the Lions faced 4th-ranked Shawnee. Going into the game with nothing to lose but everything to prove, the Lady Lions played like never before. A 2-2 tie prevailed in overtime. The girls' soccer team is eagerly anticipating next season to finish off what they've started this year.
Girls' Tennis

With Dr. Brown sidelined with a broken ankle, Mr. Injaian & Mrs. Sweeny took the reins of leadership for the girls' tennis team. Under their volunteered direction, the West tennis program continued to thrive. Overall, the weather cooperated throughout the season, and each match brought new challenges to the team. With a grueling schedule, sometimes playing four matches a week, the girls showed a great deal of potential and character on and off the court.
1. Lauren Morton sends a shot over the net. 2. Shauna Williams demonstrates an excellent backhand. 3. Racquet up, Marla Schiffer prepares to pound. 4. Geraldine Siozon takes command of the match. 5. After contact, Erin Williams watches the ball. 6. Aviva Kapust focuses on her next volley. 7. Eye on the ball, Eli Katz makes contact.
8. Ann Tirocke sends the ball to her opponent.
The South Jersey Volleyball league was formed this year, and West played its first schedule of games. The Cherry Hill West team overcame early season obstacles in its debut and finished with a 7-3 record. In addition, the pioneer team won its first ever South Jersey Championship by defeating Pennsauken in the final contest. Coach Fleider expressed the hope that the six team league will grow by next season. He is looking forward to the fall of 1994 as All-Stars' Odessa DeGuzman and Dawn Pettek return to lead the champs. The goal of the pumped up West team is an undefeated season next year!

Led by young talent, the boys' basketball team had a successful year. The Lions began the season with five straight wins, including two victories en route to a championship performance in the Overbrook Holiday Tournament. After a loss to Pennsauken, the team regrouped and improved its record to 10-1, and its ranking in the South Jersey Top 20. During this 5-game win streak, West beat previously undefeated and highly ranked Washington Township Minutemen. West earned a state tournament berth but unfortunately, the Lions were eliminated in the first round by Toms River North. The Lions, led by starters Chris Martine, Mike Theill, Anthony Socci, Anthony DiMichele, and Julian Dunkley, finished the season with a 12-10 record and fourth place in the competitive Olympic Conference.

West wins the opening tip-off. 5. Point guard Mike Theill is set for a foul shot. 6. Anthony Socci dribbles his way to the net. 7. Anthony DiMichele boxes out for position. 8. 2. Off the steal, Chalice Rhodes takes the ball to the hoop.

Coach O'Donnell went into his first year as head coach of the girls' varsity basketball team not knowing what to expect. The Lady Lions felt the loss of Jinean Butler, Johanna Elias, and Chrissy Rzepnicki, three great players in last year's highly ranked ball club. However, with hard work and determination, the team put together a strong season that concluded with a 12-10 record. The girls qualified for the Group IV state tournament, though Shawnee defeated them in the first round. Among the highlights for the Lady Lions this season were two victories over arch-rival Cherry Hill East. West hopes to qualify again for the state tournament in 1994-95.
The girls' bowling team completed a very encouraging season by placing third in the knockout round, the finals for their division, this March. Under the direction of Mrs. Lapp, the girls team had a sizable increase, both players and talent. Captain Tracy Johnson's varsity team included three freshmen: Tanner DeNoto, Melissa Lampa, and Tedra Cordiso, and senior Kharen Saldana. With the help of key players, Tracey Johnson and teammate Tanner DeNoto, the girls honed their skills for the team and in the process became very close to one another.

According to Mrs. Lapp, the boys' bowling team had a rough and very intense season. Captain Mike Dappolone led the boys through meets each Tuesday and Thursday this winter. The expertise of both Adam Smith and Tracey Johnson won them each an individual award for their teams. The Cherry Hill West team also hosted the Scotch Doubles Tournament at the Playdrome, where they played their home matches this year.
For the first time in Cherry Hill history, the boys' swim team defeated its arch-rival Cherry Hill East in its annual dual meet. This victory was but one of many highlights of the Lions' illustrious season. The team ended this year with a 12-2 record, losing only to top-ranked Moorestown and St. Joseph Metuchen. The Lions, with a win over East, were able to take the Olympic Conference Crown along with ranking third in South Jersey. In addition, Coach Fisher's team performed well in the South Jersey Coaches Invitational and won the South Jersey Swimming League Championship and weren't beaten until the quarterfinal round. In the state individual finals, senior Kristian DeMonsi and sophomore Adam Ritchie placed high for the team. With a wealth of talent returning, the team looks to be just as strong next year.
With a 9-6-7 record, the West wrestling team discreetly had one of its finest seasons. By defeating highly-ranked Washington Township, Triton, and arch-rival Cherry Hill East, the Lions nearly clinched a state tournament berth in 1994. The team also fared well in the Edgewood Holiday Tournament and the District Tournament, placing sixth place in both. The season was highlighted by numerous individual achievements. Senior John Tisa (189 lbs.) and junior Time Gismonde (176 lbs.) took second place honors in the Edgewood Holiday Tournament. Four West wrestlers also advanced past the district round of the state tournament: Junior Chris Staniec (103 lbs.); freshman Matt Alemi (112 lbs.); junior Brian Lockwood (119 lbs.); and senior heavyweight Chris Dilba. With the loss of only three varsity wrestlers, the team hopes to improve its record next year and qualify for the Group IV team playoffs.

Before Shauna Williams was crowned Junior Miss, she was asked the question, "What makes you proud to be a member of the class of 1994?" She answered: "When I walked into the school as a new student my sophomore year, I was overwhelmed by the friendliness and kindness of the people in the school. My peers welcomed me and included me in activities, while directing me around the building. Their guidance and friendship make me proud to be a member of the class of 1994."

This pride shows, as Shauna emphasizes the quality of her friends, the other contestants of the Junior Miss title. Selection of a Junior Miss is based upon the criteria of scholarship, poise, talent and interview, and the winner goes on to represent West in the county pageant.
Thirteen “gentlemen” occupied the runway for the evening, attempting to immortalize themselves in the hearts and imaginations of West students. Each contestant seemed anxious to compete for the title of Mr. West 1994. Tradition dictates a demonstration of talent and poise in modeling casual wear, swim wear, and formal wear.

As each aspirant began to “strut and fret” his way across the stage, the audience roared its approval, hoping to influence the vote of the judges for a favorite candidate. At the end of the evening, five finalists were chosen. Each had to answer a particular question before the final vote was taken. This year’s Mr. West, Josh Cohen, was asked what he would do on a date with Roseanne Barr. He was crowned in spite of his answer!

Students and alumni joined teachers and administrators in the Jones gym the day before the traditional Thanksgiving Day football game to participate in homecoming festivities. The gym was decorated with signs and banners created by members of the class governments. Aaron Lazar set the tone of the pep rally with a great rendition of the National Anthem that was followed by a stunning dance routine performed by the cheerleaders. West students cheered for all the varsity teams as the band played rousing marches before the introduction of the candidates for homecoming queen. They were: Christina Bianco, Lori Carty, Caryn Fishlevich, Jaime Golin, and Melissa Majikes. This year, West seniors voted to crown Melissa Majikes Homecoming Queen of 1993.
“Eastside ... Westside ...” All around the town, people battled the cold November weather to gather for the annual homecoming game. Although West suffered a 19-6 loss to Cherry Hill East, the day was unforgettable. Most who attended thought that the halftime procession was the best ever, because the floats this year were spectacular! The homecoming queen and her court looked radiant in the traditional ride around the stadium in decorated convertibles.
Following the exhilaration felt by Mrs. Bass and her students upon their invitation to perform with the Haddonfield Symphony, West Singers was selected as one of the top 30 choirs in the country, to compete in Washington, DC, this spring. Each of the thirty choirs were adjudicated at George Washington University, and the top eight were chosen to sing at the Kennedy Center. West Singers not only had the pleasure of performing in the Kennedy Center, but had the honor of being ranked third in the nation as well!

Dear Music-Lover,

On this program you will hear the world premiere of Shalen Tall's "Alchémie" for orchestra, composed on commission from the Haddonfield Symphony.

I am always proud and excited to do the first performance of a piece - it is, I think, a great honor to unveil a new work of art. It often occurs to me that, although it is hard to imagine, all of our most beloved pieces were at one time brand-new. Of course there are stories of premiere performances that are now legendary - the Emperor Joseph's reaction to "The Marriage of Figaro" - "too many notes", and the actual riot that Stravinsky's "The Rite of Spring" incited.

Shalen is in my opinion one of the most interesting and talented young composers around today. Our music collaboration goes back four years, during which time I have conducted quite a few of his compositions (one of which have, by the way, provoked a violent audience reaction). I think you will find his music imaginative, evocative, and, above all, intensely heartfelt.

Enjoy the music!

Community service is a vital part of student life at Cherry Hill West — one might say it has become a tradition. The Spanish Club has made its annual party for the children at Mt. Causa; NHS students continue to visit Silver Court Nursing Home and the Jewish Geriatric Center during the school year; and SQO has held its biannual Red Cross Blood Drive, a contribution of great value to the Delaware Valley Community.

The Heart of Camden project, organized last year by former assistant principal, Mr. Lorescetti, is continuing this year under the guidance of assistant principal, Mr. Kim. Volunteers for Heart of Camden help rehabilitate houses in association with Habitat for Humanity.

Nature Defense Club members have been active in the Adopt-a-Highway program this year for the first time. They chose a short stretch of Route 70 in the Marlton area for beautification.

Other volunteer efforts have been on the West student agenda this year, like participation in the Special Olympics, The March of Dimes, Walktoberfest for Diabetes, and a Mallwalk for SIDS (Sudden Infant Death Syndrome). West students who have given previous gifts of time and energy to these activities are truly the Heart of West.

Spring Musical
Three months of intense rehearsal seemed like three years to those who participated in The Music Man — West's spring musical. Under the experienced direction of Mr. Joseph Gelliura, and the expertise of Mrs. Buss, Mr. Goldman, Drew Molotsky, and Mitchell Weintraub, the cast and crew gave "Iowa a try" on West's stage. Marian thrilled Harold with "Till There Was You," and the quartet serenaded the audience until the curtain went down and it was time to say, "Goodnight Ladies."

The music rang out through the auditorium as Broadway Night 1993 began. Directed by Mrs. Bass, the entire vocal music department (along with the Carusi Mixed Choir) put on a dazzling "Disney Spectacular" for three nights. It was the biggest Broadway Night ever! The exciting show contained music from such Disney classics as Snow White and Pinocchio, as well as music from more modern favorites like Beauty and the Beast and Aladdin. Some numbers were performed with all three hundred and fifty students singing and dancing, while others showcased solo talents. For the audience and the performers alike, Broadway Night 1993 was spectacular!
Seniors 2 i remember when four we bump-slided down the stairs aspiring flight but really direction is heaven-ward hard (spiked hair) with arms fire-high fingers like branches reaching for the sun, defying gravity like that man in blue tights afraid of green rocks-- we can leap from buildings too from bricks and piles of plaid and leave our shadows pasted forever against the walls.

Your world is as big as you make it.
I know, for I used to abide
In the narrowest nest in a corner
My wings pressing close to my side.

I battered the cordon's around me
And cradled my wings on the breeze,
Then soared to the uttermost reaches
With rapture, with power, with ease!

School Alma Mater

High upon old Chapel Hill
   Stands the school I call my own.
How I love to see her flags unfurl,
   Wherever I may roam.
Royal purple’s majesty
   And white crusader’s thrill,
So pledge your love and loyalty
   To the school on Chapel Hill

William D. Burley
Composed of a cross-section of students who grew into a family of friends, class government has been four years of dedicated service, frustrating work, and extreme fun. Four years ago as freshmen floundering in a new school, we came together to worry about our class's future. Would we have enough money for the prom? Would we... could we?
Yes! Who can forget the early, cold mornings when we stood together, eating cream cheese bagels and drinking orange juice, watching as the decorations were slowly erected onto the homecoming float... or decorating the gym one evening with mermaids and seahorses, Dr. Seuss characters, cereal bowl celebrities, and then the Muppets? The Great Adventure trip? Even then, there were the ordinary activities: selling candy kisses during lunch periods, attending committee meetings, soaping down cars and drying them clean, painting huge banners and decorating after-school (with the occasional paint fight...)

Senior Government
With Mrs. Church's advice and our motivation, our class prospered greatly from numerous, successful fundraisers. Who can tell everything we did? From the magazine drive to the afternoon pizza sale, to carnation sales, to concession stands, the class gathered enough revenue to be able to contribute to the community. We sponsored the Special Olympics, Walktoberfest, and a hayride for underprivileged children. The class also helped the school with a special community service grant of $25,000 that is shared with Camden High.

And of course, we earned enough money to guarantee the success of the prom. We convinced the administration to allow our senior prom to be held at the elegant Bellvue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia.

Government has always been working for the class, spiritedly tugging away, trying to ease our friends past the boring inertia that is part of the school year. We did a great deal in four short years. We worked very hard, and in the end, we are all agreed the fun we had was reward enough.
Governor's School

One of the most competitive programs in the nation is Governor's School. Only top students in the state are accepted, and West is honored to have had seven juniors among those who attended this summer. The School for Math and Science accepted both Lee Horvitz and Majid Mohiuddin. Brian Brukman represented West at the School for the Environment, and Stacy Goldberg and Nan Lightstone both had the opportunity to participate in the School for Public Issues. At the School of the Arts, Aaron Lazar was selected for vocal music, and Rosalyn Cha for creative writing. School participants enjoyed four weeks of enrichment with the best professors and students in the state.

Summer

RYLA

Last summer, six students representing West attended the Rotary Youth Leadership Awards week. The program lasted five days and was held at Stockton State College. The program exists to involve selected juniors in the machinations of government and leadership. West's delegates this year were Andrew Svekla, Jeffrey Gannon, Scott Slotkin, Heidi Bahnk, Dana Pilla, and Elizabeth Watson.

Boys' State

Six students from Cherry Hill High School West attended Boys' State last year from June 20-25. The Boys' State program is run by the American Legion to show top young leaders in the state just how the system works. Student delegates create a mythical state with real governmental philosophies and practices. Elections begin at the local level and end with the election of a governor. Those who attended in 1993 are: Ricky Claus, Matthew Dunn, Ben Hoffstein, Lee Horvitz, Majid Mohiuddin, and Dave Moricea. Moricea was elected mayor of his city, and he was nominated for governor during his stay; Ricky Claus won the party chair in his county.

Girls' State

"We're Girls' State, We're first rate!" — The faces of 470 of the most outstanding young women in the state of New Jersey beamed with pride as they sang the Girls' State song. Among those who attended were Melissa Majikes, Natalie Kuszmerski, Stacy Goldberg, Jen Harris, Kathryn Lauglin, and Emily Sanial. Students were selected to attend the program based on academic achievement, leadership, and involvement in school and community activities. Throughout the week, delegates learned about government in seminars and group discussions which were supplemented by guest speakers, Jim Florio and Christie Todd Whitman. Most delegates agreed that they would remember most, not the difference between a freeholder and a lieutenant governor, but rather the good time, and the friendships they formed during their stay.

Freezing rain falling to meet the extremely cold surface of the earth instantly transformed the world to pure ice, holding in its grip every surface available. Everything from windchimes to windshields became solid icicles. Icy conditions on the roads plagued everyone, confining most of the people in our area to their homes for one solid week. Even after the inevitable thaw, snow arrived. It was a rare winter indeed with record lows, not just in New Jersey, but across the nation. Rumors of a July graduation frustrated many seniors. This left administrators scrambling to devise make-up days. Mrs. Walsh and her seniors held class in Pennypacker Park in the snow.

LOOK OUT FOR THE TREE!!

MAJID MOHIUDDIN

Dear Majid,
Grow old along with me!
The best is yet to be,
The last of life, for which the first was made:
Our times are in His hand
Who saith ‘A whole I planned, Youth shows but half; trust God:
see all, not be afraid!’
— Robert Browning
With all our love and blessings,
Ammi and Abba.
MICHELLE RASCHIATORE

See beauty everywhere you go,
Appreciate the strengths you show,
And seek out ways to learn and grow,
That's how to be a winner.

We love you,
Mom and Dad

I will do today what others will not, and I will tomorrow live like they cannot!

RANDY GOLDBERG

Randy,

You always make us smile-Never stop being you-

- Music never sounded so terrific!
- Art is taking on new heights in the cafeteria!
- Tempo you continually strive to keep!
- Trouble remembering trash day!
- Happy your college applications are in!
- Eagle Scout is official!
- Winner of Talent Show '93!

Matt, Dad and I couldn't be prouder of you! You are a wonderful young man and we love you very much!

There are scores of memories Tucked between
Your first cautious steps Across the playroom floor and Your last heart-stopping slide
Into home plate.

Brad, no matter where those feet take you next, we'll be there cheering for you.

We love you!
Mom, Dad & Paul

JAKE WILKING

Jake,

A son like you inspires confidence and hope in the future. Because you are so caring and so willing to try to make a difference, you no doubt will do just that.

Your laughter and sense of humor bring a very special joy to all who know you.

Most of all, we hope you know how much you are loved — Mom, Dad, Zach

Oh, the wonderful thing about Tigger is Tigger's a wonderful thing.

Thanx For The Memory.

One of the most obvious facts about grown ups, to a child, is that they have forgotten what it is like to be a child. To our Peter Pan, May you never grow up (in your heart).

Love,
Mom, Pop & Eric

Here's looking at you, kid.

Man's main task in life is to give birth to himself, to become what he potentially is. The most important product of his effort is his own personality.

BRANDI MORETON AND CARYN FISHELEVICH

You are a perfect friend
You have known me in good and bad times
You have seen me when I was happy and when I was sad
You have listened to me when what I said was intelligent and when what I talked was nonsense
You have been with me when we had fun and when we were miserable
You have watched me laugh and cry
You have understood me when I knew what I was doing and when I made mistakes Thank you for believing in me and for always being ready to share thoughts together
You are a perfect friend.
