First day roll call invites mispronounced names as hundreds more are added to the teacher's repertoire. At year's end each name has a face and, more importantly, a dream which they have helped nurture. So many faces to remember as they change with age.
The lockers are bigger, and the halls are wider. The classes are harder, and the books are heavier. Smiling faces invite underclassmen and visitors alike to West. Though the people are different, the message never changes.
Once ordered in classroom walls, they scatter, with sunglasses and soda cans, to the courtyard. A few minutes of gossip aren’t enough to get all of the details about the athlete, the scholar, the best friend, or the complete stranger. All the while building friendships and memories that will last through the years.
Open and closed. Guided by various hands, the curtain ropes are taut. The lights are tested, and the dust is cleared for the first of the year's shows. So many feet have crossed this stage, it is a wonder that the boards haven't worn away with overuse. Our auditorium is the threshold of future stars.
The gloves hit the sand and the players head toward the bench. The umpire says that it is too dark to start the next inning. The players shake hands, dissatisfied with a tie score, but no one can stop the dwindling sunlight that summons the game's end. We never wanted to abandon the thrill of competition.
Grown up, our minds have expanded, and we are skilled enough to create masterpieces of all shapes and forms. We have broad horizons and have learned, above all, not to limit ourselves. The days at West were limited, but they have given us enough memories to last a lifetime.
There are so many stories to tell - the triumphs, defeats, and everything possible in between.

Our staff has put some of your experiences of the year between these leather covers, but we couldn't possibly have included them all. Yet still we tried to show the myriad of perspectives contained at West, from the nervous freshman on the first day of high school to the triumphant senior on graduation day.

The 1998 Rampant staff hopes that we can preserve the memories that you hold so dear. While trying to preserve your memories, we created some of our own in the yearbook room. Thank you to all of those who helped to make this yearbook come to life.

From the Editor-in-Chief

As the 1998 school year draws to a close, all of us reflect on the events and experiences that have made an impact on our lives.
Dear Students:

Have you ever given consideration to the precious gift which time is? Each of us is given a designated amount of time in life with which to make a positive difference in the world. Time is a powerful healing agent when we are wounded in body, mind or spirit. "Time-off" from school allows for renewal and rejuvenation. The 1997-1998 school year has offered you time to learn, grow, love, laugh, cry and achieve. I hope it has been a wonderful time for you!

As time marches on, may it prove to be your friend. May it continue to provide you with those opportunities which will translate into success, happiness and joy!

Sincerely,

Nick J. Lorenzetti
Principal

Daily lesson plans, after-school test preps, equity meetings, letters of recommendation, red pens, budget planning sessions, all characterize this school year along with many others past and future.

Returning autumn after autumn to new faces and similar places, the faculty of West sets the gears of learning into motion.

"Have we prepared our students for the future?"
Many years have passed, each being special in its own way, though still many more years to go.

Each year another memory is added of an enthusiastic class or of an outstanding presentation, making the work worth all the effort.

Late-night study sessions, long hours on the job, concerts in Philly, research papers, disappointments, and amazing moments of success were all shared by the underclassmen this year.

Some came to school thinking, "What a drag it is to come to school every day," which is not right.

"But I can't wait until school starts." Club meetings, theatrical performances, and sporting events seemed to be our only way out.

The years before us speak of our years past.

The freshman class government was faced with many new this year. In a period of months, the organization held two successful fund raisers and participated in the Homecoming parade. The fund raising included the sale of phone cards and candles. A young freshman class was exposed to a hard work ethic while working with the class of 1998 on the Homecoming float. Under the instruction of Ms. Shmarak and the watchful eyes of Governor Steve Back and Lt. Governor Matt Burnett, positions were filled. A solid committee for community service and fund raising ensures the success of the freshman class. Future plans include the possibilities of a dance, community service, and ample fund raisers. Led by a cabinet of 33 members, the class of 2001 has made its mark in West history, and hopes to continue in a positive direction.

From fund-raising to trip-taking to paying for the Senior Prom, the Class of 2000 government did whatever was needed to help the class reach the highest branch in the tree of goals and objectives. With the Senior Prom only two years away, any extra money in the class treasury would help fund it. In order to raise money, the class government planned to expand its donut and raffle sales, as well as taking advantage of the Candy Kiss and Carnation sales. However, fund-raising was not all the Sophomore class cared about. Every student has only one high school experience, and this influential time in a student's life need not be spent on fund-raising alone. The class government planned several trips to sites including New York City, Baltimore and Dorney Park. Aside from the trips, the government held two other events: the Sophomore Cotillion and a schoolwide volleyball tournament. As a class government, they realized that these high school years are important to their future and appreciated the value of holding together an entire class of unique students.

Junior Class Government

The Junior Class's '97-'98 school year proved to be one of the most lucrative times for any class government in the history of Cherry Hill West. The fund-raising year got off to a jump start by making a killing on selling school t-shirts and sweatshirts at Back-To-School Night. Then, the juniors got to work on selling football concessions at home games. The operation was a huge success, and profit take at the Thanksgiving Homecoming East-West showdown surpassed a record breaking $2,000. The treasury is nearing a prosperous five-digit figure. Along with the junior prom at Auletto's on April 4 and various community service projects, the Class of 1999 has a lot to be proud of.

"Most of us think ourselves as standing wearily and helplessly at the center of a circle bristling with tasks, burdens, problems, annoyance, and responsibilities which are rushing in upon us. At every moment we have a dozen different things to do, a dozen problems to solve, a dozen strains to endure. We see ourselves as overdriven, overburdened, overtired. This is a common mental picture and it is totally false. No one of us, however crowded his life, has such an existence. What is the true picture of your life? Imagine that there is an hour glass on your desk. Connecting the bowl at the top with the bowl at the bottom is a tube so thin that only one grain of sand can pass through it at a time. That is the true picture of your life, even on a super busy day. The crowded hours come to you always one moment at a time. That is the only way they can come. The day may bring many tasks, many problems, strains, but invariably they come in single file. You want to gain emotional poise? Remember the hourglass, the grains of sand dropping one by one."

"Where will I find my niche at West?
* I want to make a difference."

Experimenting with different choices,
* ultimately every student discovers his place at our school.

Attending meetings, discussing events, raising funds,
* and having a good time all play into West’s clubs experience.

Publications, service organizations, leadership training
* world culture clubs, and environmental organizations are only a few of the wide variety of activities.

* Whatever the choice, over time

the group of experiences binds a club together.
Showcasing the talents of West poets, authors, and artists, Aspects presented a beautifully designed literary magazine. The work of the staff and editors paid off as the theme of art and nature proceeded without a hitch.
Visions, the award winning world language magazine at West worked arduously to publish an internationally flavored book. The staff integrated essays and poems, in not only French, Spanish, Italian and Latin, but most other languages spoken by the population at West into the book. Also, varied artwork, reflecting the different themes running throughout the magazine, was included.

The award-winning Cherry Hill West student newspaper, Lions Roar, led by their editors, Jared Rudenstein and Elias Bitar, accurately delivered information concerning the West community and student life.

The NJ 781st Air Force Junior ROTC consisted of dedicated students who took the first steps to further their careers in the military or who wanted this type of experience during high school. Junior cadets participated in drill competitions around New Jersey and they got the chance to fly on the C-5 Galaxy U.S. Air Force plane.
Throughout the school year, the African American Culture Club celebrated its rich heritage. Besides being an important presence at the International Day festivities, members shared information and artifacts during Black History Month.

A very popular organization at West, the Asian Culture Club meets numerous times throughout the year and explores the Asian culture through field trips. They have visited both the New York and Philadelphia Chinatowns.

Asian Culture Club
Participating in many activities this year, the French Culture Club endeavored to learn more about the culture and the people of France. The club sponsored an extensive trip to France, travelling to Paris, Nice and Monaco for a week. There, members were able to obtain a first hand view of the intriguing French culture. The French Culture Club also traveled last year, to Quebec, Canada, to take part in the traditional winter Carnival.
The Spanish Club has participated in many events over the years, but the most successful ones have involved the annual holiday parties at Mi Casita for the Hispanic youngsters in Camden.
Keeping the Latin language alive, Junior Classical League embarked on multiple field trips, competitions, and challenged every student to learn Latin in a fun and unique way.

1. THE 1997-98 JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE.
2. Mr. Munday adorns himself in Zeus' garb. 3. A delicious assortment of Greek cuisine was available during International Day. 4. Feasting on a Mediterranean delight, the members of the Junior Classical League enjoyed a good time and educational experience at a local Middle Eastern restaurant.
Italian Culture Club

The Italian Culture Club participated in many activities throughout the year to further their knowledge of Italian culture and traditions. The club sponsored a trip to Italy during the spring holidays and provided an opportunity for many students to engage in a fascinating trek through a foreign country. Also the club traveled to New York to participate in the Multicultural Parade on Columbus Day. In addition to travelling, students sold panzorattis weekly after school.

"What can we as teenagers do, to help the environment?" A question asked many times of this Nature Defense group, and answered by campus clean-ups, magnet fundraisers, and recycling activities. This year, Nature Defense funded a tree sale to replenish New Jersey state forests and petitioned Congress to save environment. These students try to create a clean environment for nature and humans alike.

7. Marina Khazani participates in the annual "Prisoners of Conscience Day", dressing in all black, vowing to adhere to all-day silence and doming a candle with the name of the prisoner she is defending.
8. Members of Amnesty International:
Amnesty International

Amnesty International enabled the students to carry a forceful voice in the world and to fight for the release of wrongfully imprisoned persons across the planet. West’s chapter of this worldwide organization raised student awareness and lobbied support for areas like Tibet through its “Prisoner of Conscience Week.” They also published monthly newsletters.
1. DECA: Officers: Jamie Heise, Anthony Fiore, Jenn Gallo, Dana Armstrong.
2. At DECA Regional, Patricia competed in Quick Serve Restaurant Management and Richi competed in Male Fashion Modeling.
3. President, Jaime Heise, competed at both the regional and state conferences. She shows her trophy for third place with pride.
4. Jen Gallo receives 1st place award at Regional Competition.

8. Kristy Menzer receives her trophy for 3rd place.
Members of Lions Gifts produced gifts for every holiday of the year. There were toys, cards, baskets, candy treats, and much more to delight the West community and provide an on-site gift shop.

Community Service

For the second year, Community Service has become a curricular 2.5 credit course. Its several hundred members performed at least 53 hours of organized volunteer work; this would include Walk-A-Thons, Heart of Camden, Adopt-A-School programs and more. Also monthly forums, with guest speakers, were held to inform them of different types of volunteerism.

Project Graduation

Members of Project Graduation helped to coordinate the activities that occurred on the evening of graduation. This year's celebration was held at the new Jewish Community Center Campus. To raise funds, members sold balloons for the graduates and chocolate CDs, to name a few.

Peer Leadership

Peer Mediation consisted of dedicated students who were trained to bring peace and to help reconcile differences among students at West.

Peer Mediation

Peer Leadership emphasized the importance and the potential of one student’s influence on another. Forty members spent an intense training weekend at Mount Misery in January. After this productive and mind-expanding experience, the students chose to launch a campaign against smoking on school grounds. Peer Leadership encouraged openness, honesty, and trust among teenagers.
Respect for Drugs

This group of self-taught juniors and seniors studied the ill effects of narcotic abuse to promote a drug-free school environment. One of their major undertakings involved making presentations to local youngsters in district elementary schools.

AIDS Awareness

Educating the student body about the consequences of AIDS and holding events such as AIDS Week, this club provided a valuable service to the entire West Community.

Science Club

Competing in a wide variety of contests, from the annual egg drop to a paper airplane competition, the Science Club allowed its members to stretch their intellect and test their creativity.

Principal’s Advisory Team

This committee formed of West’s activity leaders met with Mr. Lorenzetti regularly to discuss topics ranging from appropriating funds to plans for the future.

Chess Club

Chess Club, led by Mr. Herman, met twice a week. Students learned how to play chess. Members traveled to different cities to compete against other schools.

Library Aides

Library Aides helped out in the library during their free period. They assisted students in finding books and in using the computer system.

Mock Trial Team

The Mock Trial Team afforded students an opportunity to experience and conduct real court situations. Members of the team assumed the roles of lawyers, prosecutors, and even judges. The Team competed locally in mock trials, proving victorious in many of them. The competitions were very valuable as they taught all members communications skills, debating proficiency and most importantly, the art of friendly competition.

Forensics

Honing their speaking skills while having fun, Forensics members delivered prepared speeches and improvised ones in competition throughout the state.

SGO members, who were selected from all grade levels, governed the student body. They led many activities promoting school and community betterment. The largest activity, however, was the annual Blood Drive. In conjunction with the Delaware Valley Red Cross, the event collected many liters of blood which were used in saving the lives of the sick and injured. In addition to the drive, SGO sponsored the annual Fraternal Order of Police holiday party for special children and adults. Busy SGO members could also have been spotted at the mall, selling daffodils to benefit the Cancer Society.

1. President Jeremy Messler and Vice President Quinn Tannum. 2. SGO was presented an award by a representative of the Cancer Society for selling the most daffodils. 3. Jeremy Messler, Jessica Lovinsky, and Jamie Russen are putting the last minute touches for the holiday party. 4. Lauren Cipper, Jodi Aiello, and Melissa Eister finish painting a Christmas tree. 5. Members of SGO Front Row: Caitlin Schwartz, Alissa Kriuff, Jaclyn Hoopa, Lisa Kates, Meghan Gandy. Unusual and interesting events...

the Talent Show, Mr. West Pageant, the President’s Summit for America’s Future, Junior Miss, Homecoming, Governor Whitman’s Visit.

all break the monotony of everyday student life.

An entire year filled to the brim with activities and countless evenings.

1998 meant much more than just tests and homework.

Looking forward to the PAVAS Festival and International Day, every student would ask about the next event.

What a great year!

sometimes it didn’t even feel like we were in school!

International Day

A Celebration

Cherry Hill West held its second annual International Day on November 5, 1997. The theme of "One From Many" was meant to celebrate our oneness but at the same time our diversity. Throughout the day and evening there were opportunities for students, staff, and the community to enhance and expand their knowledge and understanding of world cultures. Dressed in ethnic clothes, students came to school for an entire day of festivities. With everything from musical performances, karate demonstrations, and plays to an International Coffee and Poetry Jam, the day proved both informative and entertaining.
1. A karate demonstration provides a look at the art and philosophy of the martial arts.
2. Mr. Fran Meehan and Mr. Al Patterson share their Irish heritage.
3. Sherese Johnson and Filar Ingram take a break in the gym.
4. Getting into the spirit of things, members of the Latin Club wear togas.
5. Synia Willis appears to glow in her traditional African dress.
6. Mrs. Gris Bass, Mr. Nick Lorenzetti, and Dr. Larryz Chapman, coordinator of the event, greet some of the guest presenters.
7. Students enjoy a presentation in the library.
8. Yana Tsyganskii and Stella Melomedman examine a display of artifacts.

The Changing Face of West

With budget cuts and student protests, this school year has been anything but commonplace.

➢ In the past few months, Cherry Hill High School West announced many sweeping changes for the next school year. Budget cuts have eliminated Winter Track, English labs, and numerous other programs for the 1998-1999 school year. When the school announced that the Poetry through Popular Music course would be eliminated, dozens of West students walked out on Friday, January 16, 1998 during 7th and 8th period classes. Yet the budget also created many new courses, such as an SAT Review course and an Art History AP course. The budget was passed late April.

Lady Lions Swimming Wins State Championship

➢ The Lady Lions Swimming squad, led by Scott Sweeten, achieved a 14-2 record and won the public school state B championship. Coach Sweeten was also named Coach of the Year by the South Jersey Interscholastic Swimming Coaches Association in April.

A Call to Serve

➢ A record number of students became involved in the CHHSW Community Service Program this year; the program consisted of over 150 members, each required to fulfill 53 hours of community service. This heightened student involvement comes at a time when many colleges and universities are looking for community service on college applications.

Striving for Equality between West and East

➢ Determined to ease relations between Cherry Hill West and East, several resolutions plan for the equalization of textbooks, curriculums, and many other parts of both high schools. Principal Nick Lorenzetti also announced some proposed programs for West, such as Jostens Renaissance, the International Baccalaureate Program, and the advanced Intel science program.

Dr. Morton Sherman

Cherry Hill’s New Superintendent

➢ At the beginning of this school year, Dr. Morton Sherman replaced Cherry Hill Public Schools superintendent Dr. Esbrandt. Throughout the year, Dr. Sherman held student meetings to seek the opinion of both sides of Cherry Hill on equalization issues.
Inching up to the line, sprinting past the sound of the gun, mustering up enough strength to glide by the runner in front and feeling the wind rush under both feet,

and triumphant, achieving the athlete’s goal, this one overwhelming moment erases the hours of training and pain.

Whether a track star, a swimmer, a bowler, a center, a goalie, a spiker, a tennis talent, a pitcher, a star, a cheerleader, a wing, or even a bench warmer, winning feels incredibly exhilarating.

Sure, practice might last forever and the results might never seem enough, but what an adventure to experience!

Lions Baseball, 1997 Edition, finished off the season with an impressive 15-7 record. Guided by Coaches Murray and Trotman, the team competed in the Pensacola Tournament. The team triumphed in the Olympic Conference Patrick Division. In addition, leading seniors Doug Clark, Mike Young, Rob Martinez and Brian Gismonde earned All-Olympic Conference honors.

"What lies behind us and what lies before us...are tiny matters compared to what lies within us...": the sentiment epitomized the nature of 1997's West softball team. The accomplishments of the team were unparalleled and the effort incomparable. The hard work of the team certainly paid off as it made it to the states to beat Toms River. Seniors Jesse English, Michelle Beard and Kate McGill lead the team to its great season while all star pitcher, junior Jaime Elias and solid batter, sophomore Becky Sonnheim were integral in the championship season.
Going 1-6 did not mean the boys track team was not successful. They had some close meets and competed against the elite of S.J. The team pulled off a great victory against rival East to end the season on a high note.
1. Excited Morgan Lang smiles as the finish line comes into view. 2. Helen Romanos readies herself to launch the shot put. 3. With blazing speed, Natalie Pilli leads out of the starting line. 4. With great spirit, Marian Fontanilla raises the fallen high-jump bar after an excellent attempt. 5. Sylvia Agostat runs through her practice steps in preparation of the real event.

6. 1987 GIRLS TRACK TEAM. FIRST ROW: Kim Wolozen, Elizabeth Greway, Laura Sorrentino, Nicole Erhard, Morgan Lang, Kylie Owings, Sue Pang, Emily Naden, Divya Ullal. SECOND ROW: Coaches Herb Fisher and Carolyn Porretta, Tara Kahn, Helen Romanos, Erika Gettman, Sarah Chaitin, Lucy Segal. 7. 8. 9. Showing excellent form, Nicole Erhard flies effortlessly over a hurdle in the 100 m hurdles event. 10. Exhibiting flawless style, Emily Naden attempts a jump. 11. Soaring through the air, Kylie Owings achieves a personal best.
1. 1997 VARSITY GOLF TEAM: FRONT is done. 10. Superstar Greg Barone is going for eagle. 11. This 4 inch putt will give Richard Bang a victory.

Cherry Hill West's 1997 golf team called the rolling greens of the local golf course home. Completing the season with a 7-10 record, all seven team members averaged games in the 40's. With the loss of graduates Mark Barone and Dave Maurer the future of the team seemed uncertain. However, with the return of seniors Frank Kahute, Mark Septer and Chris Tuleya, and the aid of super freshman Richard Bang, junior Greg Barone and sophomore Matt Maggio, the team proved successful.
Co-captains Stacey Eddleman and Christine Peluso directed an impressive varsity lacrosse team, in the process demonstrating the importance of cooperation and having fun. For Stacey Eddleman, this season marked her last time playing lacrosse at the high school level; however, it was not a sad moment, as she finished off her career with an unbelievable 99 goals. Her passion and devotion for the sport were easily seen, and it was not surprising that she and fellow team mate Sarah Hyatt were chosen to play in the Senior All-Star game. Equally impressive was the 20 goal achievement of junior, Joy Alexander. 1997's Lady Lions Lacrosse was surely one for the books.

Varsity Club, which aimed to unify all of West’s letter-winning athletes, played an integral role in the sports life at West. This past January, the Varsity Club brought donkey basketball to Jones Gym as a fundraiser. Despite the opposition felt by animal rights’ activists, donkey basketball was enjoyed by all. In addition to focusing on sports, the Varsity Club got the school involved in the SIDS walk and helped out at the Special Olympics held at Rowan University.

Headed by the cautious enthusiasm of Dr. Walter Brown, the 1997 boys tennis team finished off the season with a winning record. The team's championship attitude and ability shined through in the first round of the state tournament where they lost to cross-town rival Cherry Hill East. Superbly, Armand Bigornia was named Olympic Conference Singles Champion while fellow juniors, Josh Leonard and Hitesh Panchal demonstrated great proficiency for the sport. The team will look to the leadership of Armand again in the next season, while also relying on other young talent provided by underclassmen.
TIME OUT
1. Goalie Quinn Tamms shows his stuff. 2. Offensive threat Jon Cohen receives the ball from a teammate. 3. Superstar Tom Muldowney can volley the ball even with a man on his shoulder. 4. Power center Rich Burmeff shows off his flying header. 5. The man with the magnetic foot, Kevin Welding, gets the ball under control. 6. Big 21 Chris Muldowney gets some quick advice from Coach Sine and his soccer knowledge. 7. THE 1997 BOYS VARSITY SOCCER TEAM
The Boys Soccer team had an amazing season. With the return of only four varsity players, the team stepped up and proved that it was still the best in the area. Led by All State Player, Thomas Mullowney, the Lions ended with a season record of 17-5-2. Included in this record was 2 wins against cross-town rivals East, and a win and a tie against Shawnee, the team ranked number one in the state. The boys soccer team had many great honors this year. Not were they the winners of the National Olympic Conference, they won the Coaches Association Tournament which includes the best 16 teams in S.J. The team beat East 2-0 in the finals with goals from Jeremy Messler and Tom Mullowney. Other honors went to: Rich Burmef, Tom Mullowney, Jeff Sexton - All Group III and 1st Team All Conference; Quinn Tamm, 1st Team All Conference.

Exhausted and tired, Jackie Heller jogs off the field, determined to "kick it up a notch" in the second half.
Starting every afternoon in the bright sun at 2:45 and finishing off the day in the dusky 5:00 hour, West’s girls soccer program proved to contain all the elements of a promising and auspicious team. The squad finished the season with a 2-14-1 record, a conclusion untelling of the enthusiasm and ceaseless dedication with which the team played. The team, although still quite young, has a very promising future. Key players sophomore Jenn Sapp was named First Team All Conference player while senior Robin Schmidt was named Second Team All Conference player and selected to play in the Senior All-Star Game. Indeed, with such a bright future ahead of them, Lady Lions soccer will prosper.
For the first time since 1988, Cherry Hill West's Lions Football team had a winning season. Accumulating 5 wins and 4 defeats, the team served as the exemplar of excellence and avowal to that which can be accomplished when a group consisting of individuals believe in both themselves and the people who surround them. Led by the expertise of Coach Britton and Coach Smith, Lions Football served as a benchmark of excellence in the Cherry Hill community.
1. 1997 VARSITY CHEERLEADING SQUAD: FRONT ROW: Maureen Salamon, Natalie Muscelli, Nicole Erhard and Kristina Heffron. THIRD ROW: Kim Foley, Rachel Poyatt, Stacey McBride, Erika Gottron, Tressa Moffet, Jeanine Oxenberg, Nolde Niera and Coach Angie Sablich. 2. During a time out, the cheerleaders put on an energized and lively show. 3. Peppy Alissa McDevitt and Jasmin Fontinella perform at a football game. 4. Maureen Salamon helps heighten the spirit level in a crucial football game. 5. 1998 VARSITY CHEERLEADING SQUAD: FRONT ROW: Alissa Michnik, Nicole Erhard, Natalie Muscelli, Jeanelle Simms. SECOND ROW: Erica Lynch, Alissa McDevitt, Maureen Salamon, Jasmin Fontinella, Katie Galiszuski, Lauren Fischetti. THIRD ROW: Jeannine Oxenberg, Erika Gottron, Stacey McBride, Tara Hrivnak, Jamie Teising, Kristine Mebs and Coach Angie Sablich. 6. Flying through the air, the cheerleaders stun the crowd with their athletic prowess. 7. Senior captains Nicole Erhard and Natalie Muscelli bring spirit to the crowd. 8. One can always find a smile on the face of a West Cheerleader. 9. West cheerleaders provide great half time entertainment.
Adding a bit of punch to every football game, leading the crowd at pep rallies and intensifying the spirit level at West are just a few of the responsibilities of West’s cheerleading squad. The team which began their season in August at Pine Forest cheerleading camp in the Poconos, returned to West with more vigor and excitement than ever before to display their level of expertise. At the camp, senior Nicole Erhard and junior Jasmin Fontanilla received all star medals after competing in dance, jumping and cheering competitions. The squad worked year-round and pumped up the crowd and the team at basketball games and football games. Go Big Purple!
1. 1997 GIRLS VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY TEAM: FRONT ROW: Kim Welzien, Amy Gorman, Jessica Whitfield and Caitlin Fletcher. SECOND ROW: Rabia Qureshi, April Fox, Amanda Martinez, Margaret Kavanagh, Coach O’Donnell. 2. Sean Schmelzer, ahead of the pack, takes long strides in anticipation of the finish line. 3. Caitlin Fletcher pushes herself to determination and anxiety good her on. 4. Planning a quiet attack, April Fox diligently pushes forth. 5. In a quick post race moment, the girls team and Coach O’Donnell exchange compliments and feedback. 6. Dave Mangels, Alex Kardos and Andy Dennis equally present difficult opposition in the heart of the pack. 7. Tom Ward, with precision and timing, plans his advance. 8. 1997 BOYS VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY TEAM: FRONT ROW: John Gandile and Anthony Verraschio. SECOND ROW: Jeff McElroy, Mike Engler, Eamonn Salavati, Adam Mebon, Ethan Dennis, Tommy Beck, Andy Dennis, Dave Mangels and Alex Kardos. THIRD ROW: Coach Mittlhardi, Phil Jacques, Tom Ward, Jason Jennings, Mike Labowicz, John Langshaw, Mike Kolish, Matt Norlund, Gurvinder Mathowan, Sean Schmelzer, Dan Truongcao and Steve Primiano.
Both the girls and boys cross country teams churned out great performances. Improving to a 6-4 record, the female runners used their collective experience, strength and confidence to guide them through the psychological battle of running. Similarly, the boys team rebuilt their powerful team, after saying goodbye to some key senior runners. Remarkable efforts were made by senior Amy Gorman, juniors Mike Eagler and Kim Wolozin, sophomore Jon Jennings and freshman Caitlin Pletcher.
Not only did this year’s varsity field hockey team, have an impressive season on the field, but they contributed to make a cancer-sticken boy a little happier. The team raised money per goal scored for the Make-a-Wish Foundation to send the terminally ill child to Disney World with his family. The team was very proud of this accomplishment, however it did not rival the on-field achievements of the team. Co-captains Joy Alexander and Jessica Vernon headed the team to a 7-5-3 record and to the first round of the State Tournament against Lower Cape May. Juniors Joy Alexander, Jessica Vernon and Sarah Dunworth earned first team All-Conference Honors while Gilda Scherer and Marianna Zilberman received second team accolades.

Lady Lions tennis completed the season with an unbelievable 13-9 record, led by the coaching expertise of Dr. Walter Brown. The team made it to the First Round State Tournament, losing to Middle Township. Super-star junior Elena Zbarsky earned the distinguished Olympic Conference Singles Championship. Leadership was provided by seniors Angeli Desai, Kelly Bulsak and Allegra Fasnacht. Both the team and Dr. Brown are looking toward the future in great anticipation of increased excellence.
The hard wooden floors and purple clad walls of Walsh Gym are very familiar to girls volleyball team. It is their home in both the arduous after school practices and anxiety filled competitions. Coached by Mr. Sweeten, the team enjoyed many victories in their run through the season. Major contributions were provided by seniors Julie Schneider, Jannie Lo and Dorota Szymkowiak, who led the team to a successful season. Sophomores Sylvia Agbottah and Lea Chui also proved to be integral players throughout the season.
The boys basketball team had a great season. They made it to post season play and had some personal bests. Quinn Tamm reached the 1000th point mark ending his career with 1144 points; 5th on the all time scoring list. This year’s top honors went to Coach Murray who led the team to a win over Camden, the first in his 26 years at West. Other honors are: Quinn Tamm, 1st team All Group III and 1st Team All Conference; Tre Gardener, 2nd Team All Conference; Ed Taylor, 2nd Team All Conference.

5. Amanda Quinn is ready to take her best shot at the pins.
Threatened by the possibility of being eliminated next year due to fiscal concerns, West's bowling team fought to keep the sport that they had loved alive and well at West. Senior Stephanie Reynolds and junior Emily Lampa spoke out at many Board of Education meetings and successfully challenged the decision. The team, led by Ms. Lapp and Mr. Krantz, showed excellent talent and in the process walked away with a trophy to edify their athletic prowess. Key players included Emily Lampa, Stephanie Reynolds, Rich Zagame, Joe Halloran and Lea Chiu.
The 1997-98 Lady Lion Swimming and Diving Team was arguably the most talented in West history. The team’s senior class, composed of Kelly Bilsak, captain Amy Gorman, captain Jen Hensell, Allison May, Cindy Patella, captain Jennelle Ritchie, Corbett Shinn and Julie Schneider, saw the team improve from 2-5 before their arrival to 14-2 and the Public School Division B State Championship in ’98. Ritchie was named 1st Team All-South Jersey in the 100 backstroke for the 4th straight year and finished her career undefeated in the event. May also finished her four years unbeaten in the diving event in dual meets while Hensell continued as one of the area’s dominant distance freestylers. Such senior leadership, combined with the speed of sophomore Katie Kopil, a 1st Team All-SJ selection in the 50 free, and the talents of state qualifiers sophomore Laura Barone, sophomore Jen Mitchell, junior Kate Patrizzi, junior Jessie Crick and freshman Katie Meyers, produced a team with depth unmatched by practically every team in New Jersey. The team’s march to the state championship included impressive, dominating victories over Middletown South, Moorestown, Rumson-Fair Haven and 4 time North Jersey sectional champion Mountain Lakes in the final. A black banner now hangs in Jones Gym to commemorate what is perhaps the greatest season in Lady Lion history.
The Wrestling team had a successful year. Personal honors consisted of: Dan DiGiralmo – 3rd in the State at 103 lbs; Anthony DePaul - 1st team All Conference; 2nd at the district competition; Nick Estilow – 1st team All Conference; Troy Kaplan and Tom Johnson received 2nd team All Conference; Sean Cunningham – was 3rd at the district competition. Wrestling Sight reading the notes, sustaining the rhythm, watching the downbeat, holding the fermata, all help the student escape the daily grind of high school life.

The musician, to attain a high level of success, must put in hours of practice and tremendous effort.

Whether it be singing, playing or playing an instrument, music helps the students express themselves in a way that no other art can compare.

The melodies still reverberate through these halls.

Listen, and you might hear some.
It's a grand night for singing...

On this exciting night of singing and dancing, all the choral groups performed songs from Andrew Lloyd Webber musicals, as well as from other Broadway shows. From Fermata and Men of Note's medley to Smokey Joe's Café to Chamber Singers' arrangement of Cats, the audience was captivated during all three performances. Among the many soloists were Asha Kae Self and Eric Nhiem. In addition to the singing, the Broadway Night Band provided the accompaniment for numbers such as Tommy and Jesus Christ Superstar.

Time races as we begin constructing the set, stitching the costumes, and memorizing the lines.

Opening night approaches so very quickly, and suddenly the work that we have nurtured for so long can finally be displayed for others to appreciate.

Those dreams held so near become realities. Hours of dress rehearsals, sound checks, lighting adjustments, and stage crew run-throughs all lead to that most glorious night, complete with a tinge of imperfection and glory.

Go out there, and break a leg!

In the early 1930's America suffered a severe economic depression, affecting the Broadway box office sales. Upon the arrival of Franklin D. Roosevelt and his financial reforms, Broadway was headed for a revival.

In 1934, Cole Porter wrote and composed the musical Anything Goes amidst the end of the economic turmoil and the rise of a new optimistic era. Songs like "You're the Top" and "I Get a Kick Out of You" were recorded since 1934 by many artists, among them such greats as Ella Fitzgerald and Frank Sinatra. The free spirit, witticisms, and upbeat humor of Anything Goes make it a landmark in Broadway history.

1. The company of Anything Goes say their farewells as the maritime adventure begins.
2. Arm in arm, Reno (Allegro Cohen) and Billy (Garrett Miller) excitedly watch as the ship pulls out of the harbor.
3. Buried deep in concentration, Moonface Martin (Jeremy Levy) ponders his next scheme.
4. Billy is quick to confess his love for the "dooley" Hope (Deborah Steinberg).
5. The cast "backs" each other up all the way.
6. Moonface Martin misleads the pursuer (Matt Feinberg) while Ching (David Gervon) and Ling (Jon Cohen) stand nearby, continuing their religious practices. 7. In another spectacular performance, Garrett strut his stuff as Debbie stands enthusiastically at his side. 8. Perched on the edge of his cabin bed, Eliza Whitney (Bill McCorkie) is oblivious to Moonface's mischievous motives. 9. In an attempt to show Sir Evelyn (Spencer Adamson) that she's got "hot pants" for him, Reno suggests misbehaving. 10. Reno Sweeney proudly introduces the Angels as a reporter (Larry Zoll) looks on. "Show a little leg, girls!" 11. Mrs. Wadsworth Harcourt (Allison Burrell) and her friends take a stroll along the deck of the ship as the curtain rises.
Cole Porter's

Anything Goes

1. The cast of Anything Goes finishes the impressive company tap dance.
2. Bonnie (Kim Amato) "steps out" on the elegant lounge of the S.S. American.
3. Careful, Moonie! That's no violin you have there... 4. As the ship pulls out of the harbor, the sailors say "bon voyage" to New York City. 5. Reno and Billy make the best of friends.
6. Billy, as a Russian sailor (we think), uses his master craftsmanship of disguise to deceive Hope's mother (Mary Merret). 7. Dreaming of each other "all through the night", Billy and Hope's troubles end as they finally get married. 8. In one of his many disguises, Billy, as "Mrs. Bernard Shaw", cunningly fools Sir Evelyn and humors the audience.

9. With his evangelistic persuasions of Moonface, Billy painfully confesses that he's "a sinner". 10. Thinking that he will catch Sir Evelyn in the act of seduction, Moonface becomes very confused. A crew member, Andy Shalliday, peeks out from behind the curtain. 11. "Ayeceee!" cries the minister (Justin Hulbert).
Rarely does a freshman class win first place in the highly regarded One-Act Play Competition. Yet in 1997, the freshmen’s “A Competition Piece” won awards for both best play and best new director. The seniors’ comedy “Sgnarelle” came in second, followed by “A Case for Two Detectives” by the sophomores and the juniors’ “Ernie’s Incredible Illucination.” The curtains closed on yet another successful achievement of the West thespians.

Snow White

1. Allegra Cohen steals the spotlight as the dazzling silver mirror. 2. Cindy Silvestri uses her witchy ways to cast her magic spells on the photographer. 3. The anxious hunter, Justin Shilliday, yields to the desire of the jealous Queen, played by Amanda Ford. 4. Larry Zoll and Tom Dean take a break from building the set to pose for the camera. 5. Acting “grumpy”, Jeremy Levy argues with Doc, Dov Cohen, as Dopey, Brian Adoff, stands ready with his hammer. 6. Admiring the maiden’s innocent beauty and grace, the hunter meets Snow White, Debbie Steinberg, for the first time. 7. Making sure she is in perfect form, Amanda Ford touches up before the performance. 8. The cast is all smiles as they gather together for a pre-performance photo.
Early mornings, endless meetings, cramming sessions, applications, coffee mugs, research papers, pep rallies, music concerts, and theatrical performances all took shape during senior year.

Returning to school to complete the final phase of adolescence, the seniors question everything:

“What will I do after I graduate?”

“How will I get through this year?”

Many goals and many adventures yet unaccomplished, though still there are years to fulfill them.

Happy times and good friends will always be around--so make the best of life and take your high school dreams along with you.

Time will pass, but memories will last forever.

The Mr. West contest is popular among the students. It is a chance for male students to showcase their talent, wit and physique. This year’s pageant was no exception. After being judged in several categories, Quinn Tammm was crowned Mr. West 1998.
Although held outside of West, two West students participated in the New Jersey Junior Miss Program. Contestants were judged on scholastic achievement, panel evaluation, presence/composure, fitness, and creative performing arts.

Allegra Cohen was the 1st runner up to Northeast Camden County's Junior Miss.

West's Performing And Visual Arts Society is composed of seniors who are recognized for their outstanding artistic abilities and for service to the school and community in their art area. The PAVAS members excel in the fields of literature, theatre, music, dance and art. The PAVAS Induction Ceremony is an eclectic night when these chosen seniors have the opportunity to show off their exceptional talents. During the 1998 ceremony, performances included singing, dynamic dancing, flowing instruments, inspiring poetry readings and a fabulous art show in the library.

Toiling well into the night, agonizing over layouts, perfecting captions, and editing proofs,

the yearbook staff reflects on our accomplishment.

The daunting task of designing and fabricating the annual book of memories could not have been possible without the generous support of the West community.

Patrons, established businesses, and caring parents enabled the Rampant staff to create another amazing yearbook.

We feel fortunate for your support.

Thank you.

Shana Kushner
Dear Shana,
Thank you for the many hours of joy and pride you have brought us over the years. Your achievements continue to astound and overwhelm us. But above all else you have remained a caring daughter, sister and friend. Our only wish for you is to find happiness and fulfillment in whatever the future holds for you.

Always remember—
"Time is a gift, given to us, but it is a perishable gift.
I have time, I have plenty of time.
I have all the time given to me.
They years of my life, the days of my years, the hours of my days.
They are all mine.
Mine to fill, quietly, calmly.
But to fill completely, up to the brim."

Love,
Mommy, Daddy and Laura

Erika Polk
Congratulations Erika!
Since your precious birth we knew you were special, a perfect gift from God. He blessed us with someone who believes she can, with God’s help, do anything. You have numerous possibilities. The sky’s the limit.

Kevin Wanamaker

As baby blue, you burst upon our scene
And didn’t want to breathe the air around.
But breathe you did, at last, and nurse and wean,
And grow, a happy child in all you’d found.
The Sea World people knew with just a glance,
That you would be the perfect choice that day,
A boy to see the dolphins dance
Up close, and feed them to reward their play.
Through all these years we’ve watched with greater pride.
Your sports and arts and music brought us joy,
And academics, which you took in stride.
We’ve tried to let the man grow from the boy,
By nurturing your strengths that God endowed.
For all you’ve done and do, you make us proud.

May all your dreams come true!

Love,
Dad, Mom and Matt

Kelly Bulsak

All of your years since your life first began,
You gave us joy and love as best you can.
First by smiling, crawling and your first step,
Even though many times you sat down and wept.
Plenty of dance and softball while at Johnson,
Mt. Misery, you said was nothing but fun.
All of our hot summers in Ocean City,
You swam and you burned, what a pity.
Now after four long years at West,
You convinced us you are the best.
Few swimming and tennis practices did you miss,
Plus government and casseroles for the hospice.
Now take all your values and hard earned knowledge,
And continue you success right through college.
If you ever tire and begin to wear,
Remember, we will always be right there.

For you, night and day.
Dad, Mom and CJ.
Jessica Vernon

Now it's time to grab the stars that you have been reaching for.
We are so very proud of you.

Watching you grow from year to year,
Brings much more than a tear.
Starting from the first smile you took,
And leading up to the future we look.
From when your blue eyes first looked up at us,
And even when you make such a fuss.
From trying your best day in and day out,
Your future will be successful we have no doubt!

We love you,
Mommy and Keri

For the joy and the laughter that you constantly bring,
For all that you are—
For all that you will be—
The future is yours.

Love,
