TABLE OF CONTENTS
Introduction
Traveling the river,
you cover more than its course.

You may rest in the reeds,
consider the currents,
or watch a waterfall.
Or sift the sands of the shore,
with waves running in and out.

For everyone the journey is different,
but the river carries each traveler out into the ocean and beyond, all the same.

Each person takes a depth personal voyage
and sees different sights along the way.
But you cannot capture it all in a single season,
you have to...
... watch the leaves drift down as you drink in the cool autumn air.
... look at the crystals capping the trees and the pockets of ice floating on the surface of the waters.
... see how life returns anew with the blossoming of leaves.
... celebrate the joys of life in full bloom as you prepare to sail from the river to the sea.

When currents run wild
And rapids throw us off balance
Sometimes it's better not to swim
But to let the bridges be our guide.

Bridges.

Give you perspective on the passing waters.
Bridges.
Put you past the rockiest of bends.
Bridges.
Traverse the otherwise unapproachable.

A river itself is by nature not for those who travel alone.
Feel the water against your skin --
It's all a group of droplets,
And the fish that aimlessly swim
Do so together.

Even the greatest of swimmers
Has once struggled with the unknown,
Has once fallen back,
Has once used a bridge,
When the water was too deep to chance.

We all have limits on our own,
But with the proper guides --
We can cross over any obstacle
And surpass any limits
With our bridges.
To the Graduating Class of 1996:

My best wishes for luck and success as you leave Cherry Hill High School West. You have done so much for yourself, your school and your community over these past four years. Your contributions will not be forgotten. The dreams you dreamed, while you were here; the effort and hard work that enabled you to reach your goals, together with your classmates and your teachers; the bonds of friendship that were formed - all of these memories will be part of us forever. This is a very special moment in your life - you will only have one high school graduation class - the Class of '96. Remember us, for we will always remember your achievements, awards, contributions and your caring attitudes.

Since I was Principal for only part of your senior year, I did not get to know most of you well. This was definitely my loss. However, in speaking with your principal of three years, Mr. Rick Simon, he has told me of your many personal accomplishments during your freshman, sophomore and junior years, that have set you apart as a unique class of students. Mr. Simon has asked me to convey his best to you as well.

I thank you for allowing me to share your senior year with you. I enjoyed every minute of it! Your cooperation, as a model for the underclassmen, marked you as mature young responsible adults from the beginning of the year. West and I will always have a special place in our hearts for you. Come back often to visit! Tell us where we can improve! If you were helped by a teacher of our staff member, let them know! Remember that you are the only “Cherry Hill High School West Class of 1996.” You are unique!

Most sincerely with hopes of success for you in the future, I am,

As brave as we must be,
   We all cannot face
   The river alone.
Sometimes we come to familiar shores,
   Rest under a favorite tree.
Sometimes our saving grace lies
   Not in quick decisions,
   Or bold maneuvers
But in the simple choice, to steer away
   For a while, to relax rather Than struggle ever on.
There in the shade, we find ourselves
   In the company of kindred spirits,
   Sharing our joys
   As they share
The shores we've come to rest upon.
   We are varied in
   Our pastimes
   But we all
Have someplace to go,
   Someplace we truly Belong.
   Music or theatre,
   Writing or culture,
   Business or athletics,
   We all
Come to find
   Our space beneath the Willows, where our sheltered souls
   Can drink in
The wonderous experience that is
   The river.
Marching Band
For the first time in two years, the "Pride of the Lions" was happy to be back in the ranks of Group I competition. Under the direction of Mr. Robert Goldman, the band had one of its best seasons ever. It captured the honor of Best Percussion in almost every competition it entered, and in both the Audubon and Egg Harbor Twp. T.O.B. competitions, it won first place. After a one year layoff from scholastic competition, the West Marching Band proudly reclaimed its place as being one of the premier marching bands in South Jersey.

1. Jamilla Faircloth strives to perfect the song "Ritual." 2. Mr. Yurien... at his best. 3. During the winter concert, the Wind Ensemble performs "Third Suite." 4. Natalie Pillas masters a double reed bassoon. 5. The 1995-95 Wind Ensemble. 6. The 1995-96 Orchestra. 7. Mrs. Kasinskas acknowledges her orchestra in a grand manner. 8. The String Orchestra performs "Capriccio Espugnato" with passion. 9. Jeff Neghiem shows his precision on the cello. 10. Josh Carr, Brandon Klarman, and Matt O'Dowd provide the lower tones of the orchestra.
Notes ring loudly through the auditorium. The combination of brass, woodwinds, and percussion make for an unforgettable performance.

Accomplished
West Singers and the Concert Choir are our more selective vocal groups for both females and males. They have impressed audiences at both the winter and spring concerts, Broadway Night, and at a variety of special events in school and in the community.
1. Geraldine Slozan, Aviva Kapust, and Jeanine Fanelli enjoy the bus ride home from a concert. 2. 1995-96 West Singers. 3. Joyful noises from the West Singers. 4. At the World Cultures Dinner, the West Singers took the floor. 5. Stan Armour babysits as a fundraiser. 6. Mrs. Bass makes her point perfectly clear. 7. Always ready for a picture, the Concert Choir members show their smiling faces. 8. Mrs. Bass presents the Concert Choir. 9. 1995-96 Concert Choir. 10. Garrison Ross and Nicki Benson show off their spectacular voices.
To be the audience to these groups is to be entertained with old-fashioned spirituals, traditional and patriotic songs, Broadway tunes, and popular melodies. The select Chansons is a marvelous blend of soprano and alto voices. Vocal Workshop is an impressive group of young women and men, many of whom are just beginning their musical involvement at West.
Vocal Workshop

2. Providing the background music is Erica Heier on the piano. 3. Chansons provided beautiful sounds at the winter concert. 4. The serious sounds of Chansons amaze the audience. 5. Gearing up for their next performance, Chansons go through an intense rehearsal. 6. Vocal Workshop goes through an intense period of practice. 7. The percussion ensemble perform for "Somewhere." 8. Sharii Fahnay shows his musical talent with his solo. 9. Vocal Workshop, under the direction of Mrs. Bass, at the winter concert. 10. The 1995-96 Vocal Workshop.
The sweetest sounds, often dramatically serious but sometimes performed with an amusing flair, come from the Chamber Singers, Fermata, and the Men Of Note. Our most talented and versatile vocalists have dazzled audiences in our own auditorium and on tour. All three groups have received nothing but the highest accolades.
Chamber Singers

1. MEN OF NOTE: Kevin Jones, Brian Kain, Josh Hinden, Aaron Vogel, Nick Houhoulis, Matt Eaton, Chad Lazar, Mike Susi, Trey Bass, Sean Armour. 2. Brian Kain and Trey Bass harmonize. 3. Men of Note tip their hats for the audience. 4. An intense practice is the norm for Fermata. 5. FERMATA: Asha Self, Tracy Miller, Rachel Levendhal, Michelle Khan, Tamara McKay, Jacqueline Williams, Joanna Hamilton, Christina Khan, Nicki Benson.

6. Dina Spector and Chad Lazar solo for Chamber Singers. 7. At the winter concert, Chamber Singers impress the audience. 8. The Chamber Singers show their lighter side.

Lighting and Sound Crew
Once upon a time, in the last weekend in October, some aspiring Thespians gathered to perform the old French version of Beauty and the Beast. Creating a female beast and constructing a working fountain was a challenge to the cast and crew, but they succeeded in making this old-tale tale very believable. Leads Tracy Miller and Jeremy Levy were marvellously supported by the rest of the cast, and the audiences at the four performances gave standing ovations.

"Oklahoma! is a love story but unlike other musicals of its day, it is much more than that. The dramatic thrust of the show evolves from its depiction of the pioneering spirit which gave life to the young democracies. A second theme running through the show is the impact of a lawless element, represented by Jud, which threatens the moral balance in society. Like Skidmore sings in the title number, "The farmer and the coonman and the merchant must all behave themselves and act like brothers." That ideal of cooperation within a diverse community is still both America's greatest promise and its most persistent challenge."
Look almost anywhere in the school, and you'll see the Student Government Organization hard at work, planning social events and organizing community service projects. No matter what the event may be, the business of the student body is the business of SGO.
2. This is just one of the many jack-o-lanterns we saw at the SGO-sponsored pumpkin contest.  3. Andrea Theil helps out at the SGO-sponsored blood drive.  4. Student Government Organization President Sarah Henderson and Vice President Andrea Theil.  5. Principal Richard Serfass signs up to donate blood to the Red Cross.  6. The class of 1999 went all out with its pumpkin, giving him an entire "West" body.  7. The Spanish Club went for the Mexican look with its pumpkin, adding a little spice to the contest.  8. Two members of SGO are hard at work creating decorations for the SGO Christmas party, which unfortunately was canceled due to the weather.
Coordinating with Dr. Richard Scerfass and the heads of all West's student organizations, the Student Leadership council discuss a range of topics from administrative concerns to day-to-day proposals for the student body. In addition the members of the council are often asked to attend community programs outside of West as well.

Peer Mediation provides a capable outlet for students to resolve disputes and settle differences among themselves. Keeping tension levels low is the goal of this program, and it has been very successful in these efforts.
Peer Leadership

Students in the Peer Leadership program are motivated, outgoing, and willing to work with others both in the administration and the student body, all to keep relations within the school running better.

Respect For Drugs devotes its efforts to the crucial task of educating children about the consequences of substance abuse of any kind. Local elementary schools receive visits from representatives bringing information handouts and student-oriented lectures concerning all parts of the war on drugs.

Education, education, education is the goal of the new AIDS Awareness group, who continue to try to raise the community's consciousness about the dangers and implications of the spreading AIDS virus.
When it comes to making West a more beautiful place, no group approaches it with more literal determination than the Campus Homeroom. From arranging flower beds to picking up litter, these are the people who keep West looking its best.

4. CAMPUS HOMEROOM: FRONT ROW: Chris Tuley, Gina Hart, Eliza Rosenberg, Ruth Peril, Janet Barker
SECOND ROW: Tom Aydelotte, Nancy Copenhaver, Melissa Menezes, Mike Young, Mark Bird, Brian Gismonde, Colleen Murray
THIRD ROW: Karen Wolozin, Jocelyn Weatherby, Adam Schmidt, Doug Clark, Doug Lane 5. Campus Homeroom members brainstorm on what they can do next to make our school look even better.
6. Jonathan Rosen introduces U.S. Representative Robert Torricelli, the day's featured speaker for the community service group.

Although new to the West scene, the Community Service program has carried with it an intensity and drive that has already made it into one of the school's most dynamic institutions. From projects in Camden to work closer to home, Community Service has already made its mark at West.
New at West this year, the Building Environmental Education Solutions Project was a joint study by our students and students from Camden High School. Along with officials from several government agencies, students from both schools studied an environmentally-hazardous site in Camden. They explored scientific issues and environmental law. Equally important, BBES fostered collaboration and new friendships.
to bring the community together.

1. Research, Research, Research!!!
2. Students are learning how to test various materials.
3. Mr. Kranitz and the members of his team listen intently to gather more information for their environmental studies.
4. Students from Cherry Hill and Camden learn to use a Geiger counter for measuring radiation at the Gas Mantle Factory.
5. Students begin a discussion - "How can we clean up this hazardous site?", "How much will it cost and who will pay?".
6. Faculty members from Camden High lend their expertise to the program.
Nature Defense makes an effort to keep students informed throughout their daily routine of the issues which impact on the global scene, through fundraisers, posters, and other projects during the entire year. Protecting the environment is a task to think globally, act locally, and those students do their best to do just that.

1. Nature Defense members at Freshman Co-curricular night. 2. Ankur Padya and Joe Varanamyan promoting Greenpeace. 3. Talking with the representative from Greenpeace. 4. Relaxing after a meeting.

Amnesty International

A voice for equality and stability in a turbulent world, the students of Amnesty International work constantly to further human rights and inform others about violations around the world. An annual Prisoners of Conscience Day, during which members represent political prisoners and circulate petitions, is a key point in their calendar.
French Club/Quebec Trip

The French Club members found many outlets for their love of French culture, from restaurant trips to voyages "de Chuck" across the Canadian border. Whether it's traveling abroad, speaking the language, or just sampling the cuisine, the French Club has its own joie de vivre!

Representing a multitude of different cultures under one banner, the Asian Culture Club has a major hand in promoting diversity at West. Meetings offer a chance for students to discuss cultural issues and sample all aspects of these societies, as well as to get involved with the club itself.

The African American Culture Club sponsored many events this year, included in them were the Black History month activities and the "Rhythms of Black Culture" program. The African American Culture Club continues to carry its tradition of involvement in the West community.
Always in motion, the Italian Club remains a significant presence in the West community, sponsoring numerous sales and other fundraisers to raise money for future activities, as well as promote an appreciation of the Italian culture.

1. ITALIAN CLUB OFFICERS: Nicole Tantora, Lisa Bentkowski, Daryell Penceok

Capturing a school as diverse and accomplished as West is no small feat. Being on the staff of Rampant meant lots of afternoons in A-9. Most of that time was spent in frenetic activity, the rest spent making friends and having fun, especially when the pizza was delivered. Those bins - with their strange labels: “Of all the things I’ve lost, I miss my mind the most” and “To bin or not to bin” - always seemed to be overflowing. This year’s staff had a sea of new faces and many new ideas. Each member is proud to have been part of making the 1996 Rampant.
Lions Roar

Always keeping with the pulse of the student body, the staff of Lions Roar runs current events, sports, editorials, and reviews that reflect the diverse range of opinions and points of view at West. Whether snapping photos or running off copy, Lions Roar is always finding ways to keep everyone up to date.

"Broadway Night! 1995" was a terrific collection of performances by all our singing groups, the choir from Carusi, a special dance troupe, the "Broadway Night! Band", and, last but not least, "The Mama's and the Papa's." The show was expanded from strictly Broadway tunes to popular music, too. My Fair Lady, Into the Woods, Les Miserables, and Oliver! were the program's centerpieces. In addition, sounds of the Beatles, the Beach Boys, and Motown completed this exciting program.
In a night of talent and excitement six young women competed for the title of Junior Miss. The contestants displayed their skills in a variety of areas, including singing, acting, and dancing. The six women also had to answer the question: "What makes you proud to be a member of the class of 1996?" After all was said and done, Sarah Henderson emerged the victor and was crowned Junior Miss 1996.

6. Adam Schmidt fights through two opponents.
7. Mr. Murray explains the next play.

The boys basketball team was one of the top ranked teams in South Jersey. While the Lions powered through their regular schedule, their post season unfortunately ended in the first round of the playoffs with a loss to Eastern. The highlights of the season were the two victories over arch rival East. The varsity team was led by senior Julian Dunkley, who was chosen for the All South Jersey First Team, but had a good mix of juniors and sophomores, giving Coach Murray an optimistic outlook for next year.

Under the patient guidance of Coach O’Donnell, the girls basketball team worked to establish a solid foundation while at the same time instituting a new, college-style offense. Floor leadership came from senior co-captains Ivri Rhodes and Dawn McCargo, helping the underclassmen to hone their skills.
Our winning tradition under the coaching of Mrs. Carol Lapp continued in 1996. The boys varsity placed third in the Olympic Conference; however, top accolades go to the girls varsity for its record of 63 wins and only 11 losses and a first place finish in the Olympic Conference. The combined teams won first place in the Eastern Tournament, and the girls team won the championship in the Maple Christmas Tournament. At the end of the season, Tim Roberts, Tedra Cordisio, Melissa Lampa, and Amy Wooden were honored as first team Olympic Conference Bowlers.

1, 1995 GIRLS VARSITY BOWLING TEAM:
SECOND ROW: Joe Lee, Sandip Mejimander, Tim Roberts, Joe Gordon, Ryan Wolff, Joe Halloran.
THIRD ROW: Nick Youngstein, Mike Dietrich, Sean Stott. 3. Joe Lee puts the ball on the alley. 4. With great form, Steve Young gets another strike. 5. Joe Gordon shows the strength that has made him such an outstanding bowler. 6. Tim Roberts shows he is totally focused. 7. Top senior Amy Wooden emphatically releases her ball. 8. Ten more pins will fall from Fatima Sanidad’s ball. 9. Emily Lampa demonstrates excellent technique.
The 1995-96 swim season proved to be outstanding for the Lions. The girls were 8 and 4, and the boys were 11 and 2, winning the South Jersey Swim League Championship for the third year in a row. Both teams qualified for the state playoffs. In the state relays and individual championships meet, the Lady Lions 200 medley and 400 free relay teams earned third place bronze medals, and the boys 200 medley relay team won fifth place while the 400 free relay team took fourth. At the same meet, freshman Leslie Hoh won 2 gold medals; she became the state champion in the 200 individual medley and 100 meter breast stroke. Senior Adam Ritchie, sophomore Janelle Ritchie, and freshman Leslie Hoh were named to the All-South Jersey First Team, and Leslie Hoh was unanimously chosen as the South Jersey Female High School Swimmer of the Year.

THIRD ROW: Mike Mercincavage, Chris Rafa, Joe DeSantis, Mark Barone, Adam Ritchie, Jon Cohen, Jesse Palmer, Kevin Jones, Aaron Seliger. NOT PICTURED: Adam McFetridge, Steve Kwanilowski, Brett Deacon, Andrew Weinfeld, Matt Wernamaker, Brian Peters, Greg Heller, Dan Cestare. 7. As he was all season, Christian Cantwell is way out in front in the butterfly. 8. Brad Flynn goes all out in his event. 9. Jesse Palmer churns through the water. 10. Adam McFetridge shows the proper form of the backstroke.
2. Irv Lamb works for the pin.

West's wrestling team had a solid season, ending with a 10-8 record. Coach Coolahan and captains Nick Sexton, Mike Villanueva, and Irv Lamb led the team to a third place showing at the Morris Knolls tournament, with junior Matt Alemi taking first place at the tournament.

As I look the length of the river of life,
I try to envision the many twists and turns ahead.

I look upon the river and find that it is bigger than I had ever imagined.
As students of the waters,
we face a multitude of problems.

Water, the challenge of life.
As freshmen, we at first are afraid of the rapids ahead;
As sophomores, we push the water away from us,
but still find the current carries us.
As juniors, fear the future,
we see trials increasing as we approach ever closer to the vast ocean.

Before high school, we believed we could ride the stream of life at our own pace, only to realize the stream turned to a river
and our new responsibilities carry us away.
We struggle every day to get back to what once was, until at last the day we find the only course is forward.

We have traveled.
We look back
At the river of our years
And we linger.
But islands of possibility beckon,
Leading us forward onto an ocean of opportunity-
It is time to catch the wind,
To sail forth.

Behind us,
   The bridges,
That spanned the shores;
   The currents,
Turning us in their own directions;
   The waterfalls,
Powerful and exciting;
   The friends,
Who gave wind to our souls and
Navigated our darkest courses with us;
   The lives,
That we will remember.

Hope keeps our fondest dreams afloat-
And as we journey into a misted future
We can look back on the shining buoys
Of our memories,
Drifting on our private seas.

1996 CLASS GOVERNMENT:
The four years of the Class of 1996 have been distinguished ones. There have been wonderful personal achievements, but our class has left its mark because of our collective accomplishments. We have improved our school, and we have reached beyond the campus. The class of 1996 will be remembered for community service. After four busy and exciting years, we leave West with cherished memories of the past and high hopes and expectations for the future.

Boys' State

West sent five representatives to the American Legion Boys' State program which was held at Rider University during the last week of June. Chris Barker, Casey Coleman, Brad Malin, Kevin Krutoff, and Jamie Greene participated in the mock state government creating a philosophy and policies to run "their" New Jersey.

Governor's School

Four West students represented the school in the state Governor's School last summer. Andy Necowitz and Brian Kain attended Trenton State College, where a program in music was held, while Mike Parisi and Wendy Seto participated in the Environmental Science program at Stockton State College. The students had to go through a tough selection process to be accepted into the programs.
Girls' State

Last summer four West students had the opportunity to attend the Rotary Youth Leadership Awards week. The program exists to give selected juniors from New Jersey a better understanding of government and leadership. Karl Erhard, Jon Fisher, Beth Hart, and Jen Jennings spent a week at Stockton State College working with fellow students and learning first-hand how government can work.

Induction into the Hall Of Fame is the highest honor bestowed to a member of the class. Selection is based on a student's academic achievement and participation in extracurricular activities and is the result of balloting by teachers and students. This year's inductions took place on the morning of February 28 before the entire senior class; fifteen deserving seniors were inducted.

On February 15, 1996, fifty-six talented seniors were inducted into the Zelda Morris Chapter of the Performing And Visual Arts Society. Members were inducted into one specific branch of the arts: music, theatre, literature, and visual arts. Throughout the night the students demonstrated their talents which included singing, playing instruments, dancing, dramatizing scenes and monologues, and reading their original works. After the ceremony, a reception was held in the library, where visual arts inductees had an opportunity to display their work.

PAVAS members were selected based upon their participation and contribution to the artistic side of West, the extent of their commitment, and the quality of their work.

CHILDREN OF THE EIGHTIES

We are the children of the Eighties.
We are not the first "lost generation", nor are we today's lost generation; in fact, we know just where we stand - or are discovering it as we speak.

We are the ones who played with Lego Building Blocks when they were just building blocks and gave Malibu Barbie crewcuts with safety scissors that never really cut.

We collected Garbage Pail Kids and Cabbage Patch Kids and My Little Ponies and Hot Wheels and He-Man action figures and though She-Ra looked just a little bit like I would when I was a woman.

Big Wheels and bicycles with streamers were the way to go, and sidewalk chalk was all you needed to build a city.

Imagination was the key.

It made the Ewok Tree House big enough for you to be Luke and the kitchen table and an old dark sheet enough to be a tent in the forest.

Your world was the backyard and it was all you needed.

With your portable tape player, Debbie Gibson or the Fat Boys sang back up to you and everyone wanted a skirt like the Material Girl or a glove like Michael Jackson's.

Today, we are the ones who sing along with Bruce Springsteen and The Bangles perfectly, and have no idea why.

We recite lines with the Ghostbusters and still look to The Goonies for a great adventure.

We flip through TV stations and stop at The A-Team and Knight Rider and Fame and laugh with The Cosby Show and Family Ties and Punky Brewster and what you talkin' bout Willis? We hold strong affections for The Muppets and The Gummy Bears and why did they take the Smurfs off the air? After school specials were only about cigarettes and step-families, the Polka Dot Door was nothing like Barney.
and aren't the Power Rangers just Voltron reincarnated?
We are the ones who still read Nancy Drew and the Hardy Boys, the Bobbsey Twins, Beverly Cleary and Judy Blume, Richard Scary and the Electric Company.
Friendship bracelets were ties you couldn't break and friendship pins went on shoes - preferably hightop Velcro Reeboks - and pegged jeans were in, as were Unity belts and layered socks and jean jackets and jams and charm necklaces and side pony tails and just tails.

Rave was a girl's best friend; braces with colored rubber bands made you cool.
The backdoor was always open and Mom served only red Kool-Aid to the neighborhood kids - never drank New Coke.
Entertainment was cheap and lasted for hours. All you needed to be a princess was high heels and an apron; the Sit'N'Spin always made you dizzy but never made you stop; Pogo balls were dangerous weapons and Chinese Jump Ropes never failed to trip someone.

In your Underoos you were Wonder Woman or Spider Man or R2D2 and in your tree house you were king.

In the Eighties, nothing was wrong.

Did you know the president was shot?

Star Wars was not only a movie.

Did you ever play in a bomb shelter?

Did you see the Challenger explode or feed a homeless man?

We forgot Vietnam and watched Tiananman's Square on CNN and bought pieces of the Berlin Wall at the store.

We didn't start the fire, Billy Joel.

In the Eighties, we redefined the American Dream, and those years defined us.
We are the generation in between strife and facing strife and not turning our backs.
The Eighties have made us idealistic, but it's that idealism that will push us and be passed on to our children - the first children of the twenty-first century. Never forget: We are the children of the Eighties.
Someday, many years from now, someone is going to ask us what it was like to live through the storm of '96. Students at West will have many memories to share. It started on Sunday, January 7th. "STORM OF THE CENTURY" and "BLIZZARD OF '96" were two of its names. Governor Whitman enacted a "state of emergency", which halted mail, made driving illegal, and closed schools.

When the snow stopped, a total of 33 inches had been dumped on Cherry Hill, 400 billion pounds on the greater Philadelphia area, making this the worst storm since meteorologists started recording 122 years ago. After several snow days, we shoveled out and headed back to school. The storm headed off to claim its place in history. And when someone, someday, asks us what it was like, we'll just smile and say, "You had to be there...".

Eighteen years ago you came bouncing into our lives and hearts bringing much joy and great expectations. Even then we knew you'd make your mark in life, because you came with such haste as if to say, "I'm here and ready to go, so let's get on with it!" That's exactly what you've done, and we couldn't be more proud of what you have accomplished so far. Yet we know the best is yet to come. So follow your dreams, keep your eyes on the prize, and always remember that each moment in time is a chance to hope, dream, and begin anew. While your graduation day is another dream fulfilled, we know college life will be another happy and successful beginning.

We all love you!

Somebody said that it couldn't be done,
But he with a chuckle replied
That "maybe it couldn't," but he would be one
Who wouldn't say so till he'd tried.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done,
There are thousands to prophesy failure;
There are thousands to point out to you, one by one,
The dangers that wait to assail you.

But just buckle in with a bit of a grin,
Just take off your coat and go to it;
Just start to sing as you tackle the thing
That "cannot be done," and you'll do it.

You have a magic carpet
That will whiz you through the air,
To Spain or Maine or Africa
If you just tell it where.
So will you let it take you
Where you've never been before,
Or will you buy some drapes to match
And use it on your floor?
(Silverstein)
